Editor's Column

STUART R. PADDOCK

The coming Presidential campaign is going to be blood-thirsty. The acceptance speech of John F. Kennedy convinces us of that.

We can expect the Democratic party to lambaste the official acts of Eisenhower-Nixon and anything and everything that any Republican ever did.

The Republicans will no doubt return the compliment. That is part of every campaign.

We think Kennedy opened the door to a lot of personal charges when he accused Nixon of "showing charity toward none and malice for all." Nixon cannot be expected to take such a charge lying down.

We are happy to see that the local political machinery is starting to turn.

A Republican dinner Saturday night honored Sherman Canty, Elk Grove committeeman.

Wheeling township Republicans held a picnic Sunday.

Palatine Democrats will honor Otto Kerner, gubernatorial candidate, at a dinner August 1.

These events are supposed to be the spark that will ignite the enthusiasm of local political workers.

A columnist of a Western paper has suggested that added revenue for a taxing body could be obtained by licensing the women who wear shorts and trousers on public streets. He suggests a fee of $5 be charged for women weighing 125 lbs. or less; $10 for those weighing 125 to 150 lbs. and $50 for weights over 150 lbs.

The writer called it a wacky master plan for beautifying the streets.

The suggestion came from San Francisco, where the women have a reputation for good and meticulous grooming. It looks as though slacks and shorts are appearing on its streets.

Again, we had evidence of the honesty of teenagers. Our wallet dropped off the top of our car, and the young finders finally curbed our car to return it. Thanks, fellows.

The importance of industry within school districts has been demonstrated once again by the plight that confronts Forest View school district 56. Consolidation of 56 with an adjoining school district has been deemed advisable.

Arlington Heights district 25, with a tax rate of 1.868, isn't interested. Elk Grove district 59, which has been able to cut its tax rate more than 50 cents because of its industry, has expressed interest in consolidation with 56. Its rate is 47 cents less than the Arlington Heights district.

With additional industry forthcoming Elk Grove schools will continue to be in an enviable tax position.

Contest is open to tots between the ages of two and seven.

Seek Opinion On Park Bonds

A "last chance" letter from the Chicago and North Western railroad and the prospect of Arlington Heights downtown area being turned into a "gasoline alley" spurred village trustees to act this week on the controversial railway parks.

Following voter rejection of a $375,000 bond issue last year to purchase the eight parks from the railroad, the property has been up for grabs with oil companies, village officials, and downtown businessmen all eying the sites.

MONDAY night, however, trustees were served notice that the Chicago and North Western is tired of waiting for the village to make up its mind.

"We have prospects for several of the parcels, and unless we have immediate and positive steps by the Village, it is our intention, without further notice, to progress sales to others," noted a letter from Kendall Cady, vice president in charge of real estate for the railroad.

Cady has previously indicated that several oil companies are interested in the parcels, but that he would give the village first crack at the parks if it could come up with a plan for financing them.

Sensing that Cady's letter meant business, trustees authorized copies of a parking feasibility study be sent to both Cady and John Nuveen and company, a bond house, the latter to decide if it would purchase village revenue bonds to finance acquisition of the four parks on the north side of the tracks.

BOARD MEMBERS also instructed that Cady be notified that the village's 1960-61 budget provides funds for purchase of the railway park on the south side of the tracks directly across from the village hall.

The "others" referred to in Cady's letter are oil companies that are interested in buying the parks on the north side of the tracks for service stations and car washes.

Standard Oil company reportedly has a 20-year lease on the parcel at the southwest corner of Vail and the Northwest hwy. on which it wants to erect a $150,000 service station-car wash. A hearing on a petition by the oil company to rezone the land for the project will likely be held next month by the village plan commission.

IF STANDARD'S plans go through, a forerunner of what will follow was revealed this week with the advertisement by a Chicago realty firm that the park adjacent to Standard's, between Vail and Dunton, is also on the market, and is an "excellent site for gasoline station."

Copies of the map advertising the site were distributed to village officials, perhaps to hurry them up in reaching a decision on the parks.

A copy also wound up in the hands of at least one local service station operator who protested to village officials that a string of gasoline stations and car washes on the south side of Northwest hwy. would create impossible traffic jams and make it rough on the village's other 31 stations.

WHETHER the village can still acquire the parks is uncertain. Village officials understand sale of the parks to commercial interests is contingent upon rezoning. Standard Oil company, however, says it has a 20 year lease on its park.

In any event, village officials have gotten the ball rolling in what will probably be the last chance to retain village control over the parks' fate.

Boost Is Predicted In School Tax Bill

An estimated 15 cent increase per $100 of assessed valuation is forecast for 1961 tax bills of Arlington Heights school district 25 residents.

The rise, reflected in the district's proposed 1960-61 budget, will bring district 25's levy to $2.01 per $100 of assessed valuation next year. It is $1.86 this year.

This year's rate for Wilson school district 24, which includes Virginia Terrace and Hasbrook subdivisions in north Arlington Heights, is $1.92. Next year's levy has not been estimated.

COPIES OF the proposed 1960-61 budgets of both schools are now available for public inspection, district 25's at the administrative office at South school, and district 24's at Wilson school on Palatine rd.

The estimated increase in district 25's levy, notes Sup. Ralph E. Clabaugh, is due primarily to a nine cent rise in the bond tax rate, from 38.5 cents to 47.4 cents. The rise is attributed to the $675,000 bond issue passed last February. The first year's payment on a bond issue is the heaviest.

The remainder of the increase, six cents, will be in the building fund levy, raised to 25 cents per $100 of assessed valuation by permission of the last session of the state legislature.

ALL OF THESE figures are based on an estimated assessed valuation of $91,815,000 for school district 25 for 1960, the year on which next year's tax bills will be based. Assessed valuation for district 25 for 1959 was $84,464,495. The projected assessed valuation for 1961 is $99,165,000.

District 24's assessed valuation for 1959 is $9,192,263, an increase of $2,955,168 over 1958.

District 25's 1960-61 budget totals $2,139,367.65. This is $333,423.06 over actual 1959-60 expenditures. The largest jump is the $262,432.48 increase in the educational fund, over $200,000 of which is designated for 19 new teachers and raises in salaries.

DISTRICT 24's proposed 1960-61 budget totals $291,746. Of this sum $224,845 is for educational fund. District 24 will be hiring six or seven new teachers next year, according to Supt. Robert Parsons.

Public hearings on the proposed budgets of both schools will be held Tuesday, August 16. The hearing for district 25 will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the administration building. District 24's hearing will start at 8 p.m. in Wilson school.

Based on Population

County Zoning Suit Cost May Be Shared

A meeting of Rolling Meadows and Arlington Heights officials has resulted in the suggestion that the legal costs of fighting Cook county's recently adopted zoning code be paid in proportion to the size of the communities entering the battle.

This would likely mean $10,000 to Arlington Heights, Mayor Edward Carlisle noted Monday night, explaining that $5,000 would come from Rolling Meadows and $10,000 from Des Plaines.

This method of payment was suggested last week by Mayor John Woods of Rolling Meadows.

AT ONE TIME it looked as if eight northwest suburban communities might join together to fight the code which encroaches upon the 1.5 mile jurisdiction over land surrounding municipal boundaries allowed under state statute.

In many instances, the county code would permit higher density use of land surrounding area communities than is envisioned by local master plans.

Area communities began losing interest in fighting the code, however, when they learned the cost could run to well over $20,000.

There is also some difference of opinion among Arlington Heights board members as to whether the village should attempt to fight the code in the courts, although trustees earmarked $5,000 in the new budget for that purpose.

TRUSTEE EUGENE Schlickman argued Monday night that the village wouldn't have much of a case in the courts. He said he would prefer to see the code changed or clarified through legislative means.

Schlickman noted the Chicago and Illinois Bar associations are working together on zoning reforms which they hope to submit to the legislature in January. He also pointed out that Cook county's board is considering amendments to the code.

Village Attorney Stephen Jurco noted that if the vollage decides to take the code to court, the matter could possibly get to the Supreme court next spring.

Church Bells Still Ringing

One word summed up the bell ringing situation in southwest Arlington Heights this week.

"Nope," was the reply given Trustee Wendell Prunty Monday night when he inquired of Village Manager L. A. Hanson if he had had any success in silencing the early morning ringing of Our Lady of the Wayside's two tons of bells.

The bells are rung each day starting at 7 a.m., including Saturday and Sunday. Some residents of the area complained to Prunty, who in turn asked Hanson to see what he could do about having the bell ringing hour delayed until a later hour on weekends.

Grassy Raceway

A homeowner in north Arlington Heights this week complained to village police that he heard "fast traveling cars" during the night. The next morning he noticed car tracks across his front lawn.

Trustee Lists Proposals

Streamlined Budget Proceedings Urged

Future budget meetings of Arlington Heights trustees will be aired publicly, if Trustee Eugene Schlickman has his way.

This was one of the proposals submitted to the board this week designed to streamline budget proceedings and to let taxpayers know what's going on.

In a letter to Mayor Edward Carlisle, Schlickman noted the "undue length of time involved in passage of the 1960-61 budget" (nearly three months late), and suggested five changes in budget proceedings.

1. ESTABLISHMENT of April 19, 1961 as the target for passage of 1961-62 budget.

2. A meeting of the Board and Village Manager sometime in December, 1960, to set general objectives for the 1961-62 budget.

3. The proposed budget of Village Manager to include, in addition to Village Manager's recommendations, departmental requests (as initially submitted), and in addition to 1960-61 budget amounts, the estimated actual expenditures.

4. All budget meetings of Board to be held in Council Room, except for strictly salary and individual personnel matters.

5. SUFFICIENT copies of proposed 1961-62 budget for distribution to all listed associations and attendants at the public hearing.

In the past, trustees have met privately in budget committee meetings and ironed out differences prior to the public hearing required for the budget.

Committee hearings were particularly stormy this year, and budget proceedings ran well past the May 1 beginning of the fiscal year. The appropriation ordinance for the budget was not read until this week.

Trustees did not act on Schlickman's proposals this week when Trustee Wendell Prunty suggested to hold the matter over until a full board was present (two members were absent).

MAYOR CARLISLE interjected that he "didn't see any reason to discuss the proposals because this board won't be working on next year's budget."

Discussion was broken off when Trustee William Sauer moved that the matter be held over until the next meeting. The motion was approved, with Prunty dissenting. He felt the entire board should be present before the matter is decided upon.

Park District Seeks To Revise Boundaries

A campaign by Arlington Heights park district to expand its boundaries to coincide with those of the village should come as welcome news to some villagers who found themselves paying double for park activities this year.

Many village residents aren't aware that boundaries of park district and village are not the same, and protested when they had to pay $30 rather than $15 for a season swim ticket this year.

In the past, park activity prices were the same to all. This year, however, because of increasing use of facilities, all prices were doubled for non-residents of the district.

THE DESIRE of the park daries is not primarily because of the increased taxes it would acquire, but to eliminate misunderstanding of village residents, notes Tom Thornton, park director.

He also cites the administrative advantages of having park and village boundaries the same.

The two largest areas being considered for annexation by the park district are Scarsdale Estates and Arlington Park Manor subdivisions in the southeast portion of the village.

OTHER areas being studied are Hickory Meadows subdivision in the northeast corner of the village, Wilson school property on Palatine rd., and property between Kirchoff and Central rds., including the Northwest Community hospital.

Thornton points out that if these areas aren't annexed by Arlington Heights park district they may soon find themselves in another district. He notes there is talk of forming a park district to the south of the village.

Power Failure Thwarts Film

Patrons of the 53 Outdoor Theatre, route 53 and Rand rd., Palatine, received a jolt Saturday, June 17, when the screen went blank permanently at 8:15 p.m. in the middle of a movie.

The difficulty was caused by a tree that fell across a power line on Long Grove rd. in Palatine, snapping the line. Much of the surrounding area was also without power.

Refunds were given to the audience. (AF

Dairy Farmer Speaks Out

Eldred Tanner describes how bank credit helps milk production

"I'm a dairy farmer," says Eldred Tanner who also finds time to be a town judge, "and I can tell you there's more to milk producing than just raising cows and collecting milk checks.

"It takes a lot of people working together to put the milk I produce into quart containers for people to buy. For instance, there's the banker I deal with.

"Generally I have cash set aside for emergencies. But when it comes time to improve pastures, build up my herd, or buy new equipment I turn to my bank to see me through till my milk checks can pay off.

"This isn't to say that I always get all the money I want. Which is understandable, because most of the money a bank lends belongs, not to the bank, but to its depositors and stockholders. But I don't hesitate to call on my bank when I need money. Loans are as much a banker's bread and butter as Holsteins are mine.

"What it comes down to is that banks are in business to lend money, and businessmen are smart to make use of bank credit when they need to."

41 Trees Destroyed

Dutch Elm Disease Threatens Village

Dutch Elm disease, that incurable nemesis of Arlington Heights, many thousands of age old elm trees, is reaching new heights of destruction in the village this year.

As of this week 41 elms have been removed and burned, compared with a total of 35 last year, and new cases of the disease are being discovered weekly.

Village Manager L. A. Hanson noted that an area wide village manager's meeting held in Evanston last week agreed that the disease was taking an unprecedented toll this year. Mt. Prospect has handled 52 cases this year compared with a total of nine last year. Palatine has been the hardest hit with 64 cases this year and only seven last year.

HANSON IS pessimistic over the future of Arlington Heights' estimated 13,000 elms on public property and the many others on private property.

Noting there has been no successful way developed to stem the disease other than chopping down trees, Hanson advocates a tree replacement program. He would create the position of forester whose job it would be to develop a long range program to replace the elms with such trees as green ash, oaks, and maples.

Village trustees, however, have been cool to the idea of setting up a forestry department, proposed by Hanson last year.

THE CURRENT epidemic is scattered throughout the village, and Hanson advises persons spotting a sickly looking elm to call the public works department at CL 5-4717.

Samples of suspected trees are sent to the University of Illinois, and diagnoses returned within 10 days. (AF

Retrial Ordered For Ex-Magistrate

A Superior court judge has ordered a retrial in a lawsuit against William Neumann, former Arlington Heights police magistrate.

A circuit court jury recently delivered a $13,500 verdict against Neumann in a suit brought by John Skorvanek, who operated an Arlington Heights tavern in 1953.

Magistrate Neumann had found Skorvanek guilty of selling liquor to minors. As a result of that ruling, the village president revoked the liquor license. Skorvanek's suit was based on the contention that Neumann had no right to try the case.

UPON PETITION of Neumann's attorney, Stephen A. Jurco of the firm of Jurco, Danisch and Sinson, Judge Elmer Holmgren ordered the retrial.

Jurco, who is also attorney en by the jury, the judge either give a directed verdict in favor of the defendant or order a new trial.

In granting a new trial, the judge stated that the jury verdict was contrary to the manifest weight of the evidence. The judgment was set aside, and the case remanded to the calendar for retrial. (AF

High School Asks Two Underpasses

High school district 214's school board strongly recommended Monday that Arlington Heights construct two underpasses beneath the Chicago and North Western railway tracks.

The board will send a letter to the village requesting the building of a pedestrian underpass at Walnut or Ridge and a combination pedestrian-street tunnel at State rd.

Arlington Heights is undertaking an engineering survey to determine the best site for a railroad underpass.

BOARD MEMBERS noted that the construction of a pedestrian underpass at Ridge or Walnut would prevent school children from risking injury by crossing the tracks.

A street tunnel at State rd. would help ease bus scheduling difficulties caused by delays at the tracks according to the board. (AF

This Is Deerfield—8 Months Later

Press Blamed For Notoriety

(Last year Paddock Publications assigned staff writer Tom McShane to prepare a report-in-depth of suburban Deerfield's integration controversy. This week the editors sent McShane back to Deerfield to report on what has happened in the interim.)

by TOM McSHANE

The two houses are near completion, set back from roadside trees and brush and surrounded by 20 acres of weeds.

Building permits are still nailed to the trees. And tire ruts are worn deep in the once-muddy road shoulder. There is a make-shift standard for wires between the buildings. Police cars drive by frequently, on the watch for vandals.

The permits have the numbers 911 and 921 Wilmot rd. on them.

The houses are monuments to something important.

"Negroes almost lived there," a boy may tell his date someday, remembering that fall night when his mother and father went to a meeting and came home talking about colored people.

THIS IS Deerfield, July, 1960, eight months after it happened.

Last week, after a long federal and state court battle, the title to the Progress Development corporation's land in the northern suburb was turned over to the local park district. The going price on the condemnation of the land was $168,500.

Progress Development, a subsidiary of Modern Community Developers of Princeton, N.J., came to Deerfield last year to build an integrated subdivision. They planned to sell about a dozen of the 50-plus homes they were going to build to Negroes.

A premature revelation of the plans caused a nationally-publicized furor. It left the village limp.

It's still limp today.

BY NOW THE residents of Deerfield expect the questions from the outsiders, the people they meet on business or vacation trips. The name of their village has become familiar, if not notorious.

Any many of them don't like it. They feel they have been cheated. And they wish someone would present "their side" of the story.

They blame much of their problem on the communications media.

They criticize the press, radio, and television for what they call biased reporting. They cite instances of misquoting and irresponsible editing.

THEY SAY they are just like the people in any other suburb. They probably are. It just happened to happen to them. And they feel frustrated.

"This was a very, very difficult period for those of us holding public office," one official said.

"The position of the village in this matter never was clearly presented by the press," another commented.

"Deerfield has been painted as a community of bigots. We are supposed to be unsavory people for what we did. I have the feeling we were used. It's regrettable an organization can come in and bring this dissension. We just are not that different."

Deerfield's officials today say that prejudice did not enter into their minds in the conduct of their suit. They say their park district needed the condemned land. They say the district had tried to acquire the land earlier but had met defeat. And they say the park board jumped in when it did because it thought the people would pass the necessary bond issue. They did.

The park district, in effect, has given itself a clean bill of health in the controversy.

THE PEOPLE themselves have cleared their consciences with an economic rationalization. They say they would have taken a terrific beating on their property values if the Negro was allowed in Deerfield. They say they have a right to protest if they will be hurt financially.

They have other arguments. They say that to build on a quota system, as Progress proposed, is just as discriminatory. And they say that another proposal, a captive clause in the sales contracts making Progress the exclusive agent in any resale of the property (so that the company could maintain the quota), is not legal.

They are not prejudiced, these people say, any more than the rest of us. They have a right to protect their own interests.

PROGRESS IS appealing a federal decision handed down in March that found the village and park officials innocent of any conspiracy against the corporation. It also has announced plans to appeal last week's decision awarding the title to the park district, to the Illinois Supreme court.

Progress will go to the United States Supreme court with what it considers a civil rights plea, a further battle against discrimination.

If the developer wins, the park district will have to give back the title, and Deerfield will be back where it started.

And the boy may point to the shingled monument and say:

"Negroes live there."

THE SIGN IN one of the far windows on this house reads: "Keep Out: Violators Will Be Prosecuted." It is signed by the Deerfield Park District. The home, one of two $30,000 models completed by the Progress Development corporation in their proposed integrated development, is finished except for some interior work. (B8

Cupid, Motherhood Raid School Staff

Cupid and impending motherhood accounted for 17 of the 42 teachers who left Arlington Heights school district 25 this year.

Reasons given for leaving were 10 marriages, nine to other schools, seven pregnancies, five husbands transferred, four going overseas, three returning to school, three don't want full-time employment, and one is ill.

The district is not only replacing those lost, but adding 19 additional teachers for a total of 61 new ones that will assume duties next September.

ELEVEN OF the 19 are slated for the new Kensington school, but will teach double sessions at Windsor until the new school is completed. Of the remaining additional teachers, one each will go to Park, Westgate, Ridge, and Miner schools, one will teach music, one visiting counselor, one consultant, and one teacher for the hard of hearing.

Superintendent Ralph E. Clabaugh noted this was a normal turnover considering the rapid growth of the district.

Turf Training Takes Skill and Patience

by JACK MARTIN

Training two-year-old thoroughbreds is like getting a bunch of kindergarten kids ready for Notre Dame's football team, according to Calumet Farm's famous trainer, Jimmy Jones.

The personable horseman, who has given turfdom such successes as Citation, Armed, Tim Tam, Iron Liege, and Bewitched, likens the untried colts to children. "They (the horses) get childhood diseases, too." Jones informs.

"They get homesick for the farm, catch distemper the same way that kids get the flu, and pass around a coughing disease similar to whooping cough. Only with kids, you have an advantage. They can say 'It hurts here, mommy.' We have to find out where the hurt is," Jones points out.

THE TRAINER of three Kentucky Derby winners had just returned from supervising the morning workouts of Calumet's Arlington Park contingent. Studying a race schedule and thinking aloud about the next day's entries, the 53-year-old native Missourian interspersed his thoughts with tips on training horses.

"You got to have lots of patience. A lot of people in the racing business have given up on farms because they don't want to take the time and expense needed to train colts. They'd rather buy a horse that's developed.

"Well, people ain't gonna sell a horse that's promising, so the only way you're gonna get a good horse is to raise him yourself. It's farms like Calumet that really contribute something to the sport. The others (buyers of developed horses) are interested only commercially."

ABOUT THIS time of the year Calumet Farm, of Lexington, Ky., starts training a new group of colts. "They get their general education there," Jones states. "After they're broken, we introduce them to a starting gate — just let them stand around one, so's they don't think it's gonna hurt them."

"They get no fast work on the farm. We try to strengthen their bodies and educate their minds."

When they become two-year-olds (all horses' birthdays are January 1), most of the colts start the race track tour. "Then," according to Jones, "they pick up all the childhood diseases. While nursing them along, we teach them to start from a gate, but not until they've spent three months just standing in the gate, getting used to it."

THIS SORT OF work is done early in the morning. (Jones' day starts at 5:30 a.m.)

"We take a lot of time with our horses," Jones stressed. "Sometimes we get disgusted and think we take too much time, but the horse's body has to develop and he's got to breathe right before you put him in a race. Too many horses' growth has been stopped by over-intensive training at an early age."

"Our two-year-olds are about ready to race now. We've only started two. St. Lenore didn't show as good as we expected, but he had been kicked a couple of times, and we think he was a little horse shy. Beau Prince won quite impressively in his only start, and we think he's gonna be a good one."

The two-year-olds usually start at short distances, "the shorter the better," Jones claims. "A race takes quite a bit out of a horse. That's why I'm against this new drug, butazolidin. If a horse isn't ready to run without the drug, you're gonna hurt him by running him with it. I don't intend to use it." (Butozolidin is a drug recently introduced at Arlington Park. A pain-killer, it has been approved for use by the turf association.)

KNOWING WHEN to start a horse and when to keep him out takes a lot of "horse sense" and some guesswork, Jones contends. "The animal's breeding, disposition, and experience dictate at which distance he will perform best."

"A horse needs a lot of schooling from the time he is an untried two-year-old until he reaches the peak form of a four-year-old.

Jones learned the training business from his father, with whom he came to Calumet Farm some 21 years ago. Born in Parnell, Mo., "Jimmy" produced the first horse to win over $1 million, Citation; another product, Armed, was the biggest money-winning gelding, and Bewitched was the biggest money-winning mare.

"But my best job of training, I feel, was with Princess Turia. I felt I really got a lot out of that horse, considering it was a cripple," Jones submits.

A dog lover as well as a horse lover, Jones feels that if, before he retires, he can just have one-third the winners that he has already had he will have been a success. (B8

LOOKING OVER the next day's race schedule, Calumet trainer Jimmy Jones and a friend decide which horses are "ready" for competition. (B8

TEACHING TWO-YEAR-OLDS to enter a gate calmly and break with the bell is a long job, requiring patience from Calumet's Jimmy Jones and other trainers.

Suburban Father Emerges As Horned Ogre to Young

by PHILIP NELSON

I am an orge. I have huge horns, two heads, sharp claws and a menacing manner—with children.

Take pampered youngsters, my own, for example. At three, David has developed a confidence that he is indeed Aladdin of the magic lamp. And this without the lamp to rub. Toys appear magically from nowhere, with a crook of his finger.

His childish eyes brim with joy; he bubbles over as Carrie comes back from shopping. "What did you buy me?" he asks in his childish treble.

It's true, our basement started out as a recreation room-study. At great length and with infinite pains and errors, in approved do-it-yourself fashion, I finished the basement at a cost of only $500 more than it would have cost if done by professionals.

But time has passed. No thought of recreation enters our minds as we stumble over the multitude of cars, hobby horses, cowboys pursuing Indians, silly putty, coloring books. It is really a sort of, well not a toy department store really, but more of a warehouse.

IT STARTED out with Carrie bringing him something after returning from an expedition downtown; now, whenever she returns to the house after a trivial errand, those bright little eyes gleam as David asks: "Mommy, what did you bring me?"

Luckily, there are only 365 days in the year, and of this possibly 362 or 3 shopping days for Carrie. Each day she shops, I picture the inevitable gleaming of little eyes, hear again the acquisitive query.

It doesn't bug me, really it doesn't. I like to casually run my hands through all the treasure trove, let it filter through my fingers, wallow around my head and shoulders — and drop with a crash to the floor. I don't mind barked shins or occasionally getting jammed between the Huffy Puffy choo-choo and the Seymour Snort walrus, tusks and all. Re-ally, I don't.

Comes suppertime, and I barge outdoors, just in time to see him careen around a corner, 17 tykes at his heels, all pedaling furiously on tricycles, fire engines, scooters. They have spotted me.

"OOooooh," I heard him shriek, "the giant monster. Look out." The mob fled my approach.

I CAPTURED him, lugging him screaming with a sort of half-Nelson, into my castle, while all his playmates threw mudballs and epithets, made tongues at me. I sat him down at the table, where his supper steamed, meat and potatoes.

"Eat," I commanded, with all the pomp of Napoleon.

"I don't like potatoes," he wailed.

It has been said that I have a way with children. I fixed him with my special hold I had learned in the big war and barked: "Eat the meat. Eat the meat," in a sort of chant I had mastered.

"The fork is dirty," he moaned. It had been stained or rather contaminated by contact with potatoes. I drew a fresh weapon from the cutlery drawer. "Eat," I said. "Eat or you don't go outside."

Tears rolled down his face. He made a mouth like one of the gargoyles on the Notre Dame. He wept. Water welled from an inexhaustible source and splashed down his cheeks.

AS I watched, a third head grew out of my shoulders. The horns grew longer. I was a terrible ogre, fierce to behold.

"If you don't eat," I shouted, "you're going to bed."

The rains came. It was fascinating, the Mahatma Ghandian way he had of defying me. The more I screamed, pleaded, threatened, the greater grew his flood of tears.

I was a Nazi juggernaut, a giant tank thundering down upon his helpless body and he lay there in the road, his arms folded, challenging me to crush him. And always, the tears, his little face screwed up to unbearable dimensions, all mouth.

DESPITE the torrent, I changed him into his pajamas, washed his face which blackened immediately with some invisible mascara, brushed his teeth, and tossed him into bed.

The wailing continued. It was more like the Wailing Wall of Jerusalem than I could bear. No cotton could plug the heartrendering torment. At length, I could take no more.

I climbed the stars to his bedroom, heavily laden, transformed. I was the Fairy Godmother. "Shhh," I told him. "We won't tell your daddy. See, I brought you cookies and milk. You know who I am?"

"You're the Fairy Godmother," he sobbed.

"That's right," I said. "Promise not to tell daddy?"

"I promise," he said, reaching for the cookies, then, added: "Tell me a story, dadd—I mean, Fairy Godmother."

I TOLD HIM a story, sang him songs, rocked him in my arms, kissed him, told him I loved him, promised him beaucoup loot, then traipsed down the stairs, ready to don the role of the Ogre for the next morning.

I am a man of a thousand faces, many disguises. But mainly, I am a two-headed ogre. Want to see my horns?

Day Camp Goes ....2-BOLD ....

Children are returned to these same locations at the end of the full day.

THERE ARE still a few openings in the third period, and registrations can be made by calling the "Y" office at VA 4-4156, for by stopping at the "Y" office, 1488 Miner st., Des Plaines Pickup points in Arlington Heights, Mt. The YMCA day camp is supervised by a professional 'Y' - trained staff. Leaders are adults in the teaching and recreational fields and counselors who have been picked and trained for their leadership qualifications.

The coming final period closes a season which has been "tops" in Northwest Suburban 'Y's day camp program, with over 500 youngsters participating in the three sessions of camping.

New Tax Bill System Set

Real estate taxpayers in suburban Cook county this year will receive their billing on a new type tax bill.

The new simplified card type bill was in use for Chicago properties last year and will be used for the entire county this year. The change in the type of bill was necessitated as a result of the adoption by the county of a modern IBM mechanical method of tax bill preparation and tax payment distribution.

It is predicted that in the future the new method will expedite the issuance of the bills and will result in an earlier distribution of funds to various taxing bodies.

TOWNSHIP collectors of Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine, and Schaumburg townships, who handle the distribution and collection of the bills, last week called attention to one important feature of the new type bill.

The new bill will show no legal description of the covered property and instead a "permanent index number" will be shown. These permanent index numbers have been on all tax bills since 1949.

Taxpayers are advised to check these identification numbers with previous year's bills to be certain that the same property is covered. If the tax bill is held by a mortgage house, they will check to make sure the code number is correct.

Hospital Treats Emergency Cases

Sources of injuries to youths treated at the Northwest Community hospital emergency room last week were varied and unusual.

John F. Knutson, 5, of Ottawa, Ill., was knocked down by a child's "hot-rod" car. He had a one-inch cut on his right leg stitched Tuesday, July 12.

THE SAME day, James Collins, 15, of Mt. Prospect, needed stitches on a 1½-inch cut he got on his right hand while playing with a Trampoline in his backyard.

Richard Rybak, 5, of Rolling Meadows, caught and cut his right thumb in a garage door. The next day, July 13, Christine Heggeland, 2, of Arlington Heights, was hit in the head with a swing. The emergency staff stitched a one-inch cut.

They also attended Gregory Brown, 8, of Mt. Prospect, who cut himself from a bicycle fall. William Kihn, 5, of Palatine, fell off his bike and broke his left arm, Friday.

Two-year-old Scott Werling, of Rolling Meadows was bruised on his head where a rock thrown by a rotary mower struck him. Another Scott, also 2, Scott Sprinkle, of Palatine, received second degree burns from a vaporizer on his left leg, Saturday.

Mt. Prospect police brought in patient Kevin Murray, 6, of that village. A dog left a small bruise on Kevin's left arm.

Two Brockman children, Wilke rd., Palatine, received dog bites, Saturday. County police were notified. Ronald, 8, was bitten in the left arm, and Sandy, 14, was bitten in the chest and right hand. Her cuts required stitches.

Traded Seats

Fisherman Narrowly Misses Air Disaster

George F. Schuman, 603 S. Roosevelt, Arlington Heights, made it home with his 30-pound lake trout and 26-pound northern pike the other day.

But not before a traded seat almost resulted in disaster for him, when his plane with 27 other passengers aboard, came within eight minutes of running out of gas over the Canadian wilds, June 25.

Returning the passengers from a fishing camp in northern Saskatchewan, where it is light 24 hours a day, the pilot became lost in a storm over vast timber tracts.

Almost 150 miles off course, with the fuel gauge low, the pilot prepared to ditch in a lake.

All this time Schuman was contemplating why he had switched planes shortly before takeoff with a man from Iowa.

THAT PLANE had already made its way through the storm to a safe landing at a small airport at The Paz, Saskatchewan.

"We were circling a lake ready to ditch, and I had already taken my shoes off when the plane at The Paz informed our pilot that there was a clearing in the area," Schuman said.

The clearing had not been used since World War II, and was only 4,000 feet long. With eight minutes gas left, the pilot successfully landed.

Lying in the weeds at the side of the field were 12 barrels of fuel left by the Canadian civil defense, which radioed the pilot permission to use the gas. Otherwise, the plane would have been stranded for days.

Schuman, 54 years old, explained that he and a man from Hinsdale spent all day pumping 270 gallons of gasoline into the plane by hand.

ONLY THE HEADS are left now, but George F. Schuman, 603 S. Roosevelt, Arlington Heights, landed the 26-pound northern and 30-pound lake trout with the spoon that is hanging from the northern's mouth. His fishing trip in northern Sasketchewan narrowly missed being a disaster when his plane came within eight minutes of running out of gas over vast timber.

"REST OF THE fellows were all helpless, wealthy people," he commented.

Schuman estimated that he threw back 200 fish weighing over 10 pounds while fishing on Reindeer lake, the most northern part of Canada.

His 30 pounder was the biggest trout caught there in two years.

"I fought him for 45 minutes, and would have fought him for a week," Schuman said. "After bringing it up to the boat for the seventh time, I lifted it by the gills and threw it on the deck."

A four pound trout was found intact inside the 30 pounder.

WHEN HE CAME home, Schuman offered the trout and a 26 pound northern he had caught to the Lutheran Old Folk's Home.

"They came over expecting to carry them back with a few sheets of paper," he said. "I gave the fish to them in a wash tub."

Schuman caught almost all his fish with a home made spoon 14 inches long.

Custodian of records at Harris Trust and Savings in Chicago, Schuman said he has been fishing regularly since he was 19.

HE ALSO HUNTS deer and bear in Wisconsin during the winter. Schuman's collection of deer feet will be used for making coat racks by a group of explorer scouts from Park Ridge in a few weeks.

His wife, Grace, does not object to his regular fishing and hunting trips.

"In fact," she said, "it gives him a rest from the routine at the office."

Episcopal Church Pence Fund Tops Expectations

The 100 millionth penny was received this month through the Bishop's Pence program of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago, according to A. W. Moore of Paiatine, Penceman or St. Philip Episcopal church.

The Bishop's Pence was originated in November, 1933, by the late Bishop George Craig Stewart, to promote the saying of grace at meals and to encourage church members to make a token offering of a penny per meal, as a tangible expression of gratitude. The plan has enjoyed increasing success for nearly 27 years. Eighteen years were required to accumulate the first half million dollars, while the million dollar mark was reached in less than nine additional years. Annual returns of $70,000 in recent years are equivalent to the income from an endowment fund of $1,750,000, invested at four per cent.

FAMILIES OF the diocese are provided with a small container, called a Pence Can, to be placed on the dining table as a receptacle for the coins. The Pence Cans are collected five times a year by a representative, called a Penceman, in each church who is appointed by the Bishop.

The net proceeds of the Bishop's Pence are divided equally between the Bishop, for work in the diocese, and the participating parishes and missions. The latter use their share for local needs, at their discretion.

Suburb Hospitals In Blood Program

Would you like to have a guarantee that all the blood you and your family might require for one year would be available any where in the United States? Under the Co-operative Blood Replacement Plan a gift of one pint of blood from a qualified donor will give you this protection.

Three northwest Chicagoland hospitals - Lutheran General, Northwest Community and Resurrection - are among those participating in this new program in the greater Chicago area.

After having been proved actuarially sound, the Replacement Plan has been organized to provide protection against the need of blood that faces some families everyday as a result of illness or accident. It relieves the worry of finding replacement donors.

BLOOD BANKS must have ample supplies of blood of all types. The Replacement Plan was established to furnish an incentive to everyone to help meet this need.

Each blood donation will provide unlimited benefits for an individual for four years, or for a family group for one year. In company groups or fraternal organizations, one donor can name three others as "benefit members" and all four would be protected for one year.

One pint of blood deposited before the sixth month of pregnancy at any participating hospital entitles the pregnant woman to replacement for all the blood and plasma she and/or her newborn baby (or babies) may require.

Careful examination of blood donors is necessary to make certain that they are in good health and that giving blood will not be harmful to the donor or to the person who might receive the blood. Hospitals and blood centers where blood is given send the donor a Donor Identification Card, showing the blood group, RH factor, and the date of the donation.

TO BECOME a member call one of the participating institutions for an appointment. At the time the donation is made an application form is completed. Protection for accidental injury becomes effective immediately; a 90-day waiting period is necessary for elective surgery or pre-existing illnesses requiring transfusions.

Persons physically unable to serve as blood donors may pay a benefit fee of $10. Any income in excess of necessary expenses and reserves will be reflected in increased benefits or medical research associated with blood disorders such as hemophilia, leukemia, etc.

Why not call the closest participating hospital today for an appointment?

County Treasurer's Office Has New Look

County Treasurer Francis S. Lorenz is a man who believes in locking the barn door before the horse is gone.

He also believes that the county should make it as painless as possible for real estate taxpayers to make their payments each year.

No, he doesn't think that he can ever make it an actually "painless" transaction, but he does believe it can be an efficient and pleasant transaction that will engender a feeling of respect and good will between the taxpayer and his government.

If this sounds like campaign oratory it isn't.

THE OFFICE of county treasurer is not up for election this fall. It won't be for two years and even then Lorenz won't be able to run for re-election because the state constitution prevents the county treasurer from succeeding himself.

It is however, a way of saying that Lorenz has fulfilled a campaign promise made when he ran for the county treasurer's post two years ago.

He has completed the major part of a thorough modernization program for the county treasurer's office which includes installation of a burglar-proof vault and office surroundings as pleasant and inviting as the lobby of the newest bank or savings and loan association building.

IT'S A $250,000 project which has required the appropriation of only $100,000 from tax funds. The other $150,000 was accumulated from savings made in last year's budget, the first full year in which Lorenz held office.

Visitors to the office on the first floor of the County building — and Lorenz has issued a cordial invitation to everyone to stop in and see the new quarters — will hardly recognize the place.

Gone are the ugly, monkey cages which virtually hid the tellers and set up a barrier between the taxpayer and the clerk.

GONE ARE the cluttered desks, high counters, dingy floors, ugly wood trim and antique light fixtures that did everything but brighten up the attitude of the taxpayer as he walked into the office.

Now citizens will enter a well-lighted room tastefully decorated in mist green and cream which gives the impression of spaciousness, relaxation and quiet efficiency.

Fourteen tellers' cages will be available to make the duty of paying taxes a quick and simple matter, with no standing in line or confusion as where to go. There will be check-writing desks for your convenience.

Persons with questions will be directed to a long service counter immediately inside the door. If their question concerns location of property covered in their tax bill the clerk will be able to give a quick and complete answer by simply referring to the land map books located in movable files right behind the counter.

NO LONGER will a taxpayer pop a question to someone behind a counter only to be told, rudely, "I don't work here." Only employes will be permitted behind the counters and this will be controlled by gate locks similar to those used in any modern bank.

"Our whole object," exclaimed Lorenz, "is more and better service to the taxpayer. We don't think people can be expected to have respect for their government if they don't receive courteous efficient service in modern surroundings when they have business to transact. We aim to provide all of these things."

While there has never been an attempted robbery of the county treasurer's vault, it may have been more the result of good luck than good planning. It can be revealed now because it is no longer in use that the old vault had only thin, tile walls.

It might have proved an easy mark for an energetic burglar, one, for example, as determined as the thief who took an estimated $350,000 from the vault of the state treasury at West Virginia not so long ago.

COOK COUNTY taxpayers can rest assured that their money is now in a vault as burglar-proof as modern science and construction can make it.

The $62,000 cell is covered with two inches of armor plate steel and a 9½ ton door. To enter it is necessary to go through two doors, neither of which can be opened at the same time. Thus, it is necessary to stand for a short time in a small area — called a "burglar trap" — for inspection by the guard on duty.

Tellers who deposit money in the vault for the night can put it in all right, but they can't get it out in the morning unless someone is there with them. And a special alarm is set to go off if the sound in the vault reaches a certain intensity.

Each of the 14 tellers has a special vault at his window. If he is approached by a robber all he has to do is trip a small lever on the floor which turns on a light at one end of the room and sends an alarm to the police and the Central Watch Service.

AT THE same time all of the 14 vaults at the tellers' windows are locked and cannot be opened until a time clock is turned on which takes 15 minutes to run down. Even under normal conditions it takes three keys to open the vaults.

Work on the modernization, which includes installation of new tile floors and accoustical ceiling, started last February and is about three-fourths completed. Nearly all of the rest of the work will be completed in another month, but a tiny section will have to wait another year until additional funds are appropriated.

Work has even included a basement which was converted from a veritable dungeon into a light and airy storeroom and place for fingerprinting all employes of the treasurer's office before they are put to work. (B8

Overturned Trailer Truck, Auto Clog Roadway Traffic

A semi-trailer truck which overturned at Illinois 72 and Busse rd. Wednesday, July 13, following a collision with a car, proved a bottleneck to northwest suburban motorists who had to detour around the scene.

District 3 state police charged both the truck driver, Frank G. Dombroski, 25, of 355 McHenry, Crystal Lake, and the driver of the car, Frank J. Antosiak, 48, of 5218 S. Honore st., Chicago, in the mishap.

Antosiak and his son, Raymond, 13, were taken to Resurrection hospital for treatment of injuries suffered in the crash.

POLICE SAID THAT Antosiak pulled out from a stop sign while headed north on Busse rd., colliding with the truck which was going east on Illinois 72.

The truck struck the left front of the car, then careened into the westbound lane before finally upsetting in a ditch on the south side of the highway.

Police charged Antosiak with failure to yield the right-of-way and the truck driver with driving too fast for conditions. Damage to the truck was estimated at $7,000, with $800 damage done to the car.

IN OTHER mishaps reported during the past week:

—On Thursday, July 14, two racing cars forced a car driven by George W. Barber, 44, of R.R. 6, Box 544, McHenry, off the road while he was headed north on Illinois 59 at Illinois 68. Barber told police he swerved off the road to avoid collision with the speeding vehicles. His car hit the shoulder of the road and rolled over. He and his wife, Clara, were to see their own doctor for treatment of injuries suffered. Damage to their car was figured at about $2,000.

—On the same date, Herbert L. Herzog, 17, of Quinter, Kans., was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way following a collision at Arlington Heights State rd. and Illinois 58.

Herzog, who was attempting to turn left onto Illinois 58, collided with a car headed north on State rd. driven by Glenn B. Carlson, 35, of 718 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights.

Neither motorist nor a passenger in Herzog's car, Luella Stade, 16, of 702 E. Haven, Arlington Heights, were hurt in the mishap. Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $400.

—Also on July 14, a motorist swerved off the road on Illinois 62 a quarter mile northwest of Illinois 58 to allow a passing car to get back in the proper lane so as to avert a possible head-on collision.

The quick-thinking motorist was Lois J. Giemsoe, 21, of R.R. 1, Box 428, Algonquin. An unknown vehicle was passing her, and traffic bearing down in the opposite lane threatened a serious accident. She swerved to the right and off the road to allow the passing car to reenter its traffic lane. Damage to her car was estimated at $150.

—ON JULY 13, police cited Lucille G. Arado, 41, of Cary, Ill., for failure to yield the right-of-way following an accident at Illinois 62 and 58. The car she was driving northwest on Illinois 62 rammed a car turning left onto Illinois 58 driven by Robert E. Rice, 54, of 7933 N. Kilbourn, Skokie. Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $400.

—On the same date, following an accident at Oakton st. and Mt. Prospect rd., police charged Curtis E. French, 19, of 1212 Glenlake, Park Ridge, with following too closely after he was headed east on Oakton st. and slammed the dump truck he was driving into the rear of a car stopped for traffic driven by Eleanor McKinney, 27, of 21 Poplar, Elk Grove. There were no injuries to the four passengers in the car. Damage to the car was figured at $300; there was no visible damage to the truck.

Also on July 13, George Walraven, 54, of Kenosha, Wis., was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way after he was turning left onto Arlington Heights State rd. and collided with a car going east on Illinois 58 driven by John Bristol, 27, of 1131 N. President, Wheaton.

One of the five passengers in Bristol's car, Agnes Crawford, 86, of Des Moines, Iowa, suffered bruises in the mishap and was taken to Northwest Community hospital for treatment. Three passengers in Walraven's car escaped injury. Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $800.

MARGI KOEHLER, 18, has been named "Queen of Destiny" to reign of the Centi-Quad-O-Rama, 125th anniversary festival to be held by Des Plaines August 23 to 28. Mayor Herbert H. Behrel said the six-day celebration will be "the biggest ever held by any Chicago suburb." Miss Koehler, descendent of early Des Plaines settlers, has a number of other titles, including Miss Northwest Suburban of 1960, Miss Talent, Miss Illinois Sweet Corn Sweetheart, Miss Northwest Suburbs of 1959, and first runner-up in the recent Miss Illinois contest.

Mid-Summer Activities Hit Peak with Pleasant Weather

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298 Elsie Jedd, CL 3-5982

Typical mid-summer activities were on the agenda for almost everyone the past week. Children encamped or de-camped; out-of-towners visited here; new and used vacations caused peak amounts of packing and unpacking. To keep the July scene completely typical, a comfortable proportion of vacationers stayed right in their own backyards for their annual 2-week leisure season.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nofer, Bobby and Jane of Willow Grove, Pa., are spending several weeks here with Mrs. Nofer's parents, the Edwin Starbucks, 506 S. Evergreen. The children enjoyed having their grandparents all to themselves last week while their parents vacationed at Lake Lawn. Over the weekend friends from Kirkwood, Mo., the I. B. Barfod family, visited the Starbuck home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilnitz and Catherine returned to 1031 S. Dunton Saturday after a 3-week trip combining business and vacation. The spent a week at Colorado Springs and stayed a few days at Estes park before beginning a leisurely drive home.

The Calvin Hubers, 1021 S. Dunton, were among relatives in the Chicagoland area sharing the recent visit of Mrs. Huber's sister and brother-in-law, the Charles Johnstons of Annaheim, Cal. Final farewells were said last Thursday when the Johnstons returned to the west coast.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sandy, 515 S. Chestnut, weekended in Bloomington at the home of their daughter and family, the Garry Kinders. This time "and family" included Karen, one, Karol Ann, whose birth July 7 prompted her grandparents' visit. An aunt, Miss Margaret Sandy, who has been staying with the Kinders since mid-June, returned here with her parents Sunday.

The Edward Hirons family, 1020 N. Chestnut, spent a leisurely week motoring through the Smoky mountains and returned over the past weekend.

NEIGHBORhood friends recently enjoyed a final "coffee-and" with Mrs. Melvin Cooos and Mrs. Warren Rumatz at an afternoon farewell in the home of Mrs. Frank Holtje, 1141 N. Mitchell. The Coobs family has since moved from 1145 N. Mitchell to a new home in Stonegate, and the Rumatzes leave next week for a new address on the south side of town.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kohler, recently of 843 S. Vail, were guests of honor Saturday evening at a "co-op" farewell dinner party given in the home of the Henry Wists, 837 S. Vail. Multiple co-hosts were 12 couples who until recently were neighbors of the Kohlers, who are residing in the area until autumn when they will leave for a new home in Florida. A transistor radio was their friends' gift of remembrance Saturday night.

Susan Johnson was 12 Sunday but celebrated last Friday afternoon. With the help of a little bit of make-up applied as they arrived, a dozen wide-eyed young ladies became doe-eyed Japanese maidens to fit the Oriental theme of the outdoor party. Japanese lanterns, very low dining tables and fans for all guests added to the atmosphere at 836 N. Mitchell. Giggles, however, were strictly American style.

The inevitable giggles 'n' girls combination was also in evidence last Thursday afternoon at the John Heffern an home, 622 S. State, when Kathy belatedly celebrated a July 10 birthday. A half - dozen local friends had fun at Kathy's patio party, which was also attended from a safe distance by Kathy's brother, Michael, a July 11 birthday celebrant. Kathy was 13 and Michael was 14. Michael celebrated on his birthday with a family party befitting his elder brother status.

DAVID AND Sandy Huntley, 421 N. Wilshire, are enjoying visits with their grandparents, one youngster being with each pair of grandparents. David left a week ago Friday for Edora, Iowa, to be with the senior Huntleys until next week. Sandy left on her first jet flight a week ago Monday to spend two weeks with her grandparents, the George Wilsons in Palo Alto, Cal.

The John Kitch family, 1032 S. Dunton, Saturday concluded two week's vacation that included Barbara, who was home from Boston on vacation with her parents. Barbara's stay was spent with the family at a cottage in Cable, Wis., then going with them for a 4-day visit with relatives in Cedar Rapids. She was accompanied from the east by Edward Young, also of Boston, who shared the family vacation in Wisconsin and the visit in Iowa. He and Barbara returned to Boston Saturday.

The William Patterson family returned to 1011 S. Dunton from a 3600-mile, 15-state tour a week ago Friday. They were in New York over the holiday weekend, then spent a restful week at a cottage on Cape Cod. The return route was planned to include sightseeing through many historic sites in the eastern and southeastern states.

THE RICHARD Peeke family returned Saturday to 13 S. Ridge, after a 2-week vacation in Florida. They left July 1, birthdate of Terry and Tommy, who were 6. A week later the twins' brother, Gary, became 2 in Hollywood, Fla., and all three celebrated at a family party which included the boys' grandparents, the M. E. Huhnkes of Chicago and uncle Jim Huhnke of Fort Lauderdale, with whom the Chicagoans were visiting. The route to Florida included a day in the Smoky mountains and after a week in Hollywood, the Peekes began an easy-paced return that allowed for visits at the Civil War battlefields. A reenactment of the battle of Chatanooga is now a daily occurrance at 13 S. Salem, Mrs. Peeke reports.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Myers, 403 E. Eastman, entertained last Wednesday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Van O. Alexander of Tucson, Ariz., who are visiting relatives in the Chicago area. Mrs. Alexander is the former Irene Joyner of Arlington Heights.

Echoing the welcome - back sentiments of the hosts were other local friends, the Marion Hogates, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schultheis, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gross and Mrs. Myers' sister, Mrs. William Jacob of Mendota.

Miss Doris Rudolph, daughter of the Walter Rudolphs, 421 S. Evergreen, and bride-elect of Lt. Arthur J. Lewis of Boston, was feted last Friday night at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Vernon Pingel, 422 S. Evergreen. Although the Pingels are across-the-street neighbors of the bride-to-be, 30 friends along the block managed to gather in the Pingel garden without the honored guest's knowledge, so the surprise was as planned.

Miss Rudolph and Lt. Lewis will be married Saturday afternoon in Faith Lutheran church of Arlington Heights with a reception immediately following in the church.

BRIDE-ELECT Miss Margo McAniff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McAniff, 1329 N. Dunton, was feted last Friday night at a personal shower given by Miss Pat Webster, 5 W. Olive. Local friends and the mother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom kept her occupied until a dozen guests were assembled to surprise her in the Webster home. Table decorations and a floral centerpiece were in orchid and white that was complemented by the soft pastels of her personal gifts.

Miss McAniff was recently given a miscellaneous shower by Mr. and Mrs. John Gura of Niles, parents of the bridegroom-to-be, Robert. To accommodate the 250 guests the surprise affair was given in a club in Chicago. The couple plans an August 20 wedding in St. James church of Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peterson, 207 N. Douglas, held open house Sunday for four of their five daughters visiting here from California, Michigan, Iowa and southern Illinois. Sixty local and Chicago friends and relatives greeted Mrs. Ronald Douglass and her family of Flint, Mich., the Dr. Ernest Sotrop family of Sandwich, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. David Hess of Des Moines and the David Cohens of Burbank, Cal. The Petersons' fifth daughter and husband, Maj. and Mrs. Richard Shriver of Mexico City, were unable to attend. It was the first time in current Peterson family history that nine first cousins and their children were together, and had the Shrivers been able to be here it would have reunited the five sisters for the first time in a decade.

The Sotrops weekended here, the Michigan members of the family left Tuesday after a 3-day stay, the Hesses are here for the week and the Californians leave tomorrow night after nine days with the Petersons.

MR. AND MRS. Keith Posselt and daughters, 302 W. Maple, entertained with a buffet supper Sunday for the Edward Carlyle, Lyle Huntley, Carl Mees, Thomas Conroy and C. H. Michaels families. The daughters in each family have been "buddy-buddy" for several years, and their parents have developed a mutual friendship through the youngsters' closeness. This year 30 people enjoyed the outdoor party.

A week ago Tuesday night Mrs. Posselt and Mrs. George Hawkins were co-hostesses at a neighborhood farewell party given by Mrs. R. H. Heberling for Mrs. Claude Chapin, 826 S. Chestnut. Among the 28 guests were Mrs. Chapin's mother, Mrs. Clifford Johnson of Rockford, and a former Arlington Heights neighbor of the Chapins, Mrs. Ray Travers now of Lansing, Ill. The party at 819 W. Fairview was a surprise to the guest of honor who will be leaving soon with her family for a new home in Springfield. Mrs. Chapin's friends presented her with a pole lamp that will recall Arlington Heights friends in the new home.

Mrs. Travers was accompanied here by her daughter, Lynn, who stayed for a week at the Earl Schmidt home, 724 S. Chestnut, enjoying a reunion with Luann. Mrs. Travers was an overnight guest of Mrs. Schmidt, returning last weekend to get Lynn and also take Luann back to Springfield for a week's stay.

THE MARK Rightmires' summer vacation sometimes spreads in all directions, and their 1960 endeavor was a case in point. Janet, a high school graduate this year, and Jim, new grade school graduate, had a 2-week vacation in Florida with their parents for graduation gifts. The tour of Daytona Beach, Miami Beach and Ft. Lauderdale began June 18, when Jean, nursery school grad, waved goodbye to the rest of the family and stayed at home to keep grandmother Mrs. Anna Adam company. Everyone was back home at 116 S. Walnut for the holiday weekend and then left for a week at a cottage on Lake Beulah, Wis. Grandmother Adam's packing was for an 8-day escorted Canadian cruise.

The Rightmires returned last Thursday and Mrs. Adam on Sunday, but by then Janet had taken off for a week with friends in Omaha.

The Carl Amberg family is home again at 612 S. Walnut after a recent 12-day stay at a resort in Sister Bay, Wis., where fishing, swimming and sunning was typical. Mrs. Amberg reports that the most strenuous thing she did was to get her picture taken for publication in the Door county "Resorter Reporter." An unusual beach hat caught the eye of the publication's roving photographer and presto! the Ambergs were in print.

Mrs. Robert Perschbacher, her daughter, Lisa, and her mother, Mrs. Ray Larsen of Chicago, returned last Friday night from a 10-day stay in Dallas with her brother and family, the Robert Beaches. Although the family reunion was fun, the heat in Texas was not, so Mrs. Perschbacher was happy to find the climate at 310 N. Derbyshire cool.

Mrs. Perschbacher missed a neighborhood farewell last Thursday afternoon for Mrs. M. M. Tappen, 406 N. Derbyshire, but was able to say goodbye when the Tappen family left Sunday for a new home in Irving, Texas, a suburb of Dallas. The party last Thursday was in the home of Mrs. Harold Jauch, 321 N. Derbyshire, and 12 neighbors had their final "coffee-and" with the guest of honor. Mrs. Tappen was presented with a tray engraved with the names of her Arlington Heights friends as a gift of remembrance.

THE EDWIN Johnson family, 1008 W. Miner, returned last Friday from a 2-week vacation in Slater, Colo., at the H-T Bar ranch, where they enjoyed a repeat of last year's stay. One of the Johnsons, Pete, had a birthday July 5 while on vacation. As far as Pete's concerned you can't beat turning 3 at a Colorado ranch. The family was impressed with a day's trip into Wyoming where they saw small herds of wild horses, government protected that comprised a sizable portion of the estimated 200 left in that wide, wild area.

Making a trip to Kenosha, Wis., Monday were four friends from the area, Mrs. A. Lundstrom, 721 N. Rand rd., Arlington Heights; Mrs. D. Periman, Palatine; Mrs. V. Koenig, Dundee, and Mrs. Lee Wendt, Libertyville. The women were guests at a housewarming party for Mr. and Mrs. William Clinge in Kenosha.

Kathleen and Patricia Day left Arlington Heights Monday for their home in Houston, Texas. The girls served as junior bridesmaids for their aunt, Sharon Monjeau, 315 N. State rd., in her wedding ceremony June 25, when she became Mrs. Edward Emery Jr. The girls spent six exciting weeks in Arlington, attending prenuptial parties and family reunions, in the area. They are former residents of Palatine and Lake Zurich.

Mrs. Ruth Monjeau, 315 N. State rd., her sister, Mrs. V. D. Biggs, and daughter, Virginia, both of DeMotte, Ind., made a trip to Cambridge and Lake Ripley, Wis., recently. They visited their aunt, Mrs. Genevieve Anderson, and toured the area, noting the many changes made since they had spent summers there. They found that a new park was built on the farmland which was once owned by their grandfather, Warren Potter. (A Family of the week . . . is that of Polly and George Herbert, who, with their children, George, 10, Sue Anne, 7, and Mike, 3, have resided at 1227 N. Chicago for almost five years. Polly and George have known each other most of their lives. Both were born and raised in Boston, Mass., and attended grade and high schools together. Following graduation from the latter, George entered the navy to serve during World War II, while Polly entered nurse's training school. After his discharge, George pursued his education; acquiring pre-legal training at Tuft college, followed by courses at Boston university law school. The Herberts courtship culminated in marriage 14 years ago and their arrival in Arlington Heights was the result of a transfer by the insurance firm for which George is employed as a lawyer.

This is their first home and both have entered into community affairs whole heartedly; being active parishioners of the First Presbyterian church and active participants in the Wilson school PTA. George is on the school board, having served both as president and secretary, and Polly has served in the capacity of treasurer of the PTA. George's one outside activity is his vital interest in Little League baseball, with which he has been connected the past four years, having served as a manager and presently as a coach. During the school season, one night a week is spent teaching a law course at De Paul university. Polly pursues her own hobbies of reading and sewing. Both enjoy music, with Polly expressing a liking for most anything, while George prefers jazz.

George and Sue Anne attend Wilson school. Also, George is a member of Little League and cub scouts and is learning to play the trumpet; while Sue Anne is a member of a bluebird group.

THE HERBERT family just returned from a week's vacation to Lake Chetek, where they rented a cottage and enjoyed relaxing, swimming, fishing and boating. They are presently hosts for a week to George's father, Alfred Herbert, and his nephew, Karl Herbert, both of Boston.

Dianne and Jack Trees, 1226 N. Race, were hosts last Saturday night to members of Dianne's bridge group and their husbands at a pitch-in barbecue supper. Among the guests were Sheila and Bob Lavender, Arlington Heights, and couples from Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights and visitors from Indianapolis.

Dianne's mother, Mrs. Edward Schneider, Indianapolis, arrived Sunday to spend a week with her daughter and family, which includes two grandchildren, Julie and Michael.

Sandy and Dave Yates, 1522 W. Oakton, and their children, Leslie, Lisa and David, were excited last Saturday as Sandy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sanders, Waukegan, and her sister and her family, the Roger Reeves, Pittsburgh, Cal., arrived to spend the day. It was the first time in nine years that Sandy had seen her sister, and, of course, the Yates children had never met their cousins, Randy and Mike. This reunion was followed by a family get together in Waukegan on Sunday. Monday, the Reeves family returned here for an overnight visit.

Doris and Ken Koser, 1327 N. Illinois, and their children, Kenny, Kathy and Jimmy, together with the Bob Zacharias family, Rolling Meadows, attended the barbecue supper at St. James Catholic church Saturday evening.

A BARBECUE party, complete with cake and ice cream, was held Sunday at the home of LaRue and Andy Reed, 1328 N. Yale, in honor of Andy and son, Tommy, whose birthdays were July 13 and July 10, respectively. Guests included the couple's other son, Danny, and Andy's mother, Mrs. Ann Reed, and sister, Carol Reed, both of Chicago.

Jane and Jim Coleman, 1411 Clarendon, and their children, Patricia, Colleen, Maureen and Michael, have been hosts to Jane's sister, Miss Catherine Hilaire, the past several days. She is on her way to Bethlehem, Pa., after spending a year of study in San Francisco. A thrill for the sisters over the weekend was the unexpected visit of their brother, Philip, who is returning to his teaching post in London, England, after a month's sojourn in Michigan.

Andrea and Ernest Honecker, 1342 N. Chicago, departed for their new home on the east coast last Thursday, where Ernest accepted a position with a law firm.

A buffet supper party on the patio was the order of the day last Friday, as Douglas, son of Joan and Richard Larson, 1245 N. Illinois, celebrated his second birthday. Lending assistance in blowing out the candles on his cake, decorated by Joan in a clown fashion, were his brother, Tommy, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nussey and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Larson, all of Chicago, and aunt, uncle and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Larson Jr. and Jack. The junior Larsons are Doug's godparents, as well.

Mrs. T. Olson of Minneapolis was welcomed last Sunday by her daughter and family, the Charles Marshalls, 1114 N. Race. Object of her attention this week were Charley, Jennifer, Jimmy and John, who wished grandma's stay could have been longer.

MRS. JOHN O'CONNELL, Ozone Park, N. Y., arrived the first of the month to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Margaret and John Noon, 1221 N. Chicago, and grandchildren, John Patrick, James and Jonathan, and to be present upon the arrival of her fourth grandchild. The Noons welcomed Margaret's aunt, Mrs. John Lind, and her children, John and Kenneth, also of Ozone Park, over the weekend. Mrs. Lind expects to lend Margaret a helping hand, as Mrs. O'Connell will return to her home at the end of the week.

Cake and ice cream were served at a family dinner party last Saturday at the home of Jeanne and Ray Parks, 1259 N. Wilke, as their daughter, Nancy, celebrated her fifth birthday that day. Sunday, the family, which includes a brother, Robert, and sisters, Susan and Judy, treated Nancy to dinner at Meadowdale, after which they watched the ice skating there. Then the children were treated to several rides at a kiddieland before calling it a day.

Monday night, Nancy's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Claire Liepitz, and aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Heidemann, all of Elgin, were present at a birthday celebration. Also included were cousins, Linda, Billy and Sally.

Mary and Dan Healy, 1329 N. Chicago, took their children, Danny, Mary Ann and Michael, to the St. James barbecue supper party last Saturday evening.

Among the many Terrace families to enjoy a good time at the above-mentioned affair were the Leslie Bangs, Richard Chases, William Hennemans, Ed Lussiers, Dick Frisbies, Raymond Browns, John Fairfields, Andy Reeds and the James Cateses.

A VACATION of almost two weeks was recently enjoyed by Pat and Bill Ross, 1252 N. Chicago, and their children, Billy and Cindy. First and foremost was the visit at home with Pat's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McNeil, Huntington, L. I., N. Y., where the agenda included relaxing, swimming in the ocean and enjoying the coastal sea food. There were several parties, barbecues and visits with friends and former neighbors. Enroute home, they stopped off at Murraysville, Pa., for an overnight visit with good friends, the Paul Daly family.

Charmaine Sayre, 1204 N. Race, and Phyllis Marshall, 1114 N. Race, co-hostessed a surprise baby shower last week for Shirley Vogtritter, 1208 N. Race. Among those admiring the balloon decorations and enjoying the punch, buffet service and crib decorated cake created by former neighbor, Barbara Poklen, Des Plaines, were Carol Narup, Carol Reed, Darlene Krug, Connie McBride, Edith Larson, Connie Dolejs, Jo Hult, aunt, Mrs. Marge Vogtritter, Chicago, and sister-in-law, Mrs. Donald Vogtritter, Mt. Prospect.

Guests at a luncheon party last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mary Ellen and Eugene Van de Merkt, 1231 N. Wilke, in honor of their son, Johnny, who was celebrating his seventh birthday, were Mark and Kenny Francis, John McCarn, Tommy Sayre and Boyd Francis. Also present were Johnny's brother, Larry, sister, Patty, and Linda Lechelt, the girls having assisted Mary Ellen with the games.

That evening, his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Patterson of Evanston, as well as another sister, Judy, and her husband, Harold Pease, Elgin, attended a family dinner party.

A SPLASH PARTY was held Monday afternoon in honor of Wayne, son of Regina and William Heise, 1222 N. Yale, who was 5. His brother, Gordon, Tommy and Nancy Ostler, Janet Pendleton, Mark and Kris Anderson, Robert and Paula Twilling, Danny Reed, Tommy and Bobby Lussier, and Jane Giuliani, Arlington Heights, enjoyed birthday cake and ice cream, were presented with boat favors and then enjoyed hours of play in the new pool.

Jeanne and Marvin Hayes, 1425 N. Chicago, and children, Richard and Shelley, just returned from a 10-day trip to Lake Chataqua, N. Y., which they spent with former neighbors, Paula and Bill Dean, and their sons, Jimmy and Bill. The Hayeses stopped off at their home in Cleveland, and from there all went on to the resort, where they enjoyed swimming, boating and fishing. Shelley, who was 4 July 13, was guest of honor at a dinner party, complete with birthday cake.

A dual birthday celebration was held at the home of Alice and Dick Brown, 1413 N. Chicago, last Saturday in the form of a family barbecue party in honor of Linda, who will be 7 July 26, and Susan, 2 July 9. Highlight was the Dandy Lion birthday cake, created by Alice. Admiring same were the girls' brother, Donald, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gylden, Chicago, and Mrs. Olive Jacobsen, Arlington Heights, and aunt, uncle and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. N. Gorniak, Glenn and Gail.

Marva and Bernhard Kuhl, 1518 Clarendon, and their daughters, Carol and Roxanne, have returned from a 2-week vacation trip to Three Lakes, Wis., where they stayed at the summer home of Bernhard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Kuhl, Chicago. Swimming and boating were enjoyed, but pride of the family is the 30-pound musky Bernhard caught, second largest fish caught in the area this season.

OTHER vacationers at home now are Cathy and Bill Gunnison, 1407 Clarendon, who, with their boys, Bobby, Scott and Mark, just returned from a 2-week trip that included visits to the Okefenokee swamp, where the boys sighted many alligators and other wild life, Daytona Beach, Fla., where the Gunnisons spent most of their time, having rented a house there for a week. A side trip was made to St. Augustine, where Cathy admired the prevalent Spanish architecture. They returned home by way of the Smoky mountains and stopped off at Lexington, Ky., to visit the Calumet farms. The boys enjoyed seeing such racing horses as Tim Tam. Last stop before home was at Dayton, where they visited former neighbors, Betty and Kelly Forsberg and family.

Marianne, daughter of Eileen and Raymond Brown, 1504 W. Oakton, celebrated her ninth birthday last Friday by entertaining her sister, Kathleen, Mary Kay Henneman, Felicity Frisbie, Kathy Barnes, Barbara Monti, and Kathleen Dunne at a luncheon party. The girls then enjoyed a scavenger hunt and games.

Marianne and her sister spent several days this week with their aunt, uncle and counsins, Mr. and Mrs. William Dolan and Terry and Billy in Chicago.

A unique note was added to the birthday celebration held a week ago today for Mary Jo, daughter of Jo and Les Rozdalovsky, 1321 N. Race, who was 4. Her guests, among whom were her sister, Shirley, Jimmy Kohler, Pamela and Patricia Chase, Susan Catlin and Robin Corley, brought their bicycles and the children decorated them with ribbons and streamers, after which they paraded around the block before settling down to indulge in birthday cake and ice cream. Each received a party hat and favor to take home.

The Rozdalovskys were hosts last week to Jo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph La Presti, Milwaukee, and over the weekend they welcomed a visit from her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ned LaPresti of Milwaukee. Shirley and Mary Jo have had much fun with their cousins, Laura and Linda, spending time at the park and having picnic suppers.

WHAT IS A PRESCRIPTION?

It looks like an ordinary piece of paper with writing you can't read, to get medicines that seem expensive.

Actually, a prescription is a passport to better health. Physicians study about ten years to be able to write one. Pharmacists study about five years to learn how to compound them. Drug firms sometimes spend millions to perfect the drugs in them. The few dollars all this knowledge costs saves you sickness-time and sometimes your life.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US WHEN YOU NEED A MEDICINE

Pick up your prescription if shopping near us, or let us deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Militarism Taken Seriously

Young World Traveler Picks Egypt As Global 'Hot Spot'

by NATALIE McKENZIE

(Second in Series)

Hottest spot of nationalism and militarism in the world today. That is how Marie Martin, the Northwest suburbs' youngest world traveler, describes Egypt.

Home of enchanting lore of early civilization is the country of hot desert and fertile Nile valley. Yet, the tempo of the country is intense as youths perform their compulsory military obligation.

The tightness of controls in the land of Nasser was vividly pointed out to Marie and her group of 21 traveling students last year when the one foreign student in their group had trouble.

He is Egyptian. His visa stipulated a stay in America. While here, he was able to join the tour sponsored by the North Central association of Colleges and Secondary schools. "And a wonderful addition he was," Marie said. But when he got to Egypt, officials there put the clamps on his getting out again.

THE TOUR WAS half over as the group of 28 was ready to move on to Istanbul. The Egyptian had no way to get out of his country. Officials thought he was trying to escape his military obligation by requesting extended travel privileges. Twenty-one students and six adult leaders moved on. Student number 22 was finally able to rejoin the troop -- three days late.

He had other stories to tell about Egyptian life, today. They take their militarism seriously. So much so that his brother who once failed to answer in field training got a hand grenade in the back. Another time live ammunition during their target practice was shot through his foot.

Egyptian enmity for the Jews is historic. It is a daily constant, vibrant force. The students were unable to interview Nasser, because one of the boys in their group is Jewish.

Sandwiching semester exams between tours of an Egyptian cotton factory and a side trip to Alexandria and the valley of the kings, Marie was able to absorb the feeling of the land.

"Nationalism is felt most strongly in the Port Said area," she said. "The part the British played in the Suez crisis will not soon be forgotten."

EXAMS WERE taken in each course the group studied. Included were French, biology, humanities, and social science.

Marie joked that naturally they couldn't transport their frogs for usual high school biology labs. Instead, their lessons were adapted to each country they visited. Included were practical aspects o the science like water supply, the population explosion. and birth control.

From Egypt, Marie, 18-year-old daughter of the Richard Martins, Mt. Prospect, went to Istanbul. "It is the real crossroads between East and West," she said. "We began to feel at home and wander about on our own. People looked like I always expected Russians to look -- fair, ruddy-complected, blond."

"I found the people of Istanbul rather lethargic," she said. "You learn in school about the importance of the city as the guardian of the Black Sea. The people realize this, but there is no high pressure or keen feeling among them."

HIGHLIGHT of the visit to Turkey was a trip to the imperial palace museum. "Jewels there make the British crown jewels look sick," she said. "They also have the most complete pottery collection in the world." From East and West the collection was gathered at the long peak of Constantinople's glory.

Also a country where poverty is a constant grind to the people. Istanbul is fiercely proud of her jewel wealth. Students wondered why some of the priceless gems weren't sold to better the plight of the people.

THEY LEARNED that the gem market for such prizes isn't really very good. Moreover, the peasants are so fierce in their love of the collection, they wouldn't part with it.

From the crossroads of East and West, students moved into the West for good. Athens was their first stop. With pressure of school lax for a minute, they enjoyed a trip to Menelaus' home. Greek tragedy was taught them by an actess, wife of the director who took a trip from her Swiss home to visit in Greece.

Highlight of their trip to Greece, Marie said, was a visit to a Greek amphitheater. Seated high in the structure, students could hear a piece of cellophane crumpled on the stage as though they were seated in the first row. An instructor had a portable phonograph, and before anyone knew what had happened, 22 American students were dancing.

"Greek ancients must have turned over in their graves," Marie fears.

ROME WAS TWO weeks of street wandering -- as students felt even more secure in the western world. It was intense Renaissance studies and fresh Italian men -- unabashed by their passes at Americans.

After Rome there was the magic of Venice. For Marie, it was a time of catching up, wandering by herself, and discovering the charm of back streets and ferries on the Grand Canal. Here she indulged in a pastime the students had cultivated in Rome. For their afternoon snack they munched dates. Site of the Venetian shopping expedition was the famed Rialto bridge.

Florence, the third Italian city on their itinerary is remembered by our world traveler as "cold, drizzly, and damp."

"Our pension was cold, drizzly, and you know what," Marie moaned. "We had no hot water or heat. Food at the table was cold and all the rest."

To escape this routine, a group would set out each day and return with as many varied kinds of salad greens and condiments as they could find. The result often was a grand concoction that was more than a meal. Cold ham, bits of fish, cheeses, and any odd find was added to the various greens enterprising teenagers came up with.

AWAY TO ALPINE splendor as a visit was paid to Geneva, Switzerland and Mt. Blanc. "The long neutrality of the country is reflected in its people," Marie commented. "If you want beauty of scene, Switzerland is fine. If you want life and gaiety and excitement and color, I love Paris."

Geneva holds memories, though, of the best pizza she has ever had anywhere. It is enhanced by a thin slice of ham broiled over the pizza at the very end of the baking process. Switzerland's gastronomic concoctions are unmatched anywhere so far as cheese fondue is concerned. For those who don't know, fondue is a spicy, gummy cheese substance, eaten by dunking bits of bread or cracker. Hearty wine is the perfect accompaniment, the tourists found.

60 Suburb Scouts At 5th Jamboree

Part of the thrill of 60 Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders of the Northwest Suburban council, Boy Scouts of America, will have in taking part in the Fifth National Jamboree is the tour that will be made en route to and returning from Colorado Springs, Colorado, site of the encampment.

Following a prejamboree training camp conducted July 8-9-10 (dates) at Camp Dan Beard near Wheeling, the jamboree party is preparing for its journey.

The local jamboree party will leave at 11:30 a.m., July 18, from Maine township high school, Potter and Dempster st., Park Ridge, to go to Colorado Springs by railroad.

Since the jamboree program is so full for its seven days, July 22 to July 28, sightseeing opportunities in the Colorado Springs area have been limited to three days before and following the jamboree.

THE LOCAL group had the choice of sixteen specific trips that could be made in one day or less from the jamboree grounds. The one selected will be a trip through the Rocky Mountains near Colorado Springs, with a stay-over on a cattle ranch in the mountains, with dinner on July 20, served "chuckwagon" style to the 60 participants from the Northwest Suburban council.

The following day, on their return to the Jamboree Site, all members of the group will have the opportunity to ride on a ski tow in the mountains. The entire group will return to the Jamboree Site in time to partake in the opening ceremonies on July 21.

FOLLOWING the closing ceremony at the jamboree Thursday evening, July 28, the local jamboree party will prepare for the homeward journey. They are to leave Colorado Springs on July 29, and arrive at Maine Township high school at approximately 10 a.m., Saturday, July 30.

The Northwest Suburban council is an active, participating member of the Des Plaines, Schiller Park and Suburban Community Chest; the Combined Chest and Council of Niles Township, the United Fund of Park Ridge, Inc., and the Barrington United Drive.

Milk Contract Is Awarded

Dean Milk co. has been awarded a contract to supply Arlington and Prospect high school with milk next year it was reported at a high school district 214 board meeting Monday.

The company's bid of .058 cents per one third quart was lowest of the six submitted.

Location Chosen For CTA Terminal

The CTA terminal for future rapid transit service in the Northwest expressway now will be located on a "substantial portion" of a 90-acre tract bounded by Higgins, Bryn Mawr, Cumberland, and East River road.

It's the third site selected by the CTA board, which dropped the first two selections rather than fight property owners who didn't want to give up their homes for a terminal and storage yard. The first was in the area of Foster and Central in the Jefferson Park community of Chicago. The second was south of Higgins and Canfield, near Park Ridge.

THE THIRD site is even closer to O'Hare International airport, the ultimate "end of the line" for the Northwest expressway transit route. The new location also is vacant.

When funds are available, the CTA plans to extend the Logan Square branch of the L route in the median strip of the expressway. The proposed bus-rapid transit terminal also would be improved with a park-and-ride lot for 3,000 to 4,000 cars.

Virgil E. Gunlock, board chairman, is empowered to negotiate for the purchase of the land.

Q. Is it really improper for the bridegroom's mother to give a shower in honor of her future daughter-in-law? I've heard pro and con on this and would appreciate your settling it.

A. The bridegroom's mother cannot properly give a shower for her son's future wife. The shower is usually given by one or more of her wedding attendants.

Q. When a host does the carving at the dinner table, does he serve the vegetables as well?

A. No; usually the host serves only the meat. The vegetable dishes are passed from hand to hand.

Q. When someone whom you have just met says, "I am very glad to have met you," isn't a smile in acknowledgement sufficient?

A. I think this would have a condescending air about it. It is much better to accompany that smile with a pleasant "Thank you."

RIDGE PARK

Mrs. G. S. Ross of Houston, Texas, arrived July 10 for an extended visit here with her son, Ernest, and his family, 818 N. Princeton.

Mary Jane Callahan was 10 Saturday and celebrated with eight girl friends at a party that began with swimming and concluded with a barbeque and games at her home, 1014 N. Ridge.

The James Lauers, 1020 N. Kennicott, returned Saturday from a busy week of visiting in Des Moines and White Bear Lake, Minn. They divided their time in Des Moines between Mr. Lauer's parents and Mrs. Lauer's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Menard. White Bear lake is the former home town of the Lauers and they had an "old home week" celebration with many old friends and former neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Dunn and Janice returned home to 930 N. Kennicott Saturday after a visit in New England and in Nova Scotia, where Mrs. Dunn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Smith, are in temporary residence. It was the first time in Nova Scotia for the Dunn family who remarked upon the quarter of a century lag in progress that was inconvenient, yet appealing. The lack of appeal was felt on many of the crude roads, which seem just right, however, for an area where oxen are still used to pull a plow through the rough terrain. The Dunns began their eastern tour in New York, then spent a few days visiting Mrs. Dunn's sister in Connecticut and her brother in Boston. They chose the long way to Smiths' current home town, Woods Harbor, driving around the Bay of Fundy. They ferried across the bay, a 6-hour trip, on their return to the states and enjoyed a leisurely and picturesque drive through the mountains of New Hampshire and Vermont on their homeward route.

THE C. A. KLIPPERTS, 1003 N. Fernandez, returned Saturday from a 9-day vacation in Tampa, Fla. They visited Mrs. Klippert's brother and family, the Robert Helds, sightseeing when the weather wasn't too hot and just relaxing when it was.

The John Banko family, 926 N. Patton, returned July 11 from a week's around-the-lake tour and a brief stay on Mackinac Island, Mich. The weather and scenery along the Wisconsin and Michigan lake shores combined to make a pleasant and relaxing seven days for them.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lurtz and Marge returned home to 909 N. Patton Sunday evening after a 2-week vacation at Three Lakes, Wis. They enjoyed the water sports, golfed, entertained relatives and were entertained and celebrated the Fourth of July holiday with the Eugene Frikers, also of N. Patton. Marge, water-ski club member, skied almost to her heart's content and her dad, an aqua-lunger, spent as much time under the surface as Marge did skimming over it. Mr. Lurtz' enthusiastic discovery that the bottom of the lake is covered with crabs added nothing to his wife's desire to go swimming. Mrs. Lurtz contended that she always did prefer golf courses, where the only crabs are the duffers who miss an easy putt.

Upon the Lurtzes return Sunday night, Mr. Lurtz's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Iacullo and son, arrived from St. Petersburg, Fla., for a brief stay before going into Chicago to visit the senior Mrs. Lurtz.

Johnny Koriath was 7 Sunday and took the rest of the family at 823 N. Kennicott out to dinner to celebrate the occasion.

Joe and Frank Nastol, 701 N. Kennicott, and Donna Erickson of Des Plaines were guests Sunday of Donna's sister, Sheri, at the Jewel Tea Co. annual employee's picnic in Jewel Park, Barrington.

Ardeth Paul, 1960 Millikin university graduate, was home from Decatur for the weekend with her parents at 815 W. Oakton. Mr. Paul, who had spent last week taking a business course at Ohio's Miami university, arrived Saturday in time for a reunion with his daughter. Ardeth is working in Decatur for the summer and will begin teaching in a Dixon school this fall.

The Richard Sorensen family, 943 N. Kaspar, returned Saturday morning from a 2-week camping vacation trip to Castle Rock lake in Wisconsin.

SHERWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. James Colvin, 1319 Watling, expect a pair of meandering, vacationing sons to return home early next week. Timothy flew to Denver early last week and was met by brother, Stephen, who had been attending the National Press Photographers convention in Rapid City, S. D. They drove to Los Angeles from Denver, with a stopover in Las Vegas enroute to California and a day in Mexico after they got there. There was also time and the opportunity to attend the Democratic national convention in Los Angeles and at last report the Colvin brothers intended to begin a leisurely motor trip home this midweek.

The J. E. Woods, 1106 Clarendon, recently returned from two weeks in Kingston and Salem, Mass. The children enjoyed daily swims in the ocean during the Kingston stay and Mrs. Woods visited her mother, Mrs. W. E. Hoyt, in Salem for a few days.

The W. W. Holloway family is home again at 1004 Oakton after a 10-day visit in Port Clinton, Ohio, where Mr. and Mrs. Holloway made their first home after their marriage. They enjoyed reuniting with friends and former neighbors of "the good old days." (A

Out-of town guests for three days last week at the home of Dorothy and Bob Agnes, 1503 W. Fremont, were Dorothy's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Bacin and four children from Worthington, Ohio. Although it was a short stay, they did manage to get in a trip to Hawthorn Mellody farm, which was a thrill to the children.

Virginia and Virgil Freeman, 301 N. Reuter, and their children, Laurie, Barbara and Tom, moved to California Tuesday; they plan to settle in the Los Angeles area.

Jean and Robert Mongrain, 1504 St. James, and their three children returned home Monday after a 2-week vacation in Michigan. They divided their time between staying at the home of Jean's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zwiefel, Marquette, and the home of Jean's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Kell, Sault Ste. Marie.

Susan, daughter of AS/Sgt. Earl and Mary Lou Beyer, celebrated her fourth birthday last Saturday at the home of her grandparents, Olive and Pat Moran, 1500 W. Freemont. Present were her cousins, Gregg, Danny, Michael, Debbie and Larry Moran, Patricia Van Bladel, and friends; Susan Caranci, Kathy and Bobby De Groot, and her aunts and uncles and Mr. and Mrs. R. Caranci. Her grandmother, Mrs. A. Beyer also dropped by. Doug Akerlund was unable to attend.

Complaints are being received about the excessive speeds of some motorists, especially on Fremont. (A

Baptist Ass'n Director To Speak Here Sunday

Dr. B. Myron Cedarholm, general director of the Conservative Baptist association of America, will speak at the First Baptist church of Arington Heights Sunday at 7 p.m. As general director, Dr. Cedarholm travels over 100,000 miles yearly in the United States ministering to the needs of local churchs and helping them establish new churches in needy areas.

The association, which has become one of the fastest growing religious groups in the United States, is a fellowship of independent, Bible-believing Baptist churches standing for the "faith which was once delivered unto the saints" and for the proclamation of the true Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ.

ONE OF THE outstanding features of this aggressive, back-to-the-Bible association which now numbers 1,300 churches, has been the establishment of scores of new churches in areas which have been without a true gospel witness. This planting of new churches continues, with surveys being made in new and expanding cities and new housing areas.

Dr. Cedarholm has been connected with the association since its inception 12 years ago, having left his pastorate at the Lehigh Avenue Baptist church of Philadelphia in order to become general director. He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, the Eastern Baptist Theological seminary and Princeton Theological seminary. The public is invited to attend this service. (A

Truck Business

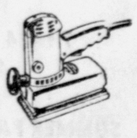
America's motor carriers showed a 13.1 per cent gain in tonnage hauled in 1959 over the previous year, sharpest increase since 1949.

Maintenance Made Easy

Let sandpaper share some of the home maintenance load this spring, and make the job even easier by using the sandpaper with the right accessories.

The disc sander is perhaps the most versatile of the sanding tools since it is light weight and can be carried about and used in a number of positions: overhead, close-in, at arm-length, etc. It is ideal for cleaning loose paint or finish off surfaces that are to be repainted, such as siding, picnic table, eaves troughs, overhangs, doors, and the like. A sponge rubber (no hole) back-up pad, six inches in diameter, offers full utilization of the sandpaper disc, and simplifies the sanding of contoured objects such as clothes poles, fence posts, bicycles, etc. The pad's resilience minimizes the possibility of gouging.

Oscillating sanders use sheets of sandpaper, and are ideal for putting fine finishes on flat surfaces, such as table and chest tops. Sandpaper to fit any oscillating machine can be cut from a standard 9" x 11" sheet (which is the most economical way to buy sandpaper). Oscillating machines do a good job of smoothing a rough surface; they are not designed for heavy stock removal.



Belt sanders are recommended when it's necessary to "hog" off a lot of stock, or remove a heavy buildup of paint or varnish. Some models are equipped with dust collectors, which save a lot of clean-up on inside jobs. Pre-made sandpaper belts are available for all belt sanders.

For all types of sanding jobs, the rubber hand block will produce fine finishes. There are precut sheets available to fit rubber sanding blocks, if desired. This block is found on the production lines of furniture and woodworking plants, and in every furniture refinish shop. It is a necessity for general sanding in the home.

What sandpaper to use? There is only one type of sandpaper that can be used all around; that is just as effective on wood as on metal, that can be used in the coarse grades for stock removal as well as in the finer grades for finishing. This is aluminum oxide sandpaper, often called "production" paper because of its wide use on industrial production lines. It is the only type of sandpaper recommended for machine sanding.

Production paper costs more per sheet than flint sandpaper, because it's better. It will outlast and outcut flint paper on any job, and do the job better in less time.

What grades to buy? There are five basic grades of sandpaper (very coarse, coarse, medium, fine, very fine) and it's nice to have them all on hand, for each has a particular use. However, three grades (coarse, medium, fine) serve as a good working base for a sandpaper stock. Others can be added as needed. These are all aluminum oxide grits, for general use. For the final finishing of wood or metal surfaces prior to or during the application of top coats, silicon carbide papers are available in three additional grades (very fine, extra fine and super fine).

Q. I have had several dates with a certain young man, and I think quite a lot of him. His birthday is approaching, and I'm wondering if it would be proper for me to give him a gift?

A. Properly, you should give this young man a gift only if you are engaged to him. Otherwise, a suitable card is the proper remembrance —or, perhaps, an invitation to dinner in your home in honor of his birthday.

Miniature Model-T Is Favorite 'Toy' of Boy

BUCK, THE BOXER, is timorous as he rides with his master in his half-size Model T. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tolf of 623 Country Club dr., Itasca, bought the car in Phoenix for their son, Rusty, driving the car, while they were on vacation in February. (A13 RUSTY TOLF'S Model T seen from the rear shows its four-cycle gasoline engine. That's Rusty driving and his friend Vernon Gauntt, riding. (A13

Half-Size Car—Dream Come True

The favorite toy of Edward Tolf, 10, of Itasca, is a 1910 Model T.

It's strictly legal, though, because Edward's Model T is a scale model, a half-size duplicate of the original Model T, complete with wooden-spoke wheels, crank handle and running-board brake handle.

Edward "Rusty" Tolf is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tolf, 623 Country Club dr., Itasca. Tolf is a captain for Trans-World Airlines. The reason for Edward's nickname becomes obvious when one sees his short-cut red hair.

Rusty's little car is the answer to a boy's dream. It lies in the same class as ponies, puppies, BB guns and baseball gloves.

All summer Itasca residents have been doing the "double take" upon seeing the miniature automobile moving down the street with modern cars three times its size.

IT WAS EARLY March that Rusty was ripping open the crate in which his car was shipped from Phoenix, Ariz. The Tolfs ordered it there while on vacation in February.

McDonough Power Equipment co., of McDonough, Ga., a company which manufactures power lawn mowers, builds the half-size Model Ts which it calls the model T-10 Torpedo.

Rusty's great pleasure is inviting his friends to ride with him. He has never been required to ask twice. Some of the friends who ride the Model T--it vibrates just like the original--are Vernon Gauntt, Chris Falkenberg, Glenn Mensching, Billy Carlsen, Timmy Wright and Jerry Eggert.

Buck, the Boxer pet of the family, was enticed into the car by Rusty's father. However, he lacked the courage to continue beyond a few feet and leaped out.

To a visitor who betrays interest in his car Rusty will point out the details--fiberglass fenders (a modern touch); two handles hinged to the steering wheel column for accelerating and shifting (only the accelerator operates); two red handles extending from the running board, one the brake and the other the forward-reverse shift; leaf-type springs, and the size 16 x 2.215 tube-type tires which are to be filled to 22 to 35 pounds pressure.

THE CAR, of course, is not an exact duplicate of the original Model T. Close examination reveals that the radiator is only painted on, the headlights do not contain bulbs and--the biggest difference--a four-cycle Briggs and Stratton gasoline engine provides the power.

The common story about the father who buys a model train set for his son's Christmas present and then plays with it himself more often than his son applies to the Tolf family too. In this case the model train is a Model T. Father takes pleasure in slipping behind the steering wheel evenings and "going for a spin." Sometimes mother goes along even though, Mrs. Tolf admits, "It's a tight fit."

Recently mother and father drove downtown, wheeled into a service station and nonchalantly bid the attendant to "Fill 'er up."

When Rusty drives his car down the street men often betray extreme curiosity about the origin and mechanical features of the diminutive Model T by hailing Rusty to ask if he needs a push.

WOMEN ARE less interested. They stare at the car and maybe turn around for a second look, but never stop to talk to Rusty.

When Mrs. Tolf drives the Model T by herself, though, the attitude of women observers changes abruptly. (There is nothing women are more interested in than other women.)

Mrs. Tolf was steering her son's car across Arlington Heights road when she encountered a car driven by an acquaintance. The lady not only stared with saucer eyes and craned her neck for a closer look, but actually stopped the car after she passed Mrs. Tolf, turned around in her seat and gaped.

ONE TIME Mrs. Tolf drove the car to North school to pick up her son at the end of the day.

"I felt like an idiot," says Mrs. Tolf; "but the children enjoyed it."

Rusty's favorite toy, then, is the favorite toy of the entire family. As such it is given the place of honor, parked alongside the Tolf's Cadillac in their two-car garage. (A13

The soul, too never dies. As life is passed from the living to the children of the living, so the soul passes from the life of this world, to the life beyond. And if we read the Bible prayerfully and with faith, we will become aware of the need for living a good and faithful life today. It is there we learn the penalty for sin, and about death, without first receiving Christ as our savior.

Good Life Cited As Big Necessity

LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

You have heard people say, "When we die, we've had it;" or, "I'll only live once, so I'm gonna live it up!"

Such expressions are the cliche justifications for doing things which nothing else can justify. They are the open door to doing everything from smoking too much, eating too much or drinking too much, to sin and debauchery.

NOTHING EVER really dies or is destroyed. There is only a transferrence of the elements. A tree derives nutrition from the earth, grows mighty and strong, completes its life span, dies, and again becomes the chemicals from which it derived its life and strength. It has transferred its essence from itself to its elements once more. Flowers, birds, animals, people, when they die, no longer exist as persons, or flowers, birds or people; but they do not cease to exist. And before they die, they pass on life to their offspring so that physical life never dies either, but is transferred from generation to generation.

MAN ALSO IS the only creature with a soul. He has a knowledge of right and wrong; and an instinctive yearning for union with goodness, and truth. Whether he is a savage or a scientist, he knows that there is a God and a spiritual side of life. Sometimes, men deny this,

Third Big Convention Going on This Week

Last week a great political convention was held in Los Angeles. Beginning Monday, the nation's attention will focus on Chicago as another example of our free form of government gets under way.

Yet we suddenly realized that there is a third great "convention" going on at this time.

This "convention" also has "delegates" from every corner of America. This convention also is a prime example of citizenship and democracy. This convention also is an indispensable force in shaping America's future.

This convention is the Fifth National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America.

This week, on the sloping hills that face the Rockies, 55,600 Boy Scouts are celebrating the 50th Anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America with a Golden Jubilee Jamboree — largest youth gathering the free world has ever known. Sixty Scouts and leaders are representing the Northwest Suburban Scout council in Colorado Springs, Colo.

SCOUTING has made great contributions in building succeeding generations of good citizens. As we think about the government and future of our country, we are proud to salute this great gathering of young men learning and living the principles that make this nation great.

This Fall, the Boy Scouts will conduct another great "Get - Out - the - Vote" campaign, designed not only to stimulate voting, but to teach tomorrow's voters, by active participation, the importance of our free voting privilege.

This huge effort will culminate with the Scouts in the hanging of a "Liberty Bell" vote reminder on every front doorknob in America — 40,000,000!

WITH SCOUTS learning such principles and ideals, we have every confidence in our nation's ability to weather any storms that may lie in the future.

The Northwest Suburban Council is an active, participating member of the Des Plaines, Schiller Park and Suburban Community Chest; the Combined Chest and Council of Niles Township, the United Fund of Park Ridge, Inc., and the Barrington United Drive.

Political Machinations

Election Pressure Destined To Affect Issues: Church

"The forthcoming session of Congress, resumed after the Democratic convention, promises to be the most difficult one that I have ever faced," says Congresswoman Marguerite Stitt Church.

Addressing an audience of 135 Republican leaders and guests at the first "Sherman Canty Night" last Saturday evening at Gunnell's restaurant, she asserted:

"Issues will be brought forth without regard to whether the money is available and if the bills are defeated the Democrats will cry, 'See, the Republicans have failed you.'

"Yes, that upcoming session will be as political as that.

"READ THE Democratic platform — a statement as long as it is exaggerated. I hope the American people will realize that there isn't one thing in that platform that a Democratic - controlled Congress couldn't have passed before the convention if it had wanted to.

"I have seen political machinations but never like I did when most of the Democratic senators decided they were running for President and when they dropped the nation's business in order to go campaigning."

Mrs. Church expressed the hope that the Republican platform will be "short, so we can recite it; unequivocal, so we can stand up for it."

"You are going to hear a lot from me regarding three words in the coming campaign," declared the Evanston congresswoman. She spelled them out:

"Responsibility — There must be both fiscal and moral responsibility in the candidates. Government, like an individual, must sometimes postpone buying something because it can't afford it.

"Balance — There must be balance between need and capacity to meet that need.

"Survival — I have no illusions. If we can't bring to the American people a sense of responsibility we will have failed our country.

"WHAT WE need is a tremendous rebirth of faith," said Mrs. Church. "I am an old-fashioned American who thinks I live in a great nation. I don't want a campaign based on fear.

"We must lift up our heads and be proud to be Republicans and Americans."

Mrs. Church declared that she never would have had the courage to run for Congress if it hadn't been for the persuasion of the late Commissioner William Busse of Mt. Prospect, many of whose friends and kin were at the dinner meeting, presided over by Edward Hofert, president of the Regular Republican organization of Elk Grove township.

COMMITTEEMAN Canty was praised for the work he had done in advancing Republicanism in the country towns and the 13th Congressional district of Illinois.

Among those present were Arthur Bidwill of River Forest, president pro tem of the Illinois senate and acting governor in the absence from Illinois of both Governor William G. Stratton and Lieutenant Governor John Chapman.

Other dignitaries included Representatives John W. Carroll of Park Ridge and Arthur E. Simmons of Skokie; Walter J. O'Brien, secretary of the Republican Towns' organization; Commissioner Fred Fulle of Des Plaines; and Illinois Attorney General Guild. (B8

Perpetration; a doing, especially of something bad morally. "It's a rare man who stops short after the perpetration of his first crime."

Contemptuous; disdainful; scornful. "He treats others with a contemptuous indifference."

Prospect Athletic Facilities Ready

Completion of new facilities at Prospect high school for football, basketball, track, and baseball is expected by September according to the school board of high school district 214.

The varsity football team, however, will continue to play at Arlington high school, since the district cannot afford to install lights at Prospect's field this year.

Business manager John Schaff reported to the board Monday that bleachers used at the recent trade fair on Navy Pier in Chicago had been purchased for Prospect's football field. Seating capacity of the bleachers is 2,200.

BASKETBALL games will be played in the field house this year instead of the gymnasium.

A low ceiling and small seating capacity made the gymnasium inadequate for varsity basketball games.

Roll-away bleachers, with a capacity of 2,200, are to be installed.

All the clay has been removed from the field house, which will house a new track consisting of a green, resilient material.

Clay was found to involve too big a maintenance problem. Coaches also felt that clay was a poor surface for physical recreation activities other than track.

TWO BASEBALL diamonds have been graded and seeded. Previously, Prospect played its home games at Lyons park.

Schaff also said that parking lot and entrance lights will be installed this summer at Prospect. (ACM

Iced Tea—A Summer Must

Looking for ideas for light summer luncheons to avoid giving your guests a heavy, logy feeling? Then try this combination of Shrimp a la King and iced tea.

When guests arrive hot, tired, wilted and travel-worn, there's nothing like a glass of iced tea to give them an immediate lift — refresh and relax them at the same time.

OF COURSE, it's important to make iced tea "just right" if you want it to perform these miracles. This fool proof recipe for 10-12 glasses of iced tea is guaranteed to result in the same full-bodied flavor and thirst-quenching quality every time you make it.

ICED TEA BY THE PITCHERFUL

Bring 1 quart of freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove it from the heat, and while it's still bubbling add 1/3 cup loose tea (or 15 teabags) at one time.

Brew tea four minutes. Stir and strain it into a pitcher holding an additional quart of cold water. (Do not refrigerate.) When ready to serve, pour into ice-filled glasses with lemon and sugar to taste.

TO AVOID dashing back and forth into the kitchen to prepare more iced tea, keep plenty on hand in a thermos picnic jug with a faucet.

To make four quarts, double the above recipe. When company arrives, just open the faucet to fill the pitcher or get a quick refreshing refill.

SHRIMP a la KING

(Makes 4-6 servings)

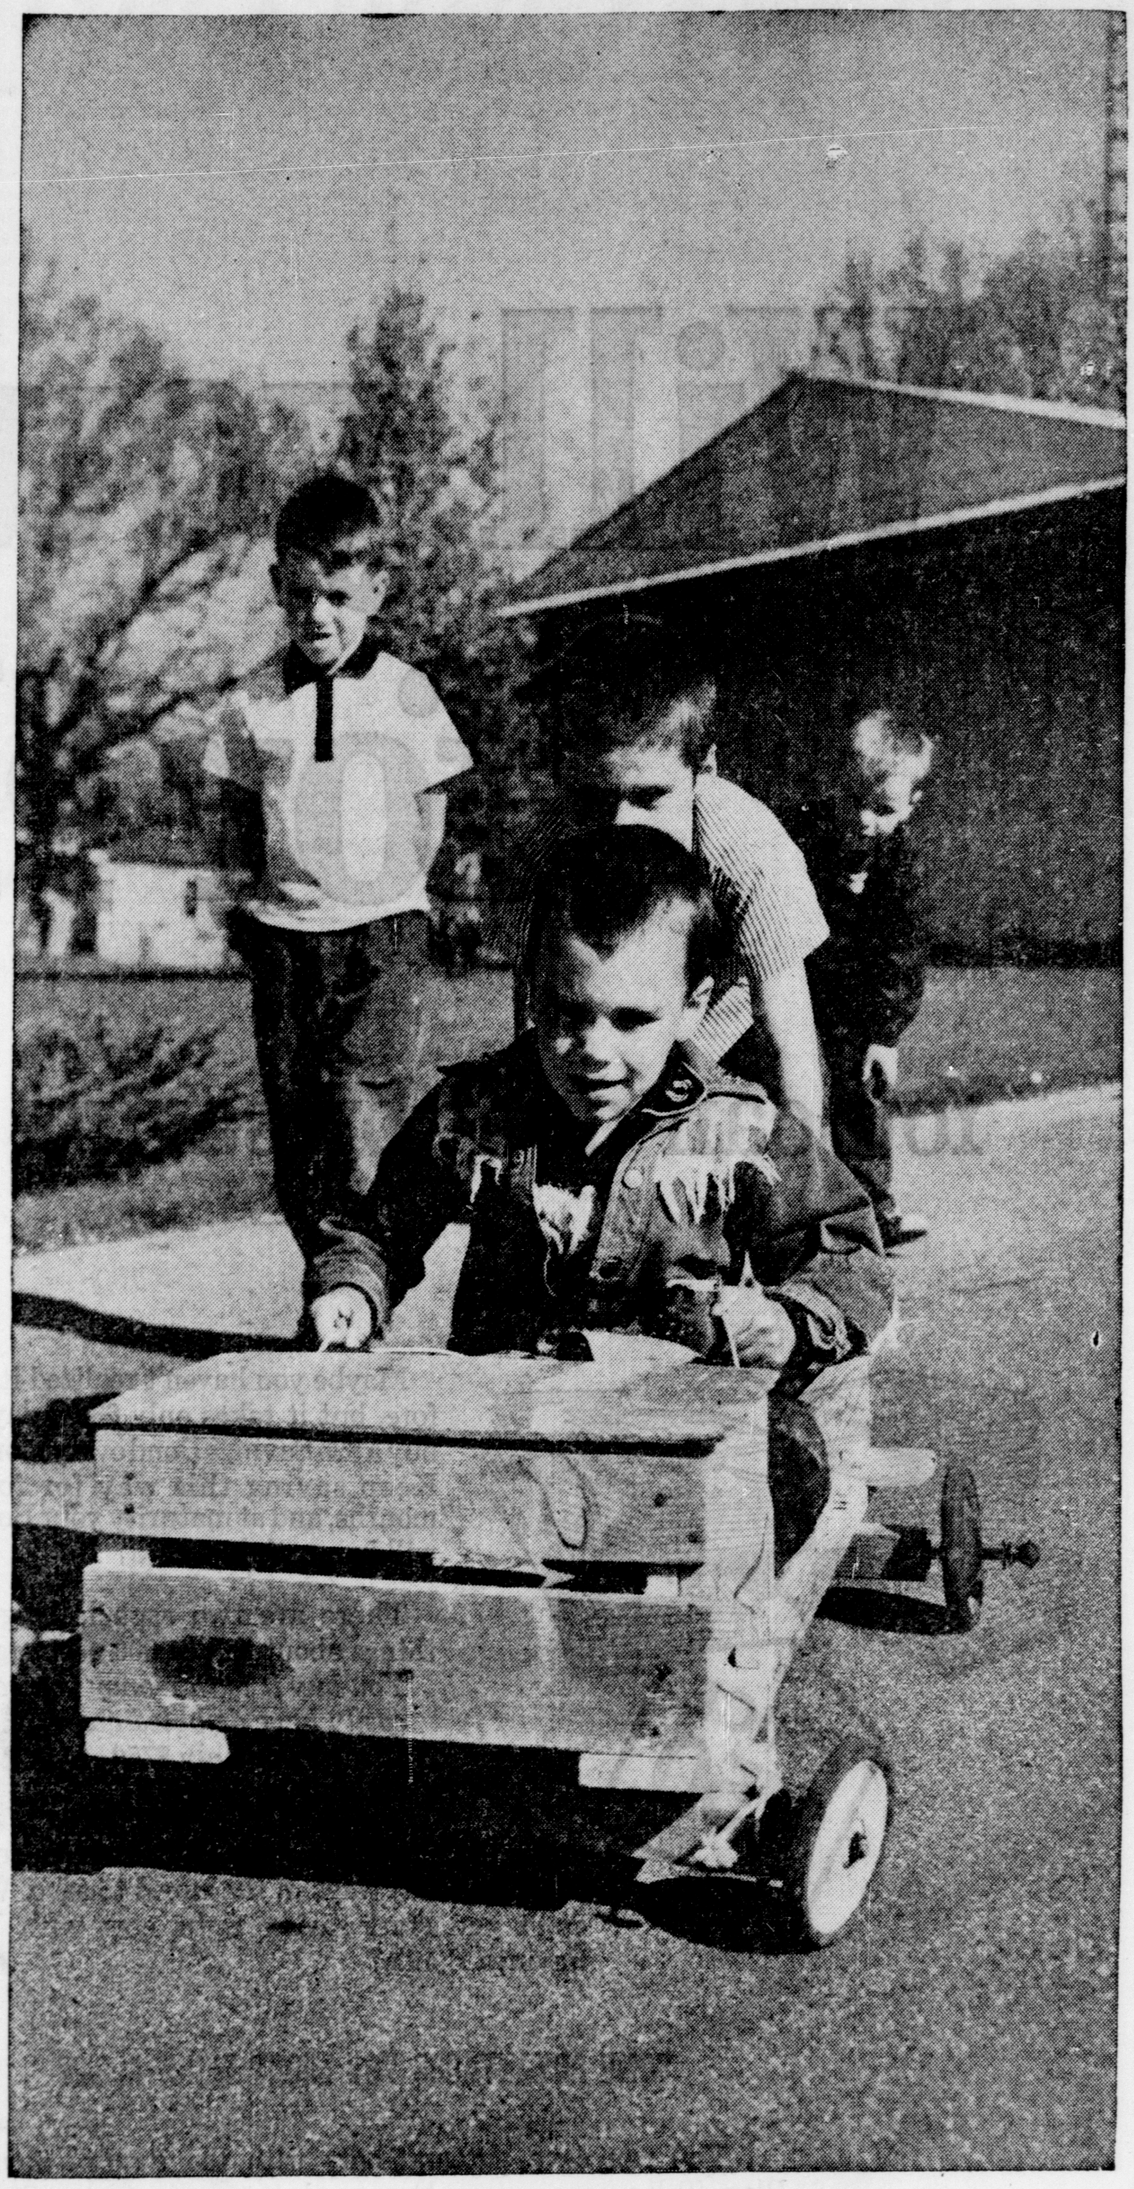
Melt 4 tablespoons butter in a saucepan. Add and saute ¼ cup each of the following ingredients: minced onions, sliced mushrooms, diced green pepper.

Stir in ¼ cup pimiento and 1 package defrosted, frozen shrimp cut into small pieces, ½ teaspoon salt and a dash of cayenne pepper. Cook about five minutes. Remove from heat. Blend in 2 tablespoons flour.

Combine 1 can defrosted frozen shrimp stew with 1 cup of milk. (If desired, add ¼ cup cooking sherry.) Gradually add to shrimp mixture in saucepan. Heat until thickened and ready to serve. Ladle portions onto waffles (defrosted, and toasted). (SH

The Space Race

The U. S. government is currently spending $8 billion in scientific and engineering research, 80 times more than the $100 million expended in 1940.



NEW WORLDS UNFOLD...

A good push, a little help from a hill, and the guys will get together for a few minor adjustments and another trial run. Miles to the gallon may be a question later, but now it's miles to the pair of shoes (just ask Mom) and the fascinating world of cars initiates some new members.

Fun . . . and good training, too. It's worth a few extra layers of shoe leather when a boy learns about the responsibility of owning a car, especially if you use this opportunity to teach him the safe driving rules that may save his life on a future highway. Encourage your boy to enjoy his new world of wheels and set a valuable example by observing the rules of safety yourself and by making sure the car you drive is a safe one. If you're in the market for a "good example" car, look in this week's Want Ads. You'll find lots to choose from.

Consumer Needs Got Top Plaza Priority

Initial Rentals Were Directed to Essentials

Consumer needs in terms of physical requirements —medical care, access to money, drugs and food—were provided for in the initial rentals of the Hoffman Plaza.

The tenants of the plaza's medical offices have now become an integral, well-accepted and warmly liked part of the area. Dr. I. H. Vazquez, general practitioner, and Dr. A. E. Waxler, dentist, were among the first medical men to serve the Hoffman medical center. Surgical care is now available through Dr. H. Richard Vasquez, obstetrical - Dr. R. E. Howell and oculist, Dr. Edward G. Fortier.

Conveniently near the medical offices is Snyder's Hoffman drug store. Just about everybody in Roselle knows Frank Snyder, who has operated a drug store in that village for 15 years. Just about everybody in the Hoffman Plaza now knows Bob Semmens, manager of the local store. Snyder's soda fountain and lunch counter seldom lacks for customers, filling the need for a local restaurant for tired shoppers, teen-agers and area businessmen.

THE HOFFMAN Estates Currency Exchange takes the place of post office and bank. Money orders, check-cashing and license applications are available here in addition to postage stamps.

Twenty-five delivery vans increase the daily traffic at the plaza and a portion of them unload produce, bread, meat and other grocery and household items at the Jewel food store. Steve Hilgard supervises the operation which employs 51 persons, most of them local residents. Fastest moving items in the grocery line, according to Steve, are produce and meats.

Merchandise shrewdness is shown on the part of the buyer as well as the seller at the Hoffman Plaza. Owners and managers reported consumers are quality conscious as well as thrifty.

LOCAL FEET are shod by Howard's Family Shoe store, whose owner, Howard Fine, is a semi-professional golfer and former automobile salesman. From his 50 ft. by 16 ft. floor-to-ceiling shelved stockroom he reports his best-seller is a moderate priced children's shoe.

Fine defended the female clientele when he denied validity of oft-repeated jokes depicting the ladies buying shoes two sizes too small. "People out here want comfort," he said, noting the most popular size woman's shoe is 7 to 7½ and listing size 9 to 10 as an average for men.

Eight of ten women in the Hoffman - Schaumburg area sew, according to drapery and yard goods shop owner Howard Turpin. His statistics were supported by Ben Franklin owner Robert H. Weise who plans on increasing the needlework department of the variety store.

SIGNIFICANT of the feeling of coming prosperity on the part of plaza merchants are Turpin's and Weise's plans for expansion. "The Fabrics of Fashion Shop" now offers a selection of 400 different drapery fabrics in addition to piece goods, patterns, notions, bedspreads, blinds and windowshades.

Turpin and his wife, Shirley, who estimate they each work an 85-hour week, now have plans for entering the "hard goods" (furniture) field and last week counted their first customer in this line who purchased two hide-a-beds.

The Ben Franklin store features more than 14,000 different items in the traditional five-and-dime style, does a booming business in parakeets, turtles and alligators and caters to children with a penny-candy counter. Owner Wiese announced tentative plans for expansion to offer a line of garden supplies including fertilizer, grass seeds and tools.

BREADWINNERS rank as important customers at the plaza. Men keep the operators of Bob's Barber Shop and Jupiter Cleaners from idleness. More than 400 heads of hair are shorn and more than 400 pairs of trousers cleaned and pressed weekly at these two establishments. Shirts, "hundreds of them," are the second big item at the cleaning shop which features one-hour and same-day services. Jupiter's is managed by Hoffman resident Mrs. Pauline Anderson.

Barber Bob Costante has added three chairs and three barbers since moving his shop to Hoffman from Roselle. His enthusiasm for his customers, many of whom he counts as personal friends, is best typified in his policy of "conversing with them when they seem to want conversation, otherwise I keep quiet, do my work and let them relax."

Barbering in the suburbs is far more pleasant than working in a down-town shop, according to Bob, fondly referred to by plaza business associates as "Jake, the barber." He says the days of vanity by bald-headed men looking for hair restorers are gone and confides that little boys' first haircut fears only last through two or three sessions.

MEN ARE the most prevalant customers at the Plaza Liquor store and the Shell Service station too. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Niemann, owners of the liquor store have survived their first year of retailing and list it as the first venture of this kind.

Like other plaza merchants, the Niemann's have noted a seasonal trend, even in the liquor line. "We sell more beer and gin in the summer and more wine in the winter," Mrs. Niemann said, adding that holidays are the busiest ti[illegible]

Arlington Nine Bolts Jr. Legion Ranks

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

THE GREATEST ATHLETE in the world is Rafer Johnson, giant Negro who won the Olympic decathlon in 1956 and two weeks ago broke the world record by 326 points in the Olympic trials at Eugene, Oregon. Up until Johnson's history making performance Vasily Kuznetsov of Russia held the world mark. Johnson, an uncertain competitor who had been out of competition a year due to a serious automobile accident, bettered the record in his first nine events. It should be a great event at Rome in September and Johnson may have greater competition from K. C. Yang, a Formosan athlete who is a student at UCLA, than from Kuznetsov. Yang bettered the world mark by 69 points but could not catch Johnson with whom he has worked out since training started for the Olympics.

The decathlon is a series of 10 track and field events in which athletes compete over a two day period intended to test speed, strength, endurance and coordination, and with these qualities a great deal of competitive spirit. The scoring is against a standard with 1,000 points the ultimate in an event and 10,000 the maximum for the 10 events. The events in this grueling competition are the 100 meter dash, the 400 meter run, the 1,500 meter run, the 110 meter high hurdles, the broad jump, high jump, pole vault, discus throw, shot put, and the javeline throw. Not only will the U. S. be represented at Rome with the best track team in our history but also by the greatest one man track team, Rafer Johnson.

THROUGH EVANS caddy scholarships 415 boys have found a way to obtain a college education in the 43 years these awards have been in existence. Monday night the founder of the caddy scholarship program was honored by the Western Golf association at a $70 a plate birthday dinner at the Conrad Hilton hotel. Chick Evans is one of Chicagoland's greatest athletes and greatest leader and promoter of amateur golf. At 70 he will play in his 48th consecutive National Amateur Golf Tourney in St. Louis this fall. He is the only golfer ever to win the National Amateur and the National Open in the same year (1916). He did it with a bag of just seven clubs which in those days and until the late nineteen thirties had names instead of numbers. Evans' seven hickory shafted clubs which won the big tournaments were the brassie, spoon, midiron, jigger, lofter, niblic and cleek.

BIG LENNIE ROHDE is off to the San Francisco Forty-Niner's training camp. Rohde graduated from Utah State in June in agriculture and he is going to make hay while the sun shine of athletic publicity is on him. Rohde was an All-Rocky Mountain Conference tackle the past two years and was high on the draft list of the professional Forty-Niners. We have written of Rohde many times in this column. He was the big, strong, awkward, farm boy who entered Palatine High eight years ago and could not go out for sports because of too many farm chores. Eventually his mother took over the chores so Lennie could play football and wrestle. Rohde won the state heavyweight wrestling championship and was undefeated in his senior year. As a high school soph he weighed 220 and stood 6'2". He now is 6'4" and tips the scales at 245 pounds, all bone and muscle. Our best wishes are with Palatine's greatest athlete as he goes into the toughest competition in American sport, professional football.

Oak Brook Schedules 2 Games

Two polo games, one in each of the two newly-formed midwestern leagues, will be played Sunday afternoon at Oak Brook, the polo capital of the world.

Play in the Interstate league will begin the day's festivities as Royal Palm of Boca Raton, Fla. squares off against a host Oak Brook team at 3 p.m.

Congress league competition will feature an evenly matched contest between Oak Brook-Solo Cup and Kraml Dairy at 4:30, immediately following presentation of awards to winners of the opener.

ACTUALLY, due to inclement weather earlier in the season, Sunday's second game will be the first official Congress league game. The teams have played before, however, both having been entered in the U. S. Central Circuit tournament played last week at Oak Brook.

The Interstate league will be played through August 7, when a champion will be decided. Teams entered in that league will then be released to enter America's three top polo tournaments; the U. S. 20-Goal, U. S. National Open; and the Butler National Handicap.

Tip-In Humbles North Five

A tip-in with just two seconds showing on the clock gave the South a thrilling 64-62 victory in the North-South High School All-Star basketball game Saturday night at Champaign.

Six foot-three inch Rick LoPossa of Pekin beat back the towering favorites from the North just before the final buzzer with a leaping slap at a loose ball.

Saturday's contest was the first following a 12-year lull that climaxed the sports segment of Champaign's Centennial.

Selected as outstanding participants of Saturday's battle were George Wilson of Marshall (Chicago), Jerry Sloan of McLeansboro, Stan Luechtefeld of Okawville, Rich Falk of Galva and Don Brooks of East St. Loui

Braves Clinch Second Round Title

The Braves clinched the second round championship of the Elk Grove Village Little League with a 4-3 win over the Yankees last week.

Dwayne Hall scored three runs for the Braves and pitched the first three innings allowing one run.

A fine catch by left fielder Dave Bennett with the bases loaded got Hall out of trouble in the third inning.

Hall was relieved by Robert Rogowski, who pitched the last three innings and picked up the decision. DeBerge took the loss.

HEADS UP play by Brave infielders Smiley Donkowski, Gary Rogowski and Jim Maroni choked off a Yankee threat in the last inning.

The Yankees scored twice in the top of the sixth, coming within one run of victory.

Crum doubled twice for the losers and D. Hall once for the winners.

In other action, the Indians came from behind to tie the Sox in the sixth inning and went on to win 6-4 in the seventh.

Jim Rennack received the decision, with Mike Russell taking the defeat.

BISCHOF DOUBLED twice for the Sox, and Rennack, Strey, and Nemmers each doubled for the Indians.

The Dodgers squeaked by the Sox, 7-6, in a see-saw battle.

Trailing 5-1 after one inning, the Dodgers came back with five runs in the third. The Sox put single tallies across in the fourth and fifth to take the lead, but the Dodgers scored twice in the bottom of the fifth to cinch the victory.

McMilliam homered and Markel, Schnell, and Arquilla doubled for the Dodgers. Losing pitcher Courtright and Russell had two base knocks for the Sox.

The IGA Yankees scored five in the second and four in the third to blast the Dodgers, 14-4.

Tri-Color Dominates Big Six

Tri-Color Farms accounted for every Open Jumping championship in the Big Six of midwest horse shows recently completed.

Included in this group were five of six $1,000 stake events. Tri-Color retired the U.S. Equestrian Trophy by winning it for the third time.

Racking up the string of victories were Ruth Engel (rider) and George W. Jayne (trainer).

Mt. Prospect Remains As Only Legion Entry

As last week's storm clouds clear from the Ninth District Junior Legion horizon, only one area team remains in active competition.

Arlington's sudden withdrawal from the Legion program coupled with the District's decision that Rolling Meadows had not complied with the proper entry procedures leaves only Mount Prospect as the standard-bearer for this area.

Nevertheless, the Prospect nine recovered from last week's temporary collapse to move into a three-cornered deadlock for the title with Park Ridge and Des Plaines as the regular season drew to a close.

FRED LUSSOW'S triple in the fifth gave Gus Holzrichter's boys a hard fought 4-3 win over Edison Park last Wednesday.

Prospect had earlier witnessed a 3-0 lead evaporate under an Edison Park three-run onslaught in the fourth.

Tom Polzin walked to lead off Mt. Prospect's third. Wayne Lundstrom singled Polzin around to third and scored along with the former and Lussow on a pair of miscues by Edison's Art Paul and Johnson.

ERRORS BY Mark Thorne and Chuck Staral opened the gates for Edison's three runs in the following frame.

Polzin fanned seven to rack up the victory on the hill for Prospect. Regepoulos took the loss.

Edison Park	000	300	0—3 6 3
Mt. Prospect	003	010	x—4 5 3

PALATINE edged to an early 1-0 lead Saturday but timely Prospect hitting paced the league-leaders to a 3-1 win.

A bobble by second sacker Bob Glaser on Rick Foster's sharply hit grounder opened the door to the loser's only tally in the second. Don Hicks delivered the run-producing hit, a single to left center.

Mt. Prospect winning moundsman Ron Schaeffer walked to open the third and carried home the tying counter on Fred Empkie's two-bagger.

Dave Palmer's double scoring George Pomey gave the winners the lead for good in the sixth.

Schaeffer boomed a double to score Glaser with an insurance run in the seventh.

Mt. Prospect	001	001	1—3 6 1
Palatine	010	000	0—1 2 0

* * *

MT. PROSPECT picked up a practice tilt victory by a 5-4 margin over Evanston Sunday.

Rolling Meadows notched its first two wins of the season without even taking the field. The victories were provided by the belligerent Arlington nine in the form of forfeits.

Palatine slapped down Dave Lynk's Arlington outfit by a 4-1 count in a game that was to have counted in the Ninth District standings.

THE FERNSTROMS managed only six scattered hits off Palatine ace Jack Nelson who racked up his third triumph of the year (Palatine has only won four).

The victors decided the issue early with a pair of runs in the first round. Nelson himself knocked these across with a solid single.

Palatine notched two more in the third on walks to Ken O'Rielly and Bob MacAfee and singles by Hicks and Nelson.

Ross Retterer whacked a double to score Tim O'Gorman with the losers' only run of the fracas.

Palatine	202	000	0—4 5 0
Arlington	000	100	0—1 6-1

IN ANOTHER exhibition played last Sunday, Jack Lane fired a one-hitter to lead Arlington to a 3-1 victory over Evanston.

Only hit off Lane was a single by Hall in the second inning although the losers did notch a run in the first on a walk, stolen base and Greg Beckway's error.

Lane set the Evanston nine down in order after the second while his mates picked up a run in the third and a pair in the fifth to decide the issue.

O'Gorman singled and stole second to open Arlington's half of the third. Gene Dahlquist fanned but Witt lofted a triple to right center scoring O'Gorman.

Ken Leyden's two-bagger and singles by Koeppen, Retterer and O'Gorman accounted for the winners' final two tallies.

Pitches No-Hitter And Loses!

Uusally, a pitcher expects to be credited with a victory when he goes to the trouble of hurling a no-hitter.

But who would have ever thought that the opposing moundsman would also serve up one of those rare masterpieces, and hold you scoreless besides, to send you plummetting to defeat?

Certainly Mike Girmscheid figured he had wrapped up his fourth no-hit decision of the year, quite a fete by the Mundelein Little Leaguer, but Gary Siegel had other ideas and brought his control along to back him up.

Siegel and the Mundelein Businessmen nine rolled to a 4-0 win over Grimscheid's Americana outfit.

$100,000 Classic Draws Top Field

One of the biggest weeks in Midwestern thoroughbred racing is on tap as Arlington Park presents one of its traditional blue ribbon stakes attractions -- the $100,000 added Arlington Classic for three-year-olds.

As per usual, a sparkling roster of the nation's top three-year-old contenders, has been nominated for the Classic, including Kentucky Derby winner Venetian Way and Preakness champ Bally Ache, although the latter may have to await the American Derby before seeing action in the Chicago area.

Venetian Way and jockey Eddie Arcaro, who has agreed to ride the Royal Coinage sophomore in all his starts this summer, will rule a solid choice in the famous Classic mile. Winner of last year's Washington Park Futurity, in which he trimmed Bally Ache, Venetian Way made a smashing comeback as recently as two weeks ago with a clever triumph in the 1 1-8 miles Warren Wright Memorial at Washington Park, tying the track standard for the distance.

VENETIAN WAY, however, won't find the classic a walkover. A strong field is being assembled to slow down his drive to reestablish himself as America's leading three-year-old. Llangollen Farm's Divine Comedy already is on the grounds fresh from a victory in New York's Saranac Handicap, while Ralph Lowe's New Policy and C. R. Mac Stable's T. V. Lark, two of California's three-year-old sensations are candidates for the Classic.

Calumet Farm's Pied d'Or and Hillsborough also are eligible for the 1960 Classic run. Pied d'Or may prove the stable's mainstay. The Nasrullah three-year-old has now won two straight allowance sprints and demonstrated courage and class in repulsing a good field here last Monday.

Among other top Classic eligibles are Mrs. Mary Keim's Heroshogala, second in the Chicagoan and third in the Wright; Pebblebrook Farm's stretch-running Irish Lancer, and Merrick Stables John William, winner of the $100,000 Withers Mile.

Harbor View Farm's Francis S. is another Classic possibility while Wilson and Hull Jr.'s Farm to Market has begun preparations for the week end attraction.

Prospect Nine Fights For Title

by DICK GOTTSEGEN

Directing a tirade of protest at league officials, Coach Dave Lynk unofficially withdrew Arlington Heights from all future Ninth District Junior American Legion competition, effective immediately.

Rebelling against a lengthy string of incidents of "biased officiating" in which the Fernstrom entry has continually received a "raw deal," Lynk delivered a signed note to Ninth District director John Michaelson outlining his withdrawal intentions.

Michaelson's only comment on the matter consisted primarily of a vote of confidence to chief umpire Norbert Hope.

OFFICIAL action on Lynk's move will be taken at the regular meeting of the Arlington Heights American Legion July 26.

The question of what will happen to Arlington's summer baseball program naturally arises with this turn of events. Lynk proposed this solution:

"Arlington will engage in a free lance program of competition for the remainder of this season that will bring some of the finest baseball, formerly restricted by Legion competition, to this area."

IN ACCORDANCE with this plan, Lynk has already scheduled games at Oak Park today (Thursday) and with either Berwyn or LaGrange Saturday. If Oak Park is not involved in Legion playoffs, it will travel to Arlington for a twinbill with the Fernstrom nine Sunday.

Meanwhile Mt. Prospect, Park Ridge and Des Plaines in a meeting last week decided to revise their schedule which permitted the three entries to complete their slates.

When the smoke finally cleared after last week's session, the three leaders wound up in a deadlock for the Ninth District crown.

IN PLAYOFF action, Mt. Prospect, who drew a first round bye, will meet the winner of Wednesday's Park Ridge-Des Plaines battle. Site of the game will be determined by a flip of the coin. Information may be obtained by calling the Pro Sports Center at CL 5-5551.

The emerging Ninth District titlest will meet the Fifth District winner in a best of three series beginning Saturday at the Ninth winner's field. Sunday's game will be played on the Fifth District diamond with the site of Monday's tilt, if needed, to be decided by a flip of a coin.

Oak Park and Broadview are currently deadlocked for the Fifth District lead with Berwyn a scant game back.

THE WINNER of the Ninth-Fifth Districts clash will vie for the First Division title at Chicago Heights next weekend.

Only regularly scheduled game thus far slated for next week finds Palatine at Edison Park in a make-up contest.

Rolling Meadows picked up its first two wins of the season without even taking the field. The victories were in the form of forfeits from Arlington.

Rolling Meadows still has games to be made up with Palatine, Edison Park and Northlake that have not as yet been re-scheduled.

Arlington Swimmers Beaten!

Arlington Heights Park District swimming team battled undefeated Park Ridge last Thursday night and came out on the short end of a 261-187 score. It was the first loss of the season for the Arlington swimmers.

The Arlington team also met Belvidere Tuesday after this paper went to press. The swimmers meet Barrington tonight (Thursday) and Des Plaines Tuesday. Both meets are at Pioneer pool and will begin at 7 p.m.

Swimmers capturing first places against Park Ridge were Cindy Miller, Todd Behrens, Barbara Johnson, Barbara Raasch, Bill Raasch, Marg Dalton, Roger Fredrickson, Bonnie Luster, Dick Leckband, Joann Keppen, Margo Hauff, David Wollerman and Bob Brown.

Marg Dalton was especially outstanding, winning the 13 and 14-year-old girls' freestyle, breaststroke, butterfly, and anchoring the winning relay for that age group.

MSU Hosts Largest Ice School

Michigan State is hosting the largest summer ice school in the U. S. and Canada at its ice arena.

Nearly 150 skaters are enrolled in the 12th session sponsored by the Lansing Skating club and sanctioned by the United States Figure Skaters association.

Among the enrollees are Nancy and Bruce Heiss of Ozone Park, N. Y., who are sister and brother of Carol Heiss, a 1960 Olympic Women's title holder.

NANCY, A member of the U. S. World Team for three years, is a student at Michigan State.

Carol, who has turned professional, is expected to take part in two of the three ice shows that are presented in junction with the summer session.

It is the sixth year for the Heiss' at the MSU ice facilities.

DON JACKSON of Oshawa, Ont., who placed second in the Winter Olympics for Canada in the men's division and who is Canada's junior and senior skating champion, is at the session. An American star in action is Detroiter Doug Ramsey, a national and Mid-West champ.

Bradley P. Lord, Swampscott, Mass., a member of the 1960 U. S. World Team, also is training here.

The skaters learn more at the summer session than they do in competition all winter, Wold pointed out, because they have more time to concentrate on developing new techniques.

Choice Wins Pair For Lead

Peoples Choice moved into first place in the Rolling Meadows Softball league by virtue of a pair of wins over Bender Reiger. The first game was 13-12.

It took extra innings for the second game to be decided with Peoples Choice coming out on top of a 9-8 score. Willie Meyers was the hitting and defensive star for the winners.

Sigwalt defeated Hawk by the score of 20-10. Hitting for Sigwalt was Bob Beramarie. Good defensive play by Bob Cooley and Chuck Kelly aided the winners.

Mell and Paul's Restaurant were not scheduled.

Both no-hitters were spun in the Southside Juniors league.

McDougall of the Padres blasted a grand slam home run as well as pitching his second no-hitter in two weeks, a 29-1 win over the Beavers.

He held the Angels hitless last week, and also clouted a grand slammer that game.

Although the opposition scored six runs, Merkel and Foreman combined for a three inning no-hitter in the Atoms 16-6 defeat of the Colts.

The Bears were credited with a triple play in a game they lost to the Lions, 8-3, in Senior league action. In the first inning the Lions had two runners on base when Basas flied to right field. Jasper was out, trying to score from third, and Cordaro was caught in a rundown.

Blues of the Northside Juniors were the victims of the 39 run outburst by the Larks last week.

In a five inning game the last place Lancers were charged with 16 errors in a 15-12 loss to the first place Colonels in Northside Intermediate play.

IN SENIOR league activity, the Lions, sparked by the hitting of Bob Cordaro, forged into a first place tie with the Indians with four straight conquests.

Cordaro slashed out three hits, raising his average to 653 for 14 games, in the Lions 18-4 win over the Browns.

Also playing a big part in the Lions' 20-hit attack were Osterman, who drove in six runs with four hits, and Roy Woodruff, who had three hits. Woodruff was the winning pitcher.

BEHIND THE three-hit pitching of Martin, the Lions bested the Hawks, 7-1. Woodruff's triple was the only extra base hit. Mueller was charged with the defeat.

The Indians won two and tied one. Playing a doubleheader, the Indians defeated the Bears, 12-1, and tied, 9-9 in seven innings.

Home runs by Ewart and Carlson and Kroll's two hit pitching led the Indians in the first game. The Bears knotted the second game in the sixth inning with a four-run rally, after the Indians had scored their runs in the first two innings.

Sass slammed a home run and triple for the Bears. Chuck Close hit a four-bagger for the Indians. Gow went all the way for the Indians and Reising for the Bears.

MURPHY threw a five-hit shut out as the Indians took the Hawks, 2-0. Gow doubled in both runs in the third inning.

The Hawks loaded the bases with nobody out in the last inning, but Murphy retired the side.

Brodnan pitched a two-hitter in the Hawks 6-0 win over the Red Legs. A five-run rally by the Browns in the fifth inning enabled Rosholt to pick up a 7-4 win over the Bears. Fitzpatrick was charged with the loss.

IN SOUTHSIDE Major play the Yankees took two one-run games to tighten their grip on first place. They now lead the three second place teams, the Athletics, White Sox, and Red Sox, by one and a half games.

Rick Whiteman hit a triple and two singles for the Yankees. Bashleben was credited with the victory, and Mueller the lost.

Whiteman bested MacBorgan of the White Sox in a 4-3 Yankee win.

THE ATHLETICS won two straight games, besting the Red Sox, 8-1, and the Tigers, 13-5.

Bill Tuteberg of the Athletics socked a home run against the Red Sox in the third inning. He doubled in the first inning, and stole third and home. Buddy Benck tripled for the Athletics.

Robinson, with help from Luber, got the win. Kabat suffered the defeat.

Hoppie bested Mayfield in the Red Sox 7-3 victory over the Senators.

IN VARSITY league competition the Eagles lost their first game, 12-7 to the Falcons, but held on to first place.

Becker slammed two homers for the Eagles in their futile effort against the Falcons. The Falcons took advantage of nine Eagle errors, scoring 12 runs on three hits, to give Horcher the win.

Before that, the Eagles, behind the four-hit pitching of Tossi, made the Orioles their fifth straight victims in a 13-1 game.

The Vikings, first half champions, drew within one game of first place by taking a forfeit win over the Phillies and a 11-8 decision over the Rams.

Although outhit, 17-8, the Vikings took advantage of four Ram errors and timely hitting by Johnson to chalk up a 11-8 victory.

Johnson doubled and homered to drive in four runs. For the Rams, Grass drove in four runs with four hits. O'Keefe tripled for the losers.

Frank Chambers was four for four, scoring three runs and driving in four, to lead the Rams to a 10-7 decision over the Falcons.

Grass and Christianson tripled for the Rams. Galyon was the winning pitcher, and Rigsby the loser.

The Phillies also forfeited to the Orioles, but came back with a full team two days later to stun them, 16-2.

Eleven runs in the first inning and the two-hit pitching of Meyn carried the Phillies past the Orioles.

First half play in the Northside Intermediate league ended in a three way first place tie between the Colonels, Red Birds, and Saints. The Bruins and Colonels have taken the lead in second half competition.

THE SAINTS, in second place, scored a run in the sixth to squeak by the Doves, 7-6. Home runs were hit by Kieck for the Saints and Murant of the Doves. Frase was the winning pitcher.

In other action, the Colonels beat the Hornets, 9-1; the Red Birds defeated the Bruins, 9-8; and the Mohawks took the Broncs, 9-6.

First half make-up action saw the Colonels win two games to ease into the three way tie for first.

In the game in which the Lancers committed 16 miscues, the Colonels scored in every inning and won despite 10 Lancer markers in the fourth inning.

HOME RUNS by Spry and Saflorski led the seven-hit Colonel attack. Janis and Schneider each contributed three hits to the Lancer's eight hit total. Schneider tripled with the bases loaded throwing a five-hitter against the Seals, Brady barely held on against the Solons.

The Solons scored seven runs in the last two innings to come within one run of victory. For the Solons, Gadyon homered and Wilely and McInnes tripled. Brady socked two triples, Gorman a double and triple, Bublitz a triple, and Syndin a triple for the Huskies.

Tomei allowed five hits against the Stars. He received plenty of support in the win over the Ravens, including a home run by Pitts.

The second place Dons won four straight, taking the Stars, 11-6; the Solons, 6-5; the Seals, 19-4; and the hapless Ravens, 28-18.

Pugkas bested Accardo in the 11-6 decision over the Stars.

McInnes struck out with the bases loaded and two out in the bottom of the sixth inning to kill off a Solon rally.

Home runs were hit by McDonald of the Dons and Herigodt of the Solons, who also tripled. Blackman received the win, and Galyon the loss.

Scoring in every inning, with seven-run rallies in the third and fifth, the Dons ran up a 19-4 margin over the Seals. Stanfield was the winning pitcher.

Coats threw a one-hitter for the Terriers against the Stars, striking out 12 in a 23-1 triumph. An 11 run third inning was the big blast for the Terriers.

Coats also led the winners batting attack with two home runs, a double, and single. Lee Brown homered and doubled for the Terriers.

Scott Brown slammed a home run to back up Romme's six hit pitching in the Terriers' 13-4 victory over the Ravens.

Ravens' pitching staff allowed over 25 runs in a game for the third time last week when they received a 26-18 setback at the hands of the Stars. Heath gained the win.

Seals took the first half championship by blasting the Huskies, 15-5. Withey smashed a homer and was the winning pitcher. Brady's bases loaded home run for the Huskies in the sixth inning was not enough to overcome the Huskies' 16 hit attack.

NORTHSIDE Junior action saw Mike Brophy of the Larks allow one hit and five runs against the Blues, who could not do anything in the field as well as at bat.

The Larks smashed Blue pitchers for 39 runs, including a double, triple, and home run by Reed, and four hits by Haag. Brophy scored six runs.

'Sox consolidated their hold on first place by taking the second place Gulls, 10-5. Harding slashed a triple with the bases loaded to back up Bilinski's pitching.

Ross of the Bisons was credited with an 8-7 decision over the Robins.

Home runs by McNamara, Hogan, and Powers powered the Millers to a 10-8 conquest of the Gophers. Adkins homered for the Gophers.

Kehe pitched the Robins to a 7-1 decision over the Blues. Spindlers had a triple and two singles for the Blues.

BESIDES the two no-hitters, a six inning one-hitter was hurled in the Southside Junior league last week.

Gary Anderson of the Buckeyes faced only 18 men, with the only base-runner caught in a double play in the third inning, in a 10-0 win over the Spartans.

He struck out 13 Spartans, eight coming in a row. Anderson also slammed a bases loaded triple in the fourth.

The double play went from shortstop Splittoff to second baseman Gleichman to first basemen Hurley.

The Oaks and Padres, tied for the league lead, both won their games.

McDougall pitched his no-hitter in the Padres 29-1 landslide over the Beavers. In addition to McDougall, Peifer also socked a grand slammer for the Padres.

Shannon outlasted Kenney in the Oaks 7-6 triumph over the Stags.

The Atoms defeated the Colts, 16-6, as Merkel and Foreman combined to pitch a three inning no-hitter for the Atoms.

JEFF BRADY, Wren first baseman, had five straight singles as his team whacked the Spartans, 15-5. Schneider tossed a three-hitter for the winners.

A seven-run last inning rally enabled the Angels to squeak by the Wrens, 11-10, as Prochaska stole home with the winning run.

Amos socked a grand slam home run for the Angels in the last inning. Burkett received credit for the win, and Schneider took the loss.

No report was made this week from the Northside Major league.

Accident Halts Krieger Streak At Waukegan

Veteran driver Norm Nelson of Racine captured top honors at the Waukegan Speedway here tonight as he drove to victory in the 25 lap main event for the modified stocks averaging 49.64 m.p.h. It was Nelson's first feature win at the speed plant.

In hot pursuit of the leader was another Racine favorite, Milt Curcio, who placed second and gave Nelson a rough battle nearly the entire distance.

Greg Krieger, Milwaukee, top point man at Waukegan, and among the favorites to win the main event was stopped from another clean sweep and his fifth victory when he was forced into a stalled car on the 16th lap, putting him out of the competition. For the first time this year, the red hot Krieger failed to earn feature race points.

THE STALLED CAR in which Krieger hit was that of Bay Darnell, Deerfield, who had led the race from the start until lap nine when a steering rod broke and he hit the concrete retainer wall on the south turn.

Krieger's accident took place when Jim Gish running third, spun out and was hit by Bob Karry, Lake Villa, who in turn drifted wide, forcing Krieger into the stalled machine forcing him out. Krieger had been running seventh at the time, having moved up from 18th spot, trying for the lead.

FOR THE EIGHTH consecutive time, Krieger managed to post the fast qualifying time of the night averaging 53.35 m.p.h. in that event.

Art Reeves, Libertyville, provided fans with the only roll-over of the night when he collided with Frank Brannik, Ingleside, and Francis Ansell, Milwaukee during the first lap of the second ten lap heat event. He rolled one complete time landing on his wheels in the infield.

Jim Gish who was leading the fourth heat event spun out on lap number eight, and Krieger right behind avoided that mishap beautifully to sneak past and go on for the win.

A FIELD OF some 30 amateur drivers with their strictly stock jalopies were on hand to add still more thrills to the 2,800 race hungry fans. Track manager Mike Kaishian added a special eight lap race to the event which was taken by Barry May of Winthrop Harbor.

But the added 15 lap feature, which started 22 automobiles, provided fans with as many smashups as a demolition race. Only seven cars finished the race and were able to pull off the track under their own power without further assistance from the tow trucks.

Eddie Jones, Waukegan, an early leader in the event, was one of the accidental victims. Spinning cars and numerous crashes highlighted the program and the track was made into an obstacle course for drivers with demolished machines stalled on the turns, straightaways and infield.

The prize purse amounted to $1,375.00

Pederson On Golf

Accurate Putting Eases Strain Of Game

ACCURATE PUTTING CUTS STROKES

Putting, today is considered 55 per cent of the game.

It usually takes two strokes to get to the green on a par four hole, a tee shot and an iron and then you have to worry about getting the ball into the cup which normally takes two putts to give you a par. One putt can give you a birdie, while three putts gives you a bogey so you can see that putting is an important part of the game.

In the pictures at the right, we are showing you two different types of grips in putting. One is turning the left hand completely underneath the club and the right hand reversely overlapping.

THE REASON why we turn the left hand completely underneath the club is because it keeps our wrist stiff to the hole giving us a good shoulder stroke.

The other grip is placing the left hand on top of the club and placing the right hand again in a reverse overlap with the right forefinger down the right-hand side of the shaft. The theory of this being that the club will give you more feeling in your hands while you stroke the putt.

Concerning the stance of putting, this again varies upon the individual's confidence of hitting the ball into the hole. You may like a closed stance, an open stance that is pictured at the right, or your feet close together or far apart. Try all of these stances and grips until you find the one that suits you best, and that is the one you should use.

HERE ARE SOME other basic requirements for putting. In all theories and styles of putting, your eyes must be directly focused on top of the ball and at least three-quarters of your weight on the left foot. The ball should be played in the left center of your stance.

Today good putting has a sedative effect on the remainder of your game. It makes all the other shots less imperative. I have never seen a good putter who is not at ease all the way around the golf course.

The easiest putt and the hardest mentally is the three-footer. At three feet you should get the ball into the hole more often than not. This is the only shot in golf today at which your chances at success are overwhelmingly in your favor.

The overwhelmingly majority of unsuccessful putts are missed not because they are misjudged but because they are mishit. Good putters stroke the ball the same way all of the time. And the stroke that hits the ball the same way more often for most people is the shoulder stroke which we mentioned above.

Paddock Tourney Approaches

Whichever team is hottest usually wins the medals, trophy and the golf balls in Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf tournament each year.

It's not necessarily the men who shoot in the low 70's, or is it necessarily the ones who come through in the 80's.

It's simply the team that is hot for the day that wins top honors every time. Usually the man who averages 92 shoots 83, while his teammates all hit their average. The trophy and first place medals are then salted away.

THIS YEAR'S Paddock tournament will be held at White Pines golf club with leading squads of 18 twilight loops expected to participate. Eligibility date is Aug. 13 with league officers asked to make final selection in event of a tie.

Golf loops expected to have entries include four from Mt. Prospect country club, Monday-Tuesday night and two St. Raymond loops; three from Rob Roy golf club, St. James, St. Alphonsus and Rob Roy Twilight; four from Roselle golf club, Arlington Twilight, Roselle, Hoffman Estates and Pure Oil; three from Old Orchard, Wayside-Colette, VFW Post 981 and Old Orchard Scratch; Friday Night league from Arlington golf club; Bensenville VFW loop from Glendale golf club. Flick-Reedy loop from White Pines golf club; and Tuesday Men's loop from Mohawk golf club.

Poodle — Top Dog

Official American Kennel club registrations of purebred dogs for 1960 thus far show that the poodle has leaped into the first position with a total of 28,519 registrations. This represents nearly a 24 per cent gain over the same period in 1959, and shunts into second place the former leader — the plucky little beagle — which suffered an 11 per cent decline, from 25,309 to 23,144.

Showing small declines, but retaining their third and fourth place positions, respectively, were the Chihuahua and the Dachshund. The Chihuahua dropped from 20,203 in 1959 to 18,868 thus far in 1960, while the Dachshund eased off slightly from 18,155 last year at this time to 17,809 for 1960.

Dog Hero Award Judges

Judges for the seventh annual Ken-L-Ration Dog Hero of Heroes award competition were just announced. They are Henry P. Davis, noted dog authority and author of the Modern Dog Encyclopaedia; J. J. Shaffer, executive director of Chicago's Anti-Cruelty society; and Victor Elting, vice president of advertising and merchandising of the Quaker Oats company.

It is up to the panel to select this year's winner from a field of 57 candidates, all of whom have been honored locally for disregarding their own safety to save a human life or a person's property.

Some Don't

It is of interest to note that this year, as last, you can see the results of dogs who just don't quite make it across our busy highways. Who is to blame? No matter how you put it, the owner of the dog is the guilty party.

True, some dogs get out of their yards where they have been fenced in, however, this does not happen too often. If a person really has any love for his dog, the last thing he should do is to let him out of the house to roam the countryside.

These days such actions can prove fatal and the fact that cars travel so much faster and are, as a result, harder to stop, makes the driver a nervous wreck himself when he sees a dog wander out in front of his car.

Barks & Bays

No problems for dogs down south these days — they just go to sleep anytime, anywhere.

Top Teams Falter In Wind

The three top teams all lost their matches last week while playing in the midst of a gale.

Black's Memorial Home team, sparked by B. Flynn, captured all six points for the Kindler's Ice Cream Shoppe squad.

Horath Shell Oil, paced by G. Barry garnered five points from the second place Simonds Abrasive team.

Low gross for the evening was a 41 shot by J. Laughman, who also captured net honors for the night with a 33.

George ◆ Diamond COUNTRY CLUB

AN OPEN LETTER TO YOU:
MR. AND MRS. GOLFER

Steaks Hole-in-one

Dear Friends:

Next to good food, I can't think of anything more enjoyable than good, healthy recreation. That's the purpose of our New George Diamond Country Club near Antioch, Ill., about which I have exciting news.

It is my goal to make the George Diamond Country Club the politest country club and golf course in the world. And I'm seeking 150 polite members to help me. These will be golfers who believe, first and foremost, in politeness on the course.

By this, I mean if you are a slow player (and many of us are, by choice) you will politely yield to a faster player. In other words, if a polite individual or playing group (be it a polite single, twosome, threesome, foursome or sixsome) is caught up with by another polite playing group — whether it be on tee, fairway or green — they politely step aside and wave them through. When you play golf under this politeness plan at the George Diamond Country Club, you will truly enjoy your game. Women have the same playing privileges as Gentlemen at the George Diamond Country Club.

Where is the George Diamond Country Club?

In the beautiful Chain O'Lakes area . . . Highway 59 and Grass Lake Road, Antioch . . . just west of the Tri-State Tollway.

WHAT FACILITIES DOES THIS COUNTRY CLUB OFFER?

- Electric carts for rent or ownership.
- A 70-foot diamond-shaped heated outdoor pool.
- Children's heated wading pool.
- Sizeable patio and sun deck.
- Dancing in the Go Go Go Room.
- Teaching Cha Cha Cha our specialty.
- Double-size tennis courts.
- Vast, 100-acre hunting preserve to be stocked for members.
- Large, comfortable club house with modern locker facilities . . lounges . . . game rooms . . two smart, well-stocked bars and, of course, a famous George Diamond Charcoal Broiled Steak House. Seating for 250 . . . banquet facilities and serving a complete George Diamond Charcoal Broiled Steak Dinner starting as in all George Diamond Charcoal Broiled Steak Houses at $2.25.

HOW MUCH FOR ALL THIS?

Regularly, only $300 a year, plus U. S. Tax. But now, if you act within thirty days, a 50% reduction. You pay only $150, plus U. S. Tax.

Absolutely no assessments to the members at any time.

I will be at the club to give you a personal tour or write me, George Diamond, c/o Diamond Enterprises, Inc., 512 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago 5, Ill. Or phone me at WEbster 9-3407 or 2321 . . . good eating and good golfing!

Cardinals Win Four Straight In MP Pony Loop

The Cardinals won four straight games this week to go into the lead in the Mt. Prospect Pony league.

Bob Hope gave up only one hit in shutting out the Sox, 12-0. Al Koehler smacked a home run and triple to lead the Sox barrage. Lytle also blasted a home run, and Stevens tripled and doubled. Hope hit two doubles.

Hope socked two more doubles as the Cards slipped by the Tigers, 8-6. Russ Barger won it for the Cards and also hit a double.

WITH HOPE on the hill again, the Cards dropped the Pirates 11-4 Saturday. Koehler had two doubles, and Barger and J. Stevens one each for the Cards. J. Nave homered for the losers.

Koehler struck out 13 Cubs Sunday as the Cards won, 5-1. Barger and Collins tripled for the Cards as Collins had three hits in four at bats.

The second place Yankees, who trail the Cubs by a game, picked up three straight wins last week.

In a game featured by three long home runs the Yankees defeated the Indians 4 to 1 Saturday.

HEINRICH, who pitched for the Yankees, yielded only five hits, one of which was a long homer by Swanson. The other hits were all singles, two of them going to Pankau. Seven Indians went down on strikes.

The Yankees collected eight hits off Moehling, including home runs by Heinrich and Dahlgren. Jack Jay had a pair of singles and Dave White hit a double. Wolff, who did a terrific job in the outfield, also hit a single. Five Yankees struck out.

The Yankees came up with a big sixth inning in which they scored six runs on three walks and three hits to beat the Tigers 8 to 3.

This was Chuck Heinrich's third victory, with no losses. He was assisted by Tom Meyers and Jack Jay, each getting two hits. Ralph Kaspari contributed a double and Tom Wilkes walked three times.

The Tigers used Stoike and Snyder as their battery. They made only four hits, one being a double by Nastav. Klaus, Forbes and Christino hit singles.

IN A make-up game due to a tie the Yankees got off to an early start by scoring four runs in the first inning and went on to defeat the Cubs, who were tied for first place, 12 to 6.

Mutert started for the Cubs and pitched two innings. Sell, who relieved him, was no problem as the Yanks got to him for five hits and eight runs.

The Cubs had a total of five hits, one of which was a long home run by Busse. Phillips hit a three run double following two singles and a walk. Sell hit a triple.

The Yankees collected nine hits, which included a triple by Catcher Norm Dahlgren. Heinrich hit a double and single and Meyers had two singles.

Tom Wilkes turned in a good performance for six innings to get the win. Heinrich pitched the last inning for the Yankees.

IN OTHER action, the Braves defeated the Giants, 15-11, riding home on a nine-run first inning.

Bob Pomplun socked two home runs in the first inning and later hit a double and single for a perfect day at bat. Tom McClellan was credited with the victor

Five Birds Registered In Tri-City

Five birdies were registered during last week's low putt event of the Tri-City Golf League.

Scoring birdies on the first hole were Betty Hammerl, Lauraine Jensen, Lil Byhring. Evie Rahn and Carolyn Richards counted birds on the second and 16th holes respectively.

Eight winners were Ina Lee (A), Dea Rubner (B), Jean Broadbent (C), Carolyn Richards (D) and Marjorie Carr (E).

Behind Pace

Chicago White Sox Shortstop Luis Aparicio leads the American League in stolen bases with 22, but is behind his pace of 1959 when he led both leagues and tied a club record by pilfering 56 bases in 69 tries. After 81 games last season Aparicio had 27 stolen bases.

Unbeaten Acres Leads

With the first four games of the nine game schedule completed, the "Arlington Acres" team has come up with an unblemished record of four wins in the Arlington Heights Park District Sportsman 16" Softball league.

In second place, also unbeaten, are the "Base Blazers," winners of three contests.

Tied for third place with three wins and one loss are "Arlington Greens" and the "Teachers."

Holding down the middle spot are the "Able Electric Sparks" with a record of 2 wins and 2 losses.

Bud Haut Captures Low Gross

Bud Haut's 34 won low gross and his three handicap also put him in a four way tie for low net at the Arlington Country club Friday night league last week.

Haut had only one bogey and picked up two birds to give him one under par on Arlington's back nine.

Bob Helfers, John Schelling, and Al Walters also had low nets of 31 each.

Bob Sabin and Hass Gallemier had perfect scratches when they parred all nine holes. Sabin gave a stroke to Galleimer in the handicap system, and shot a 40 to Gallemier's 41.

Thirteen birdies were recorded.

Haut birdied numbers 13 and 14. Five others clouted 14 for birds, Don Ruggeri, Bob Helfers, Bob Noble, Johnny Waiser, and Al Waters.

Al Snell and Al Steingraber tapped in birds on number 11. Mel Vogt got his bird on number 12.

McCandles tipped par on the 16th, and Doc Drazha and Moray Weil were one under on the 17th.

Koop's Mustard and Stan's Standard Service continued their torrid battle for the top slot in the Arlington Heights Twilight Golf League. Koop's led by a slim half point after last week's action.

LAST WEEK'S individual honors were won by Don McGowan with a low gross of 39 and Paul Malchow with low net of 30.

Birdies were registered by McGowan and Roger Rogatz who racked up two each, and Eugene Borgeson, Don Kiel, Ernie Simmons and Ted Lindstrom with one each.

Yankees Tip Cubs To Tighten Race In AAA Circuit

By ED COREY

The race tightened considerably in the Rolling Meadows AAA league last week as the first place Cubs were shut out by the Yankees, 2-0.

Allen Haase pitched the first four innings for the Yanks and was credited with the win. John Hildebrand relieved in the fourth.

Mark Krammer, in his first starting assignment, got the loss. Bryan Borgardt hit a bases empty homer in the second for the Yankees.

The Cubs beat the Indians 6-5 Thursday with a 13-hit attack. Bob Hickey was the winning pitcher, fanning 10. Jim Beverowski was the loser. John Phillips and Mike Gersie paced the Cub attack with three hits each.

BRAVES beat the Cardinals 3-1 Tuesday as Tom Lundgren pitched a two-hitter for the win. Bille Scholle allowed only three hits but absorbed the defeat. The Braves won the game with two runs in the fifth inning on an error and hits by Peter Ramstedt and Fred Potter.

Second place Sox crushed the Indians 12-3 Thursday with a seven run third inning highlighted by a two run homer by Larry Goesske, his ninth of the season, and doubles by Byrnes and Dan Cooper.

Cooper was the winning pitcher and Kevin Roeske the loser. Jim Bejerowski hit a bases empty homer in the second for the Indians.

THE LAST place Cardinals scored 18 runs Wednesday for the highest score of the season in crushing the Yankees, 18-2. Mickey Muldoon was the hitting star for the Cardinals with four hits. Mike Rowbottom was the winning pitcher, fanning 11 and allowing three hits. R. Traub absorbed the defeat.

Friday's game found the second place Sox outscoring the Indians in a 15-9 slugfest. The Sox racked up 16 hits.

A six-run sixth inning clinched the victory. Dan Cooper hit a two run homer in the third for the Sox. Mike Lebben was the winning pitcher.

CAR A: STATES: The motor and power in the rear eliminates bulky power-wasting drive shafts and parts, makes possible a flat floor in the car. However, a rear heavy automobile is exceedingly difficult to control.

CAR B: STATES: The motor in front provides greater safety, balance and easier handling. However, here again you have bulky drive shaft panels, parts and wasted power.

THE DKW: Is the combination of both Car A and B. Both POWER AND ENGINE ARE IN FRONT! This provides the safety and balance of front engine driving, eliminates the loss of power and bulky drive shaft panels and parts and gives you the needed traction in snow, mud and ice. Pitzen Movers Regains First In Old Orchard

Pitzen Movers reclaimed the Old Orchard Scratch league top spot by amassing 7½ points at the expense of the Woodvale Builders team.

The Movers accepted command of the league on a beautiful playing night and a night when many of the golfers didn't master the fast greens and tricky pin placements.

One of the few golfers who scored was Martin Gilmore of the Pitzen team. His 36 reverberated enough to sound out the major point total for his teammates who played just well enough to win their respective match points.

Gilmore started with seven straight pars but faltered to a bogey four on the 220 yard water hole, number eight, and then parred the ninth for his one over score.

TO DATE the maze of scratch golfers have scored eagles, birdies, sub-par rounds and have chipped in long chip shots, but the closest any golfer has come to getting nine straight pars was Joe Lohr last week.

Gilmore faltered on the 8th this week but "Scrambling Joe" Lohr struggled out eight straight pars on the back nine and needed a side hill putt of six foot for a perfect par round. However, the white pellet hung on the lip.

TWO ROUNDS of 1-under par were scored. One was by Len Arnold, who drew a bye and played for score over the front side concocting a 34 on four pars, two bogeys, and three birdies.

Len birdied No. 4, No. 7, and No. 9. The second under par round was scored when Wayne Rolfs mastered the back nine with six pars, birdies on the 480 yard 14th and the 540 yd. 15th and a bogey on the well-trapped 17th.

Rolfs played the league's third low average golfer, Bob Reiland, who shot a creditable 37 but lost the match.

Match of the evening was between the first and second seeded golfers of the league.

LOU SABO, the league's first man with an average of 36.1 for 11 rounds, halved the match with a par on No. 18 while Ed Moehling the league's No. 2 man found par a little demanding on the occasion.

Sabo's only error was a bogey on No. 16.

Kruse's Surges Into 2nd

Three alternates, Bob Mors, Bud Goodling and Alex McCormick each scored points representing Van Driel's in the Monday night Mt. Prospect twilight league. Their performances coupled with regular John Krueger's three point victory enabled Van Driel's to cop 9½ points and forge into second place.

Kruse's extended their top position for the ninth consecutive week by scoring 4½ points. O'Day Realtor's slipped from second to third place.

A glance at the league standings will show that the first seven place teams could exchange positions at any time. It appears that it will be a race right down to the wire.

THE TEAM in first position as of August 13 will represent the league in the Paddock Publications Interleague tournament, August 28. As of now it is anybody's guess who the team will be.

Low gross for the evening was shared by Harris Lyon and Mike Bergo, each with 37. Low net was captured by Dave Felix with a 43-13-30.

Birdie shooters were John Mulder, 1, Howard Brower, 7, Joe Gruenes, 3, Harris Lyon, 10, John Krueger, 1, Clarence Delph, 16 and Wally Leutz, 14.

Par-Shattering Golfers: Try This Course For Size

On this golf course, the player can putt through the Prudential building, watch the ball whirl around the toll road wind up playing roulette in Monte Carlo.

It is the new and enchantingly different miniature golf course at Dempster st. and Waukegan rd. in Morton Grove which has attracted hundreds and hundreds of fascinated players, golfers and non-golfers, young and old, in the short time it had been open for play.

It was designed, and its construction supervised, by 29 year old Sam Boznos, a graduate of Niles Township high school, Skokie, and holder of a Bachelor of Science degree from Northwestern university.

EACH OF THE 18 holes is identified by a replica, meticulously made by hand and painted in beautiful colors, of some famous landmark.

You get an idea of what the holes look like, and what they represent, from their names. The holes on the front nine are called:

"Liberty Bell," Alligator," "Toll Road," "Statue," "Mount Rushmore," "Rocket," "Grandfather's Clock," "Turtle," and "Prudential."

On the last nine are:

"The Shoe (an 11-foot tall copy of the one the old gal lived in with all her kids), "Indian Tepee," "Humpty Dumpty," "Sweetheart," "Three Bears," "Roller Coaster," "Old Mill," "Clown," and "Roulette."

IT TOOK almost two years, and about $80,000 to complete the course.

The "Prudential" building took the longest to make. It is 11 feet high, has 41 floors like the one on the lakefront, 2,500 tiny plastic windows, each one an inch square and a quarter of an inch thick.

Mount Rushmore is a reproduction of the monument in South Dakota with the faces of four Presidents, George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, and Theodore Roosevelt in clay.

PAR IS 30 - 32 - 62. As you can guess from the comparatively high par for the course that a hole-in-one is quite an accomplishment.

Because accuracy and skill are rewarded on 17 of the holes, the course was named "Par King Skill Golf."

Golden's Wins In Twilight Play

Golden's Food Shop came in with another victory last Tuesday in the Mt. Prospect Twilight league and have now extended their lead over the rest of the pack to a full ten points. Their victim this time was Carl's Food Shop, 6½ to 3½.

This is the second time this year the rival bagel purveyors have met. Carl's wound up in the cellar position after the first match back on April 26 and have never recovered. Golden's started on top and have plunged as low as ninth place but now are back in the lead with a very healthy bit of daylight between them and the second place team.

The rest of the division is in a turmoil of jockeying for position. Kersting's Garden Center surprised everybody by winding up in second place after a neat 9-1 victory over Mt. Prospect Electric Construction Co. The Gardeners have a bit of a streak going themselves, having accumulated nearly 30 points in four matches.

WILLE Lumber and Fuel, currently another hot team, moved into a tie for third with Vern's Pure Oil after downing the former league leaders, 7½-2½.

Most startling comeback of the week was by Annen and Busse Realtors who scored the top victory of the evening in whipping Licht's Paint Store, 9½ to ½. the Realtors have enjoyed indifferent success since leading the league for one night back in May. Most credit for the victory should go to Larry Sbarbaro and his son Bob who sparked the Realtors with a 39 and a 38 respectively.

Other low scores were posted by Walt Double, 37; and Jim Driscoll and Bill Stanton, 38. Birdies were reported by E. Lauing, 1, Geo. Kratsch, 1, W. Stanton, 1 and 3, F. Jilek, 5, G. Raasch, 12, J. Driscoll, 17.

Reds, Elks Still Unbeaten

Red Legs of the National division and the American division Elks continued to lead their leagues with perfect slates in the Mt. Prospect Little League Minors last week.

The Elks won a pair, easing by the Dukes and Indians by 20-6 scores. Billy King was credited with the decision over the Dukes. Craig Carlson homered for the winners.

Four baggers by Bradley Poinsett, Billy King, Mark Kitzing, and Paul Peterson powered the Elks to an effortless win over the Indians.

BILLINGS CAME on in relief and struck out two men with the bases loaded to preserve the 16-12 triumph over the Cards.

In National division competition Koza registered three wins to pitch the Chief's out of the cellar.

He was on the mound as the Chiefs defeated the Tigers, 19-6; the Yankees, 13-7; and the Sox, 10-8. His bases loaded triple was the big blow against the Yankees.

Muszynski racked up two wins for the Orioles, topping the Sox, 15-1, and the Yankee's 9-8.

THE ATHLETICS took a firm hold on second place as Mark Lind pitched his team to a 17-2 victory.

Gary Johnson was credited with the Yankee's 11-7 decision over the Indians.

Homers Pace Pioneer Park Softball Win

Tom Epperlip blasted a pair of homers to lead the Pioneer Park Midgets to a 16-2 softball victory over Evergreen Park last Wednesday at the Pioneer field.

Winning pitcher was Laugerhausen for Pioneer Park.

Cardinals, Lions Cinch Loop Titles In Mount Prospect

The Cardinals clinched the American division championship and the Lions National division honors last week in the Mt. Prospect Little League Majors.

Both did it in impressive style.

The Cardinals smashed the Yankees, 17-0, the Bruning Sox 33-0, and the VFW, 12-2.

Falling under the Lions onslaught were the Senators, 10-5, and the Indians, 24-4.

Greg Kowal allowed only one hit, a bunt single by O'Keefe, against the second place Yankees to clinch the championship for the Cardinals.

NOT A BALL was hit out of the infield off the youngster, who tossed a no-hitter last week and another one-hitter the week before.

Lewis blasted a homer and triple for the Cardinals, driving in seven runs, to lead his team to a 12-2 win over the VFW.

Werderith threw a 4-hitter for the winners. Longest hit for the VFW was a triple by Erbach.

Manderscheid went five for five and pitched a 1-hitter as the Cardinals smothered the Bruning Sox, 33-0. The lone hit was a grounder to deep short by Wayne Kuklinski, who has been averaging a homer a game.

Manderscheid and Kowal hit 4-baggers for manager LeRoy Weber's Cardinals.

THE LIONS clinched the championship with the 10-5 win over the Senators, as Mike Mueller pitched his fifth straight victory of the year.

Dennis Wilkinson's three run homer in the first inning was a big blast for the Lions. Mueller tripled and Anderson hit two singles for the winners.

Mueller, Tom Nitch, and Rick Profita homered the Lions to the 24-4 win over the Indians. Ken Traversone took the decision.

In other American league action Kuklinski slugged three homers, but his team, the Bruning Sox, dropped a 10-9 game to the VFW Dodgers.

Catcher Dennis Palubicki pulled off the defensive play of the day for the final out, saving the game for the Sox. Gary Sullivan, the winning pitcher, homered.

KUKLINSKI'S home run power paid bigger dividends when he hit his thirteenth in 13 games to help defeat the Orioles, 10-9. He was also the winning pitcher.

Jim LaRocca clubbed a homer and double for the losers.

Behind pitcher Danny Klingberg, the VFW Dodgers dropped the Merchant Cubs, 7-6.

LaRocca fanned 14 and socked a triple to lead his team to a 5-2 win over the Merchant Cubs. Mike Duda also tripled.

Winning pitcher was Tom Davis.

Chamber Outlines 17-Point Program

A program of work numbering 17 items was adopted by the board of directors of the Arlington Heights chamber of commerce last week.

At a meeting attended by 60 members, suggestions were given to the Program of Work committee, headed by Joe Lohr, who turned them over to the board of directors.

Defining the chamber of commerce as a "Group of business men organized through voluntary action to accomplish those things together that they cannot do alone," the members decided that a strong group needed a program of work as well as adequate financing and manpower.

THE PROGRAM of work includes the following suggestions:

—Conduct a consumer survey to collect information on improving business conditions in Arlington Heights.

—Strive to encourage improvement of the general traffic flow into and within the village.

The group promised to cooperate with municipal authorities in the following programs:

—The acquisition and development of adequate shopper and commuter parking north of the railroad tracks.

—ORDERLY development of the downtown parking plaza.

—Constructing an underpass under the railroad.

—Easing the parking and traffic problems at the post office building.

GOP, Democrats Tangle

Fire District Appointment Becomes Political Issue

POINT OF CONFLICT between local Republican and Democratic leaders is whether or not the Prospect Heights fire department building (above) can be used as a polling place. Republicans assert it is not feasible to use it, Democrats claim it can be done.

Have "partisan politics" been injected into an area of suburban government previously regarded as "non-partisan" in structure?

Several Republican leaders so declared this week in accusing Cook county and Wheeling township Democrats of attempting to "organize" the operation of Prospect Heights fire protection district.

The GOP spokesmen, who insisted on retaining anonymity, were particularly critical of James Stavros, Democratic committeeman of Wheeling township; John Karns, Cook County judge; and Edward J. Barrett, Cook county clerk.

Stavros vigorously denied the GOP accusations, adding that if any partisan group controls township government, it is the GOP.

THE ANONYMOUS Republicans alleged that Judge Karns, at the urging of Stavros and Barrett, is intentionally holding up the re-appointment of Kenneth Larson of Mt. Prospect as trustee of the Prospect Heights fire district.

The GOP leaders say Stavros and Barrett are "plotting" to get their own nominee appointed as trustee and eventually to secure the second and third trustee positions, thereby "stacking the deck" with men who will "do their bidding."

"This is a disturbing matter," one critic said, "because politics have never before been considered in selecting fire district trustees."

SUPPOSEDLY, fire district trustees in the past have been appointed on (1) the interest they've shown in fire protection work, and (2) their experience and knowledge in the operation of fire fighting bodies.

Moral character has also been considered, but the nominee's voting record has never been scrutinized, critics assert.

The County judge is empowered by the court to make appointments annually. Republicans charge that beginning with 1958 and 1959 — the last two years of Judge Otto Kerner's term — the court acquired a tendency to drag its feet.

Republicans also charge that Stavros has spoken to the judge on behalf of his own nominee. Some fire district officials believe a "political football" is being made of the appointment and that such efforts could destroy the non-partisan character of fire protection government.

STAVROS firmly denies any wrongdoing on the part of his political organization. "It's not truth," he exclaimed, "I'm not pushing anybody for the trustee job. I don't even know the names of the candidates."

He advised Paddock Publications to "look around and see who has all the (political) jobs in Wheeling township. What are they (Republicans) afraid of? They've got all the jobs now and don't want us to have any. Is that fair?"

Stavros alluded to the refusal of Prospect Heights fire chief F. E. Foor to permit voters to use the firehouse as a polling place. This issue may be at the root of the current controversy.

Foor — who is also secretary of the Illinois Association of Fire Districts — has ruled that the Prospect Heights station can no longer be used for voting because of a lack in manpower needed to ready the building for elections.

"We're working with a skeleton crew," explained Foor. "We simply don't have anyone to come in at 5 a.m. on Election Day, move all the equipment onto the street, set up the voting apparatus, and then come back in the evening and put things back in place."

Stavros disagrees, claims it can be done.

Thus, stalemate.

JOHN HAAS, attorney for Prospect Heights district, said this week that trustee appointments are usually made by the first Monday in May. He added that Judge Karns indicated "all was in order" when Larson's credentials were presented to him in April. "But we've received no word yet on the appointment," he explained. "A district can operate with only two trustees, but it's hard. Legally, until we're notified of another appointment, Larson is still in office."

Haas said it has been their practice to promote outstanding firemen to trustee positions. This policy "develops morale and enthusiasm," he added.

One Republican spokesman frankly stated that the GOP's chief worry was that Democrats would win control of fire districts, implement wholesale consolidations, and then hire professional firemen to create scores of new patronage posts.

Fire districts now depend upon volunteers who receive token payment for each fire they fight. (B8

Stratton Says Public Aid Dropped in May

Governor William G. Stratton said recently that statewide public assistance rolls in May fell by 8,072 persons to a total of 373,543 from April's 381,615 persons, according to a report from Peter W. Cahill, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid commission.

In May 1959 there were 373,131 recipients. The decline reflects the usual drop due to increased opportunities for outdoor seasonal work, Cahill said.

Of the total recipients, 232,000 are on Cook county rolls.

MAY COSTS came to $18,460,528 — of which $10.2 millions, or 55 per cent, were from state funds. In April, $18,794,207 was spent. In May 1959, the overall cost was $17,708,922.

General Assistance in May showed a sharp decline for the second consecutive month, dropping 8,387 persons to a state - wide total of 129,149 from the April count of 137,536.

The drop downstate was by 7,860 persons while the Cook county load fell by 527.. In May 1959 the count was 131,487. May costs were $5,493,225 for an average of $42.53 per recipient. April's costs were $5,779,936, an average of $42.02. In May 1959 the average was $38.29; the cost $5,034,556.

Old Age Assistance reached a new low of 73,610 persons in May, a drop of 388 from April's 73,998 and of 4,933 from the May 1959 count of 78,543 persons. State - wide costs came to $5,427,967, an average of $73.74. April's costs were $5,464,246, an average of $73.84. In May 1959 the cost was $5,470,171; average $69.65.

A NINE-PERSON drop brought Blind Assistance to 3,008 from April's total of 3,017. May 1959 had 3,128 persons. May costs were $247,255; average $82.20. April costs were $248,242; average $82.28. May 1959 costs were $259,751; average $83.04.

Disability Assistance totaling $1,515,377 was provided to 18,380 persons in May, an average of $82.45. April costs were $1,514,224 for 18,339 persons; average $82.57. May costs were $1,446,481 for 18,072 persons; average $80.04.

Aid to Dependent Children rolls, up for the sixth consecutive month, totaled $149,396 persons in May for a cost of $5,776,704 and an average of $36.67. April costs were $5,787,559 for 148,725 persons; average $38.91. May 1959 costs were $5,498,032 for 141,901 persons; average $38.75.

Red Owl Sales Set Record in Quarter

Sales of Red Owl Stores, Inc. set a new record in the first fiscal quarter ended May 28, 1960, Ford Bell, chairman of the board, and Alf L. Bergerud, president, said in the quarterly report to shareholders.

Sales amounted to $68,137,046, an increase of 35 per cent over sales of $50,553,903 in the corresponding period last year. Retail sales showed a gain of 35 per cent while wholesale volume, including sales to Red Owl agency stores, was up 45 per cent.

THE SALES increase was due principally to the continuing expansion program including the acquisition of the retail and wholesale business of The H. A. Marr Grocery company of Denver in January, 1960.

In addition, the comparison of retail sales reflects the labor dispute which closed Red Owl's Minneapolis supermarkets for four weeks during the first quarter of last quarter of last year.

The first quarter's consolidated net earnings, before a special credit, amounted to $455,900, or 68 cents per share on the 666,636 shares outstanding. This compares with $386,982, equal to 59 cents per share on the 651,246 shares outstanding a year earlier.

THE SPECIAL credit in the current period, amounting to $294,000 or 44 cents per share, results from adjustments required for tax purposes. The number of common shares outstanding increased primarily because of conversions of subordinated debentures.

Lighting Expert Says Many Waste Current

Many home-owners are paying for lighting current that's not being translated into light.

That is the warning of Chicago lighting authority Klaus Ollendorff, who has built a thriving business by exploding the generally accepted notion that a light's a light so long as it's lit.

"The average year-old fixture is only half a light," says Ollendorff, "because it has dimmed with age and been obscured by dust."

FINDINGS OF his firm, Planned Lighting, Inc., which for 12 years has served more than 500 different types of business in the Chicago area, can be helpful to householders, Ollendorff believes. He offered these suggestions for brighter homes:

-- Don't try to save on current by switching lamps off whenever you leave a room. Turning off a fluorescent fixture, for instance, when it will be needed again in a period as brief as a half-hour, can cut the life of the tube in half.

-- On the other hand, if you want to utilize one tube of a fluorescent medicine cabinet fixture as a low-watt night light, simply loosen the other tube in its fitting. Be sure your hands are dry when you loosen or re-connect it.

-- Replace flickering fluorescent tubes immediately, or risk having serious damage done to the transformer, which is the heart of the fixture.

-- Schedule a thorough cleaning job on all your lighting fixtures at least twice a year. Planned Lighting's studies have shown that suds and a brush can more than double the output of the average lighting fixture, simply by removing the dirty film that collects on any such surface over a period of time.

WITH THIS advice, Ollendorff points out, householders can benefit from the experience of "thousands" of business firms which call on Planned Lighting, Inc. to service their lighting plants.

"The lights in any home are just as important," he believes, "and the results of good care will be a brighter family outlook."

NI Gas Lets Bond Issue to Boston

Northern Illinois Gas company July 13 awarded a $30 million 25 - year 4-5/8 per cent first mortgage bond issue to the First Boston corporation at a price to the company of 99.587.

Luster L. Starrett, the utility's treasurer, said this represents a money cost to the company of 4.65 per cent, exclusive of expenses. The bonds will be publicly offered at 100.369 to yield 4.60 per cent.

The new issue will have a maturity date of July 1, 1985. None of the bonds may be redeemed prior to July 1, 1965 through refunding by any debt issue having a lower interest cost to the company. This provision does not apply to redemptions for sinking fund purposes.

OTHER BIDS were received from Blyth & Co., Inc. and Equitable Securities Corporation; Glore, Forgan & co.; and Halsey, Stuart & Co. Inc.

Net proceeds of the sale will be used, Starrett said, to retire possible short - term bank loans of up to $45 million, and to increase working capital for estimated construction expenditures of $200 million for the 5-year period, 1960-64.

Expenditures in 1960 are expected to total about $57 million. This averages more than $1 million a week. No further long-term financing in 1960 is now contemplated by NI-Gas.

Malcomson Named to Committee

Robert J. Malcomson, of 727 S. Belmont st., Arlington Heights, has been named to serve on the Modern Living committee of the Home Builders Association of Chicagoland, it was announced recently by Kimball Hill, committee chairman.

The Modern Living Committee coordinates exhibits for the association's annual Modern Living Home and Flower show, which this year will open McCormick Place, Chicago's new Lakefront exposition center.

The show is scheduled to run from November 18 to December 4.

Committee members will work with exhibitors of building supplies, home furnishings, gas and electric utilities, the flower show, and the home builders themselves in planning displays for the largest home show in the world.

Population Jump Seen in Sixties

During the decade of the Sixties, 24 million Americans will be added to the population 14 years of age or older. This is twice the number added during the 1950-59 period.

This growth of the potential labor force assures the availability of manpower to support a substantial rise in economic activity, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

But such a rapid expansion in the number of persons of working age requires that job opportunities maintain a like pace if a rise in unemployment is to be avoided.

If the same proportion in each age group is employed in 1970 as in 1959, the total of civilian jobs will reach 77 million — a gain of 17 per cent. To achieve this level, the rise in employment will have to average more than 1 million annually, as compared with an increase of less than 700,000 per year in the Fifties.

UNLIKE MOST economic projections, estimates of the potential labor supply can be made with a high degree of accuracy. The workers who will seek employment in the next ten years are already among us. Statistical techniques permit an allowance for migration and deaths.

The coming upsurge in the labor force reflects the big rise in the birth rate which came with the end of World War II. During the Fifties, the number of new job seekers has been held down by the low birth rate of the depression and the early war years.

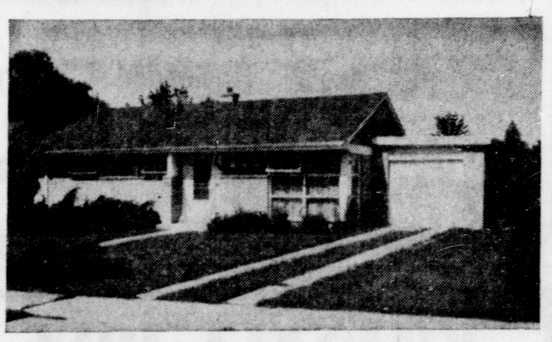
MONUMENT FOR SALE. Just four years ago, Mr. Alfini hammered and sawed, plastered and nailed to his utmost and created this monument to his genius. Before the mortar was dry, a lucky man came along and requested to buy this creation. Mr. A. was dismayed as he had planned to keep this one for a museum or maybe a model. Mr. Lucky, however, would not be denied; he had to have this house. After many hours of cajoling by this most intent home buyer, Mr. A. reluctantly and tearfully agreed to sell. Today, Mr. Lucky is gone, transferred on to greener pastures, and we have been honored to act as agents for the sale of this 3-bedroom, 2 bath masterpiece. Priced under 30 thousand.



JUST LISTED. This cozy two-bedroom ranch is priced to sell at $20,750. Features a good sized living room with a nice dining L, full basement, attached garage, brick construction, plus a 10x10 multi-purpose room. Located on the south side of Mount Prospect.

Full Price only $21,770.

JUST REDUCED $1,000. This 3-bedroom, 2 bath beauty is now a terrific buy at $24,750. You'll never find a neater more immaculately maintained home. You have to see it to believe it, so call us today.

Hoffman Builders Open 2 New Homes

Hoffman Community developers will open two new model homes to the public this weekend in the new Highlands section of Hoffman Estates, northwest of Chicago.

One is an L-shaped ranch, the other a large two - level. Both homes feature extensive expanses of picture windows and sliding glass doors, as well as spacious patios.

"The Alpine" is the L-shaped, six-room ranch with three bedrooms, one - and - a - half baths and an oversized attached car - and - a - half garage. The large living room and separate dining area are situated at the rear of this home, and overlook lawn and garden through an impressive 15 - foot wall of glass.

A 25 - foot wall across the back of the home unifies the living and dining rooms. A sliding glass door opens directly onto the 15' by 10' patio.

THE FLOOR plan of "The Alpine" separates the privacy area of bedrooms and baths from the family area of living room, dining room, kitchen and patio.

Among the desirable features of this well - equipped and designed home are a deep roof overhang and front porch which provide protection from the weather from the garage to the front entrance.

"The Riviera" is an eight-room, two-level home with four bedrooms, two baths, large living room, formal dining room, kitchen with generous breakfast eating space, extra - large finished family room, oversized attached car-and-a-half garage, and laundry, utilities and storage areas.

An especially large entrance foyer links the home's levels. On the first level, four steps down from the foyer, is the casual living area with a 24'8" by 15'3" family room.

FLOOR-TO-ceiling glass doors lead from this room to the concrete patio measuring 15 by 12 feet. Also on the first level is the fourth bedroom, 13'6" by 12'9" with its own closet and a complete full bath adjoining.

A real "plus" in this house, on the first level, is a huge walk - in, out-of-season storage closet.

The new models will be open to the public seven days a week. Weekdays and Sunday, 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Hoffman Estates is 10 miles west of O'Hare International Airport on route 72 (Higgins Road) at Roselle Road.

SHOWING THE TRUE SPIRIT of good neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Burgess (right), residents of Winston Park Northwest unit I, greet a very surprised Mrs. John J. It was an exciting day for Mrs. Slapak, whose family was officially welcomed as the first residents of Winston Park Northwest Unit II by Palatine village president Howard I. Olsen (left). New address for the Slapaks and their two children, John, 22, and Cheryl, 11, is 140 N. Clark st. Nearly 500 families now live in the first section of homes at Winston Park Northwest.

Public Invited to Park Ridge Aug. 19

Park Ridge's celebration of its first 50 years as a city isn't just for Park Ridge residents.

Several items on the 10-week program are likely to interest those in neighboring suburbs and the adjoining sections of Chicago.

The kickoff event, the July 5 festival and fireworks display, for instance, attracted many visitors. Even more may attend a street dance in Hodges Park in downtown Park Ridge Friday night, August 19.

Perhaps the biggest attraction of all is a series of Pot O' Gold awards arranged by Park Ridge merchants to commemorate the 50th Anniversary.

• • • •

THE BIGGEST award will be a trip for two anywhere in the world by scheduled airline, to be announced Sunday, September 11th, during wind-up festivities in Park Ridge's West Park.

Preliminary awards are being made each week in the meantime. Those who have shopped in Park Ridge are eligible, regardless of where they live.

Other events planned in Park Ridge include a civic banquet August 4th to honor those who have contributed most to the City; dedication ceremonies at the City's new North Western Station and at its new Water Works, and a community picnic.

Before it became a City in 1910, Park Ridge had been a village since 1873. Before that it was called Brickton (local clay made good bricks 100 years ago), and Pennyville (after an early settler).

Hints To Home Owners

by

James Fizzell

Assistant Farm Advisor

During the past several years, there has been wholesale removal of our street and shade trees in Illinois as the result of the elm disease. It is only after loss that we most appreciate the trees' value for providing beauty and shade, as well as their ability to freshen the atmosphere, reduce dust and smoke problems, and absorb sound and noise.

Many communities and home owners are faced with the problem of replacing these trees. It is logical to consider what trees to use to avoid plantings that will soon be too large for their location, as well as unsightly and bothersome.

In choosing a tree, whether it be for planting along your street or in your yard, consider the following factors:

—1. BE SURE your choice is hardy for your area.

—2. Avoid trees that have unattractive litter, such as messy fruit or seed pods and persistent twig breakage.

—3. Do not select trees with roots that are heavy surface feeders. Such trees will interfere with the growth of lawn and nearby plantings or will cause surrounding pavement to heave. Do not plant rapid-growing trees, such as black locust or Siberian elm (commonly called the Chinese elm). Although these trees will give shade quickly, they are short-lived (10 to 15 year average life span), and they are prone to breakage from ice, snow, and wind.

—4. Choose a tree that has good growth habits. When full grown, it fits into the overhead space that is available.

—5. Limit your selections to varieties that are long-lived and resistant to ice and wind damage as well as to insects and diseases.

TREES LINING a street and providing a delicate canopy of foliage overhead relieve the monotonous lines of houses and give a feeling of character to the street and community. But selecting a street tree is a responsibility that should not be lightly assumed. By selecting the right tree you can minimize maintenance costs; virtually eliminate damage to curbs, sidewalks, and sewers; do away with the blocking of street lights; and reduce interference with overhead utility installations.

In the past, trees have been planted in parking strips with no consideration of their ultimate size or appearance. As a guide to the problem of selecting street trees, consider the following recommendations in addition to the five factors outlined for selecting a tree:

—1. If parking strips are four to eight feet wide, plant the smaller growing trees, such as redbud or European mountainash.

—2. If parking strips are over eight feet wide, seed to lawn and plant the larger growing trees, such as maples and oaks.

—3. WHERE THE sidewalk is next to the curb, plant trees on the inside of the sidewalk. In this case locate the tree a minimum of five feet from the sidewalk edge.

—4. Spacing of street trees is of major importance; therefore, do not plant trees closer together than one-half of their total spread.

—5. Avoid plantings that will interfere with motorists' vision at intersections and with the effectiveness of street lights. Twenty-five feet is the minimum distance a tree should be planted from the corner of a block.

—6. If there are overhead utility lines, be sure to select a tree whose ultimate height will be less than the height of the lowest line.

—7. Restrict the planting of wide-spreading trees to wide streets and boulevards. For most residential streets, use trees whose crowns are somewhat compact and dense.

Warns Bond Issue Defeat Could Mean Income Tax

A concerted public relations program in behalf of the School and Welfare bond issues on the November election ballot was urged this week by Joseph T. Meek, prsident of the Illinois Retail Merchants Association who warns that defeat of the bond issues could make a state income tax "a virtual necessity."

In an open letter to Governor Stratton, Meek deplored the lack of current planning and the apparently divergent approaches of school and welfare interests to the campaign in behalf of the bond issues.

MEEK ASKED Governor Stratton to spearhead efforts to coordinate the campaign, "dramatized and perpetualized by skilled public relations professionals."

"Somewhere, about now," Meek wrote, "someone should be beginning the ground work for the story that if the needs of the schools and the welfare interests are not met by the bond issues, an income tax of one kind or another becomes a virtual necessity.

"Obviously, we need to drive home the fact that if the schools are going to get their $195,000,000 and the welfare interest their $150,000,000 taxpayers are going to have to pay for it, either in comparatively small sums over the years or in the form of a new type of tax. We need to have some professional interests consistently driving home the fact that Illinois can have a flat rate income tax and might just get it if the bond issues fall flat!

"We need the continuity of professionalism to show that an archaic State Constitution simply provides no other means to secure a needed $350,000,000 than an income tax or a sales tax or a real estate tax so high as to be immediately and conclusively prohibitive!

"It is going to take public relations professionalism and facts to show that both bond issue proposals must be approved."

MEEK WARNED that if one of the two bond issues should be beaten, it would still be impossible to raise funds for the other "without seriously and tragically jeopardizing the interests of home owners and consumers with modest incomes."

Meek said his association was concerned that no single agency "is making any preparations to merchandise the grave importance of voter approval of both bond issues and, second, that each of the important agencies affected - Schools and Welfare - seem to be promoting their own interest without regard for the vital importance of the successive vote."

The Illinois Retail Merchants association board of directors, along with many other civic organizations, has approved both bond issues.

"There are arguments against this type of financing," Meek wrote the Governor. "They do not stand up, however, in the face of proven need for far more educational and welfare facilities, immediately, than can be provided at once out of new tax sources. The sources are, currently, not available except for a material broadening of the sales tax base, which though we ardently approve, would not be sufficient, without working a great hardship on property owners and medium and low income consumers.

"Our board believes we cannot educate an individual 'later' and use an institution built 'later.' Once the opportunity is missed to educate a child both qualitatively and quantitively and once the opportunity is by-passed to aid one critically in need of rehabilitation and care, that opportunity is gone forever. It cannot wait on amendment to the revenue article or on the long pressures which emanate, quite properly, from legislative debate."

Realty Firm Tells Home Sale Jump

Nelson Realty, 6 West Northwest hwy., Mt. Prospect, announced this week that residential home sales thus far this year have exceeded the complete 1959 fiscal year.

Residential home sales made by Nelson Realty or in cooperation with associate M.A.P. Multiple Listing Realtors totaled 70 sales as of July 7th for a total dollar volume in excess of $1,500,000.

The majority of these sales were made in Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights, and Prospect Heights.

Realtor Robert L. Nelson believes there are 3 main reasons accounting for the doubling of business thus far this year.

HE BELIEVES that a substantial increase in advertising expenditures and an enlarged sales staff, plus recent office remodeling have been instrumental for the sizable increase.

Associate members of the firm are Messrs. J. M. Maas, V. Soderstrom, W. C. Kehe, T. P. Fitzpatrick, and Mrs. B. L. Wright.

June Brides Reminded to Tell Names

"We hope the honeymoon lasts forever," says Social Security Northwest district manager Julius Berman, "But we do hope that by now the June bride will get her head out of the clouds just long enough to tell us she's changed her name."

Women who have had Social Security cards issued in their maiden names need to have their Social Security records changed when they marry, Berman explained. If this is not done, wages reported for them in the future cannot be credited to their accounts and future beneifts may be lost.

"The method is simple and painless," Berman said. "We supply a special, short form for the purpose — OAAN-7003. It can be filled out at our office or can be requested by mail or telephone.

"If the new bride will submit her old account number card with the form, we'll issue her a new card immediately. The new card will show her new name, but her old Social Security number."

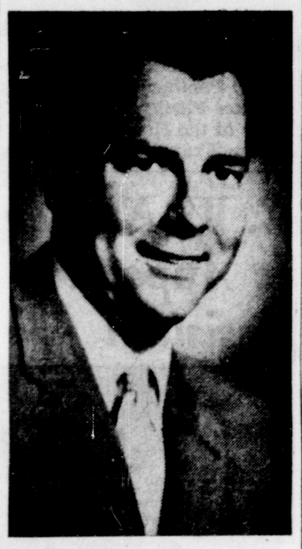
UNDER NO circumstances, Berman stressed, should the bride apply for a new Social Security account number if one has already been assigned to her.

The Northwest district office is located at 4255 Milwaukee ave., Chicago. The telephone is KI. 5-8844.

DuPage county readers are served by the district office located at 1124 Westgate ave., Oak Park.

Real Estate Firm Formed In Suburbs



JOSEPH CONNELLY

Formation of a new real estate firm, Hasbrook Realty company, to handle the resale of homes in the Hasbrook subdivision of Arlington Heights, was announced last week.

The company will be headed by Joseph Connelly, licensed real estate broker. He was formerly with Heitman Mortgage company.

Connelly said that at first the new company will handle only the resale of Hasbrook homes. Later, it may offer multiple listings of real estate available throughout the northwest suburban area.

The company will operate as a division of Hasbrook Construction Co., Inc., which is completing development of the 532-home subdivision in Arlington Heights. Connelly pointed out that Hasbrook owners who sell their homes through the realty division benefit from the advertising and merchandising given to the subdivision's new homes.

Hose Spraying Can Cause Plants Harm

Flowering annuals benefit very little from light sprinklings of water applied in the evening with a hose nozzle. And this practice may actually do more harm than good, according to G.M. Fosler, University of Illinois floriculturist.

Merely moistening the surface of the soil causes the roots to be quite shallow. Then when the really hot weather arrives the flowers will "pant" from the heat rather quickly. Moist foliage that does not have a chance to dry off before dark is also susceptible to diseases.

Flowering annuals, like most garden flowers, require the equivalent of about one inch of rainfall per week. In some summers nature provides an ample supply of moisture.

BUT DURING prolonged dry spells, you need to water flowers thoroughly and then not rewater until the soil has become somewhat dry again. Put on enough water to soak down eight or nine inches - the entire root zone.

Water early enough to allow the foliage to dry off before nightfall. Many commercial sprinklers are satisfactory for general garden watering. But they should apply the water uniformly and in small droplets so that the soil will not be unduly puddled and compacted.

Some gardeners prefer the soak-hose, which applies water gently and keeps the foliage dry.

Never use water that has gone through the home softener. On the other hand, very hard water applied repeatedly may gradually make the soil alkaline, a condition that is not favorable to many plants.

Applying moisture is only part of the job. Conserving moisture is also important. The old "dust mulch" theory has been pretty well debunked, according to Fosler. But several materials that are satisfactory for mulching are peatmoss, compost, well-rotted manure and corncobs.

THESE ORGANIC mulches conserve moisture and cut down on your water bill. In addition, they help to keep the soil cooler in summer, hold down weeds and add organic matter to the soil.

But a few words of caution: When mulches have been applied, it is sometimes necessary to use a little more nitrogen fertilizer because the decomposition of some materials robs the soil of this nutrient.

New developments worth investigating are paper and plastic mulches. They are not too usable in the border of a formal garden bed, but they are practical for the cutting garden where the flowers are planted in rows. (BB

The Way We See It

Better Coordination Of Tax Bodies Eyed

An Evanston alderman recently came up with a suggestion for saving taxpayer dollars that deserves consideration by governmental units everywhere, and particularly in the northwest suburbs.

The alderman noted that closer coordination between governmental bodies in such matters as purchases, use of equipment, and bond issue referendums would save Evanston taxpayers at least $100,000 annually.

The rapid growth of our area; the increasing demand for services accompanied by larger budgets and frequent bond issues, and the creation of new taxing bodies makes our suburban communities ideal for such coordination.

In some instances schools and parks share playgrounds. In Arlington Heights a nurse's time is financed jointly by the village and the school district.

There are, however, instances in which two bond issue referendums have been held within a matter of weeks by different taxing bodies serving the same community. While such "planning" might help the passage of the bond issues, it also doubles the expense of holding a single referendum.

Joint purchases of such items as paper, light bulbs, and maintenance supplies might also save a considerable sum. Particularly since many of our smaller government units now purchase many items as they are needed, making a trip to the local hardware store for a screw or to a stationery store for envelopes.

YMCA Benefit Offers Top Show for Worthy Project

In an effort to help pay for its new $1 million building, the Northwest Suburban YMCA is producing a spectacular stage show next month at Maine East high school, Des Plaines.

Entitled "Laugh-O-Rama," the giant production is starring such top personalities as comedian Bob Hope and singer Anita Bryant, among others. It is the largest stage presentation of its kind ever attempted in northwest suburbs.

Tickets to the two-hour show are being sold on a donation basis. Suburbanites will get more than value received for their donations with the top-flight entertainment which has been planned.

More important, support of the Laugh-O-Rama benefit is vital to the success of the new Northwest Suburban YMCA. The need for the building is desperate. The area's rapid growth has left it without facilities to handle the leisure time of its residents, numbering over 200,000 persons. Designed to serve residents in Arlington Heights, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Des Plaines, Elk Grove, Mount Prospect, and Prospect Heights, the structure is tentatively scheduled to open November 15, and is designed to accommodate a membership of 5,000 families.

It will include such features as an indoor swimming pool, gym, youth club rooms, health and recreational facilities, meeting rooms, exercise rooms, a lounge, and a businessmen's club.

We urge all suburbanites to support the YMCA's Laugh-O-Rama and help to insure the success of November's opening.

This Is Time to Stress Basic American Ideals

Television viewers who insist on waiting until the station has signed off for the night before turning off the set will be familiar with the film which customarily serves as a background for the national anthem. Jets, guided missiles, tanks, marching soldiers, and even atomic bombs become a backdrop for the "Star Spangled Banner." Either no one objects to this militaristic portrayal of the United States or else everyone has deserted the TV set for bed, for as far as we know, no one has voiced a complaint.

Let us then be the first, or one of the first, to say that this combination of a beloved song with a boastful display of destructive might is distasteful. These jets and guided missiles are not America. True, we have had to design these weapons in order to protect our country. But let us not confuse the protection with the protected. Let us, rather, show the farms, the cities, the natural beauty, and the artistic accomplishments of our country. Let us show the energetic, fun-loving, and creative characteristics of a populace, rather than bayonet-bearing battalions somewhat reminiscent of the Nazi military inspections.

Perhaps the fact that the national anthem was composed under the stress of war has confused the networks. However, Francis Scott Key's amazement was due to the flag's survival of war, not because war had put it there.

We need no weapons of war to remind us that these are dangerous times. We do, however, need to be reminded of those ideals for which this country was established. Without these ideals, interpreted in our everyday lives, we have nothing to protect. The phrase is "home of the brave," gentlemen, not "home of the grave."

State Rd. Access Urged

Arlington Heights village trustees recently passed a resolution urging that an entrance and exit for the Northwest Toll Road be constructed at State rd. (Arlington Heights rd.).

This is an excellent suggestion and one which we hope the Toll Road Commission will consider seriously.

At present, motorists from Arlington Heights (pop. 27,940) must drive several miles to Route 53 or Route 83 for access to the tollway. With completion of the Northwest Expressway slated this year, it would be possible to drive from the proposed State rd. entrance to the Loop in 30 minutes. Such convenience would certainly attract additional business for the tollway, and eventually, more than pay for cost of construction.

Urban Needs Now Stressed

by CHARLES HAYES

The migration to the suburbs and the resulting urban explosion, as well as the migration from one region of the country to another, has radically influenced the makeup of political parties.

This was particularly evident at the Democratic national convention, when the Democratic party demonstrated that changes in the complexion of metropolitan areas have developed a potential field of Democratic converts.

It has become increasingly apparent that the future of both political parties no longer rests with dwindling farm populations or declining rural communities. Peter F. Drucker summed it up recently: "Our overcrowded urban frontier may well shape national affairs in this century just as the empty Western frontier did in the last."

DEMOCRATS sought to attract metropolitan voters by placing high priority on urban needs. Their platform, for example, stressed such concerns as unemployment, labor relations, industrial growth, housing, education, social security, medical and other benefits for the aged, and hospital construction. It even called for a national transportation policy to tackle the plight of mass transit systems, railroads, highways, airports and airways.

And in his acceptance speech, Presidential nominee John F. Kennedy declared: "Here at home, the changing face of the future is revolutionary. An urban population revolution has overcrowded our schools, cluttered up our suburbs, and increased the squalor of our slums."

I agree with those who insist that it's time to come to grips with the problems of our metropolitan areas. Without proper leadership at all levels of government, what are now merely problems will become crises — in education, housing, mass transportation, law enforcement, drainage and water supply, highways, hospitals, and so on.

WE HAVE not even begun to cope with our urban problems.

Yet, we have become an urban and, especially, a suburban people. Two-thirds of the American people already live in metropolitan areas, and in another 15 years it will be four-fifths.

Demands for community services continue to spiral, and hardly anyone has yet to determine what the "urban sprawl" will cost in men and money.

State and local governments have been pushed to the end of their financial rope. Many cities are hanging on only by postponing long scheduled construction or overdue maintenance. State and municipal governments are milking all they can get from traditional sources of revenue, offering no relief for the unbearable and unending pressure on local taxpayers. Even if the economy expands rapidly — as both Democrat and Republican propose — those sources will not get much fatter.

A NEW suburban home may cost twice as much in community services as it produces in real estate property tax. So if state or local governments are to meet the demands of today — let alone those of tomorrow — they will have to go beyond their traditional tax basis. They will have to siphon off tax revenues now flowing into federal coffers.

If state and local governments fail to get new major sources of income, the federal government will be left, by default, with the rising demand for community services. This seems to be the Democrats' solution to problems created by the "urban sprawl."

This would, inevitably, set off the great debate about the role of government. It would also trigger an economic battle; the federal government, to pay for additional community services, would have to invade revenue sources now held by state and local governments.

THE DEMOCRATIC party has recognized urban needs; it has proposed solutions based upon federal assistance and planning.

Next week the Republican party, which has traditionally looked to state and local governments for the answer to community needs, will have an opportunity to offer their solutions.

The magnitude of the problems is such that vague generalities about "leaving it up to states and local communities" is not sufficient. How does the GOP propose that lesser levels of government find the funds to finance needed services? What are specific alternatives to national planning and action? Is the only alternative to federal action a reduction in community services?

These are grave questions which deserve thoughtful answers. The stakes are high: it is the survival and future of the metropolis.

Cuban Crisis Poses Grave Challenge to U. S. Policy

by WILLIAM L. DULANEY

Seven years ago this month 200 men and two women, mostly students, led by a 26-year-old lawyer, came down from Cuba's Sierra Maestra mountains to launch a revolution which today threatens not only hemispheric unity, but world peace.

The "July 26th Movement" of Fidel Castro has prompted one United States congressman to urge this country's occupation of Cuba. Others have denounced the island as a Soviet satellite, a base from which an attack could be launched at our underbelly.

The Monroe Doctrine has been dusted off, and Russia, in turn, has assured Cuba of help in preserving its independence. Through all of this, Dr. Castro nightly harangues his television audience on the dangers of a United States invasion of Cuba.

THE WHOLE MESS is scheduled to be aired either before the United Nations Security Council or the Organization of American States this week.

Peiping and Moscow are undoubtedly attempting to secure a foothold in Latin America through Cuba's revolutionary government. Neither can the presence of Soviet oriented communists in Castro's government be denied.

This situation makes it vitally important that the United States ask itself the question:

Are we willing to not only tolerate but cooperate with a socialist government 90 miles to the south that is neither communist nor anti-communist, but welcomes the support of those interested in furthering the social revolution going on in Cuba?

IF THE answer is "yes," we can meet and triumph over the communist-bloc challenge in the Western Hemisphere.

If the answer is "no," we will once again have demonstrated our inability to grasp the upheavals that are taking place in the world today - upheavals that are concerned less with communist vs. anti-communist battles than with rising aspirations of peoples.

For Cuba is but a prelude and a tip-off to a new kind of revolution that will soon be sweeping Latin America. It is a revolution that brings with it a new social order rather than merely replacing one strong man with another.

It is our failure to understand this that has led to steadily deteriorating relations with Cuba.

EVEN MANY in the Cuban middle and upper class misjudged Castro. They, like the United States, felt he would eliminate corruption, the grosser excesses of the Batista regime, and perhaps commence a mild land reform program. Few had any idea Castro would change the entire economic and social structure of the country as is happening today.

The turning point in United States' relations with Cuba could be marked as May 17, 1959, the day the Agrarian Reform Act was signed into law. While lacking a well defined political ideology, Castro has in the past year steered a course toward a socialist society, not the least of whose goals is to make Cuba economically independent of the United States.

In so doing, he has outraged many Americans by his highhanded seizure of United States investments and overtures toward Soviet Russia and Red China.

Such seizures, however, are not uncommon, extending back to the 1930's when Mexico nationalized its oil fields and paid for them 10 years later at one-fourth the price asked by foreign investors.

FURTHER, it should come as no shock that Castro has welcomed Soviet support in the face of United States opposition to his revolutionary program, much as Yugoslavia welcomed United States support in 1948 after its break with Russia.

Stated once again, the question we must answer is:

Are we willing to assist the first phase of a Latin American revolution which will ultimately cost American investors billions of dollars in expropriated property and break our economic dominance of our neighbors to the south? Or shall we continue to misjudge world events to the advantage of the Soviet Union?

Undependale, Indecisive

Undramatic Cold War Shapes, Hurts U. S.

by MARTIN E. MARTY

How profound must a shock be before a whole society feels it? John Kenneth Galbraith argues that our nation 'remembers' two events beyond all others and that these events are reflected in political decisions.

The first of these is the Civil War and the second is the Great Depression.

He is perhaps correct in his choice of these events. The first set up brother against brother in a war that had profound consequences for later history. We are still picking up the pieces of it in the sectionalism that reflects itself in politics (the Los Angeles convention was a case in point) and its almost mystic consequences for our national memory will make itself clear during the next four years as we commemorate minute by minute the centennial of Civil War events.

MEANWHILE, the Great Depression of the 1930s left its stamp on the entire country. Rich and poor alike were affected by its traumatic threats, and much legislation, much politicking, much theorizing is still based on its memory.

What about World War I and World War II? Galbraith argues that even these tremendously significant circumstances did not basically shape our nation. In each case our survival did not seem to be at stake; our cities were not bombed; we sent 'expeditionary' forces into foreign wars.

This is drastically different than the experience of England, for instance. There a summons to the Western front in World War I meant almost certain death; the life expectancy of every First Lieutenant receiving such a call was two days to two weeks.

IF THE Civil War united and divided us and the Great Depression gave us a permanent set of hopes and fears, the Wars hardly made us more warlike or more peaceful.

I would argue that we now are involved in a third event big enough to become part of the whole nation's way of thinking, to form part of its racial memory. We usually call this event the 'Cold War.' It is, moment by moment, quite undramatic — as was the Depression — but it is molding us all and will more and more give rise to political decisions.

The reason I would argue for a Cold War consciousness is this: its basic character is indeterminacy and indecisiveness. Never a MacArthurite, I would agree with those who shared his frustration in the face of a Korean war we couldn't win — no one wins or really loses in cold wars. A Cold War and its permanent need for armament artifically helps inflate an economy. This makes us prosperous in a needful world and helps us build some illusions; yet we sense their dreamy character and their sense of impermanence.

THE indeterminacy of a Cold War presents problems too big to tackle so we are tempted to resign ourselves into apathy.

This accounts in part for the "cool world" of a coming generation, an "I'm all right, Jack" mentality in the face of reforms.

Collegians feel they'll sit this one out — except for really important causes like Newport Festivals — until sitting things out becomes a way of life.

Isn't this partly why the moralists are right, that we are getting soft, undependable, indecisive, why we lack national purpose?

The undramatic Cold War is doing more to shape and to hurt our nation than the Hot Wars ever did. If we learn that, maybe we can begin to attack the subtle psychological pressures that edge in on us all. Some think we could act again.

Want to Talk? You're Invited

I was quite concerned after reading an article "Where Will Peasants End?" which appeared in the July 14 edition of the Fence Post.

Winston Park is composed of many progressively educated young families. Daily coffee clatches are devoted to discussing a political issue, a rezoning appeal or something else of current political interest. I feel our Republican Workshop may appeal to many couples, who with Mrs. Witzel, feel civic, cultural and political issues in particular, are suppressed. We feel the American public, we who enjoy the privileges of citizenship, should perform faithfully the duties of the same.

FIRST, WE MUST know—and attain a thorough understanding with all the major ideas abroad in the world. We must then discuss, share and test our views with others and then draw our conclusions. Only then can we act upon our views.

To do so, we must work in politics—with that particular party which after careful study we find ourselves closest in agreement with. The Republican Workshop motto is "Education for Action." We feel there are many young couples in our areas or from surrounding townships who are not easily brainwashed and who wish to participate in an unsuppressed discussion such as ours.

We cordially invite all these couples to contact, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jicka, 1426 Reynolds, Palatine, Flanders 8-2247 for further information with regard to these discussions.

The front page picture published July 7, in our opinion, is in very poor taste and totally unnecessary.

We believe in "freedom of the press" and also believe in "freedom from the press."

Stray Cats Troublesome

I agree with the party from Wood Dale about stray cats. They are very troublesome in Palatine also.

Last Sunday morning, when I could have slept an extra few minutes, a couple of cats sat right under my bedroom window and kept up their screaming noise.

Why don't people keep their cats home as well as their dogs? They are always roaming in our yard.

Opposition Group Speaks

The Palatine Enterprise, on July 14, gave front page coverage to the annexation protest which took place July 11 at the village hall in Palatine.

At this meeting, the president of the Arlington Crest Civic association accused the opposition - who objected to the manner in which the annexation proceedings were conducted - of "inuendo," or alleged insinuations.

SOMEHOW, it becomes difficult to realize how an officer who is supposed to represent the people of our community and association could take a stand against 100 signers of a petition presented to the village board asking a 30-day delay in order to review and, if necessary, conduct another election in accordance with the law prescribed for an election of this nature. It becomes doubly difficult to realize how, in one breath, he could call us his very good friends and neighbors and in the next accuse us of "inuendo."

Continuing with facts which are contained in the county court records, we learned that the original petition signed by 156 residents was a petition for annexation and not a petition requesting the court judge for an election as we were led to believe.

In addition, a letter contained in the court records revealed that Arlington Heights had no action pending to annex our community and it very clearly stipulated no one on the board had authority to make any commitment. This, of course, was contrary to the information the committee passed on to the people. It was also stated there was a hearing before the court, but the only court action we can find was the Rizzo trial at which no mention was made of annexation, only the rezoning of 200 feet deep across Rizzo's farm, to which he objected, as was his right.

WE FEEL that the village board acted discourteously and did not seem interested in our group when we were trying to make a point, and after the board voted for annexation the village president commented that he realized the decision was an unpopular one.

It seems that the tactics used to push this annexation were not in accordance with, or met with the approval of the majority of the people of the Crest who want to remain unincorporated.

Inaccuracies Are Corrected

Thank you very much for the fine interview which your enterprising young reporter, Bruce Ladd, gave to me recently. He was most courteous and I appreciate the presentation which he gave in your paper last week. However, there are several inaccuracies which are not too important but which I think ought to be corrected, as there will be some readers who will notice them immediately. The errors were probably my fault and not his.

First of all there are 210,000 Presbyterian members in Illinois and not 2 million.

SECONDLY, in the Presbyterian denomination ministers are not transferred or assigned but are called, and can accept or decline as they feel led.

Thirdly, I am the first "resident" Moderator of the Synod of the Presbytery of Chicago in nearly 25 years. There was one 13 years ago who lived in Champaign.

In behalf of all of the officers and members of my congregation, I want to express to Paddock Publications our appreciation for all the fine publicity you give to our church and to all the other churches in the area.

Screen Porch Really Tops

Our home is six years old and the first summer we added a screened porch. We are only sorry it wasn't included in the first place and the next time one will be. It is 14 feet by 23 feet and we LOVE it!

Usually we eat out there every night in warmer weather. (Everyone must admit this summer is unusually cool and not fit patio weather either). In defense of the porch over the patio--NO BUGS. We never could enjoy sitting outside unscreened. Since it is an east porch it is never hot and degrees cooler than front of houses. This is a much appreciated fact on those over 90 degrees days.

Patios are probably prettier but give me a porch any HOT, BUGGY or RAINY DAY.

It was indeed a very great pleasure and honor to read your article about my husband, our father and grandfather in the last issue of the Arlington Heights Herald.

'Long-fed' Cattle Hold High Return Above Feed Record

For the past 11 years, long-fed steer calves and long-fed yearling steers have made the most return above feed costs and costs of the feeder.

This is what the records show for Illinois record-keeping farmers who bought good to choice feeder cattle in the fall. University of Illinois agricultural economist Earl R. Swanson reported that steer calves weighing less than 500 pounds when bought averaged $39.07 a head return above feed costs and the cost of the feeder. The long-fed yearling steers, fed under a summer pasture program and weighing 500 to 750 pounds when purchased, averaged $37.32.

In only one of the past 11 years, 1951-52, did these systems fail to pay for at least the cost of the feeder and the feed.

Long-fed heifer calves and long-fed yearling steers fed under a drylot program failed to pay the feeder and feed costs in two of the 11 years.

Short-fed yearling steers weighing 500 to 750 pounds when purchased failed to meet these costs in three of the 11 years. Short-fed heavy steers above 750 pounds when purchased made the lowest average return. They failed to pay back feeder and feed costs in four of the 11 years.

1960 Rules Against Hog Cholera, Brucellosis

The "1960 Illinois Livestock Exhibition Regulations" outline the required protection for show swine against hog cholera and swine brucellosis, Dr. J. R. Pickard, University of Illinois extension veterinarian, announced recently.

He said regulations require that Illinois swine be vaccinated with "anti-hog cholera serum and virus or modified live virus vaccine more than 14 days before exhibition; or by serum alone method up to 15 days before exhibition."

However, vaccination certificates will be accepted only for adult animals vaccinated with "live virus" cholera vaccine prior to June 30, 1957. Illinois law prohibits use of this vaccine after that date.

REGULATIONS also specify that vaccination by Boynton tissue vaccine or crystal violet vaccine be done "not less than 14 days nor more than six months before exhibition, provided that pigs treated by either of these last two methods are at least eight weeks of age at the time of vaccination."

If swine are vaccinated by someone other than a licensed veterinarian, the owner must present an affidavit showing the date of vaccination, according to the regulations.

Brucellosis also requires special attention. "Illinois breeding swine, four months of age and over, for exhibition in the state shall also be accompanied by an official brucellosis certificate showing the swine to have been negative to the agglutination test for brucellosis conducted within 90 days before exhibition." Lake Zurich Set For Alpine Fete

Lake Zurich has taken on the aspects of a Swiss village for the four-day Alpine Festival, staged annually by the Lions club.

The 1960 event, which opens tonight, Thursday, is slated to raise funds toward transformation of a slough into a public park. It will be held in the park at routes 62 and 22 in the heart of town.

THE FESTIVAL will open each evening at 7 p.m. with water fights between teams of visiting firemen. Teams from Wauconda, Long Grove, Round Lake and Barrington will battle on opening night, pitting their equipment and skill against one another to push a barrel across the finish line with a stream from a fire hose.

Friday night Fox Lake and Lake Villa, Lake Zurich and Grayslake is the line-up. Winners will enter the semi-finals Saturday, and the champions will be decided Sunday.

There will be seven thrilling rides, booths, games and entertainment. Young people can dance under the stars on the large dance floor. Their elders will enjoy the music of Johnny Walters and his Bavarian band. The troupe includes peasant dancers and yodelers, and features polka tunes.

TO CLIMAX the festivities, an Alpine Queen will be crowned Sunday evening immediately following the water fights. The festival will open evenings at 7, except Sunday when activity will start in the afternoon.

A Swiss theme will be carried throughout, with the Lions in Alpine costume, Swiss novelties offered at the booths, an authentic reproduction of a biergarten, and bratwurst and kraut served each evening at the eat stand, where usual carnival fare will also be on the menu. (B8

THE HOUSE THAT SECURITY BUILT

Boy Defies Arlington Home's 'Ghosts'

Ghosts are haunting Arlington Heights in the village's most prominent "Haunted House."

A "Haunted House" is a sore temptation to any red-blooded boy.

To Jamie Mill, 5, of 402 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights, as to practically dozens of village youths, the "haunt" at 212 W. Campbell was too intriguing to pass up.

Daniel Boone might have detoured the front entrance of the deserted two-story frame, for a wild tangle of underbrush and orange-blossomed trumpet vines have so snarled the front porch and entrance as to create a jungle.

Not for Jamie. Without a trusty machete, he tore with his bare fingernails, clawed away, pitted his puny strength against the insidious growth. But like long, outreaching arms folded akimbo, the "House" barred his entrance, seeming to say:

"T'aint fitten fur wild beast ner man, let alone you, boy. Scat!"

THERE MIGHT be a mite of Scotch stubbornness in Jamie somewhere, for having failed to cross the grim threshold, and panting for breath, he made his way around to the left, crouched against the broken-paned basement windows and peered into the darkness.

Not a sound reached him from the dreaded interior. Fear circled the silent structure, crept along its weather-beaten black shingles, along its ghostly siding up the roof, past the TV antenna still standing upright like a sentinel above the tall chimney.

Jamie crept around to the other side, where boughs from a nearby tree had broken across the porch. A screen door beckoned. Whatever awaited him on the interior was on the other side of that flimsy aperture.

HE HESITATED. Like many others his age, he knew that the older kids had tossed snowballs through the glass windows, splintering them with the savage joy of destruction only youngsters can know or "goofing around in there," only to be chased away by the village police.

He had heard Dave Scholow, 14, of 302 W. Campbell, and his buddy, Richard Majerus, 221 S. Walnut, discussing what the police had done in chasing the kids out.

And only the day before, he heard Theodore Brif, 208 W. Wing, say to his son-in-law, Charles Schwingel: "That property should be condemned. It's unsightly. There will be children hurt."

He heard Schwingel agree: "Kids can get hurt playing anywhere here."

ANOTHER VOICE had joined in, that of a neighbor woman: "Last fall, they didn't turn off the water and the pipes froze and burst."

Last fall, the people had moved out. The building was condemned. But it invited him, as he hesitated. He couldn't understand all the talk of the older people. But older people couldn't know how attractive and inviting the House was. And he wasn't afraid. He was five years old, and boy, this was fun!

HE CREPT UP the stairs, peered in. Doors, more doors, closets, with maybe ghosts and skeletons. Peering through a hole in the door, he took his courage in his two hands and swung it open, gasping with expectation. Silence. Not a sound.

Over the shattered glass on the floor and the toppled furniture he crept. Gripping a club to attack unexpected demons, he advanced up the stairs, ready to repel monsters, hobgoblins, devils.

With a war whoop, he rushed up the remaining stairs, swung his club at invisible enemies. He had conquered the House, taken it single-handed. He let out a shout, sang at the top of his voice, laughed loudly, sang. He wasn't a-scared.

SUDDENLY, HE heard what sounded like a groan. His knees shook, the whites of his eyes danced in the half-gloom. He gripped his club tightly, then bounded for the stairs, reaching the bottom in record time, then sped across the glass splinters and broken furniture and out the screen door, not daring to look about him.

"Robin," he yelled, "Robin," as he spied his 12-year-old sister.

"What's the matter," Robin scolded. "You look like you saw a ghost."

"The House," gasped Jamie. "Up there."

"Not me," said Robin. "I'm not going in no old Haunted House. No sir!"

JAMIE CLIMBED up on the scarred trunk of a dead tree. "Scairdy cat," he said. "See that. I was in there. I'm not afraid of nothin.' "

Robin's eyes opened wide. "Oh," she said. "Gosh." And she looked with awe at the ghostly building and turned to stare at her brother. "Gosh," she said.

For Haunted Houses are fearful things, and only little boys would dare to look for ghosts. (PP

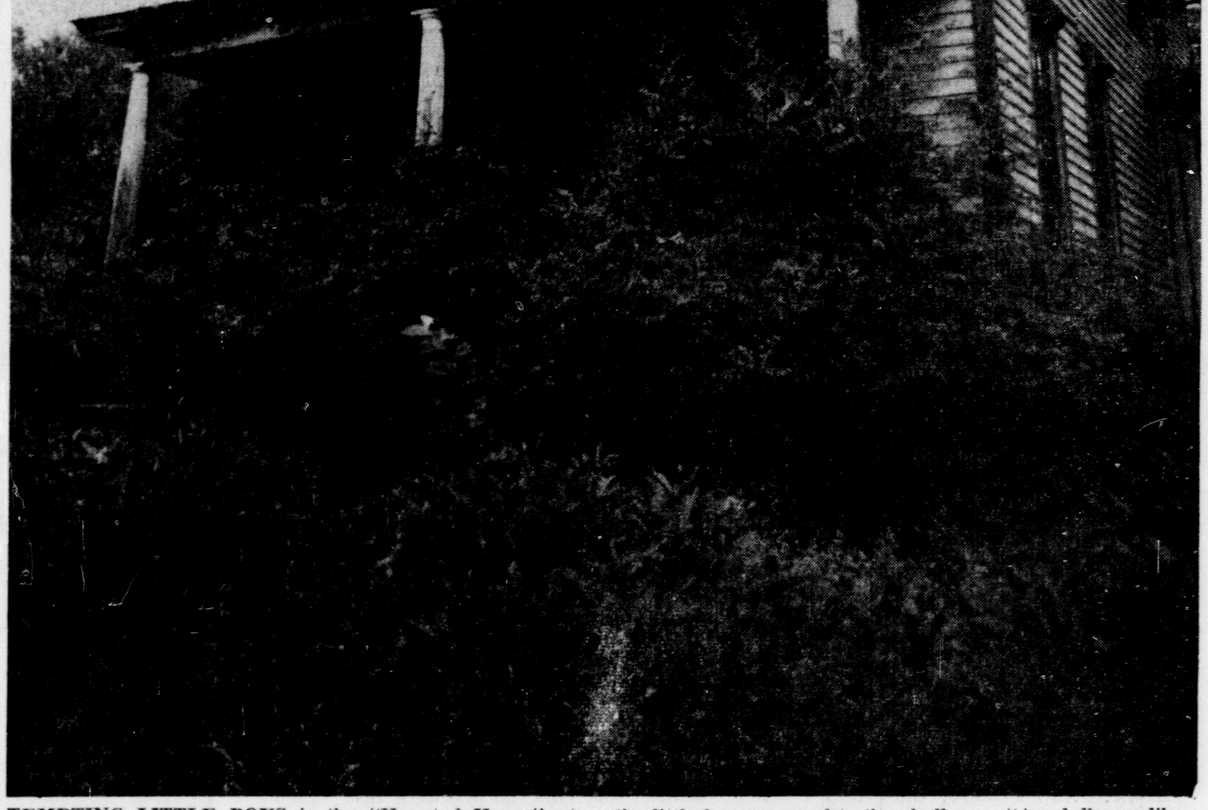
(At right) UP THE STAIRS for further adventure goes Jamie, secure in the knowledge that he is armed with a club, which would repel the fiercest band of Norseman or—perhaps even a ghost.

(Below) FLINGING OPEN THE DOORS, terror grips Jamie in anticipation of vampire bats and Draculas and possible Frankensteins, but only silence greets him. The House beckons further.



TEMPTING LITTLE BOYS is the "Haunted House" at 212 W. Campbell, being swallowed up by a jungle of underbrush and the orange trumpet-blossomed vine. The target of children, its many broken windows peer like evil eyes hypnotizing youth to come within its embrace. And boldly, the little boys respond to the challenge. "An ol dhouse like that," brags one youth, "just wants you to go in and explore it." "All the kids think it's neat going in there," said another. Brave little five-year-old Jamie Mill is undaunted by creaking doors, skeletons in closets and weeping ghosts.

Melvin Friend Takes Bride In Santa Barbara Ceremony

White cabbage roses and satin ribbons decorated the pews of Grace church in Santa Barbara July 1 for the double ring candlelight marriage service of Miss Pennylee Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Richardson of that town, and Melvin Friend, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Slinkard, 3501 Bob-O-Link, Rolling Meadows.

For the 7 p.m. ceremony the bride chose a white lace sheath, to which was attached a white nylon overskirt, enhancing the empire waistline and ending in a back bow. A crown of seed pearls and satin petals held her shoulder-length illusion veil in place; flowers were white glamellias and feathered carnations with satin streamers.

THE BRIDE'S jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from her parents, and a pearl bracelet set in carved silver, gift of the Slinkards. Her grandparents provided a "something borrowed" item, a Spanish heirloom sterling silver knife, dating back to the 1800's, used to cut the wedding cake at the reception following.

Attendants were Miss Taylor's classmates from Santa Barbara high school and college, Miss Sally Irving, maid of honor, and Misses Ethel Hecock and Arlene Johnson, bridesmaids. Their gowns were pink raw silk over matching taffeta, cut in princess lines. Headpieces were velvet bows; white cabbage roses and gladioli formed their bouquets.

REV. DAVIES O. McCamy officiated at the wedding rites as Miss Carolyn Wiseman offered several musical selections on the organ.

Best man was the groom's roommate at the University of California, Santa Barbara, Michael Bender, a resident of Akron. Ushers included his brother, Ronald, and Neil Ranga, Santa Barbara.

A powder blue chantilly lace gown with scalloped tiers over taffeta and matching cap crown hat was worn by the bride's mother, who completed her ensemble with white accessories. Mrs. Slinkard was attired in a fern green raw silk shantung princess line dress with black accessories. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

One-hundred guests were present at the wedding reception held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. Among them were Mr. Friend's youngest brother, Keith, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Venita Wilson of Arlington Heights.

Service League's Little L-G Cheers Hospitalized Tots

Little L-G holds no M.D. degree, but the staff in the pediatrics department of Lutheran General hospital would willingly give him a master's in child psychology. His perky face and cheery, cherry suit brighten many an hour that small patients must spend in hospital surroundings. Since February 1, more than 500 Little L-G puppets, made in the league workshop by members and junior Candy-Stripers, have been given to young patients.

"As a morale builder, Littel L-G is tops," say the nurses in pediatrics. And volunteers serving there agree one of their greatest pleasures is seeing the wide-eyed look with which youngsters greet the little clown and the gratitude parents show when they learn he is a gift for their child to take home.

IN 34 OTHER areas of the hospital, Service league volunteers bring a smile and a helping hand to patients and hospital staff alike. Members act as hostesses, mail clerks, typists, receptionists, handle control desks on each floor and act as ward clerks in emergency. In the gift shop, they assist Mrs. Louise Hansen, manager, and take the gift cart to patient floors each day.

Volunteers handle the doctors' call board and take messages for them in the medical staff lounge. Working directly under the supervision of doctors and registered nurses, they assist with recreational and occupational activities in neuropsychiatry. They are setting up a patients' library, and are active in fund-raising.

THEIR UNTIRING efforts have made possible the purchase of 35 TV sets which the league rents to patients, and the installation in two nurseries of Identofoto machines for photographing new babies. Service league members are also bringing in donors to the hospital blood bank; many of these donors have agreed not to take a personal "blood credit" but to give their credit to the league, which means a $15 reduction in the league's pledge to the hospital building fund for each pint of blood so credited.

Mrs. Fred H. Burrows, volunteer director, reports that in the first six months of this year the 750-member league has contributed 23,103 hours of in-hospital service.

Candy Stripers, since they first began serving June 12, have given 505 hours through July 2; their group has grown so fast that membership in it is temporarily closed. But membership in the Service league itself is still open. Those interested may call Mrs. Burrows at TAlcott 5-4434. (S

"I'M A BIT BEWILDERED—is this for me?" That's what Joan Kennedy, Des Plaines, seems to be asking Lutheran General hospital Service league volunteers Mrs. Irvin Nelson, left, of Glenview, and Mrs. C. A. Neff of Mt. Prospect. "Little L-G" puppet clown, made in the Service league workshop, is given to each child patient at the hospital.

Prospect, was gowned in silk organza over taffeta, the dress falling into a chapel train with two panels of alencon lace extending from the bodice down to the hemline. Lace embroidery edged the round neckline, and a bow complemented with a round rose swirl trimmed the waistline at the back of the gown. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place with a pearl crown, and the bridal bouquet was of amazon lilies and stephanotis with ivy leaves.

CERISE AND white was the color scheme carried out in the attire of the bridal attendants. Miss Gloria Peterson of Chicago, maid of honor, wore a cerise and white striped silk organza trimmed with a cerise cummerbund and bow at the back of the waist. Her headpiece was of camellia leaves with tiny gladioli buds and a cerise face veil. She carried glamellias with camellia foliage. Bridesmaid was Mrs. Joanne Keller of Glenview, who was attired exactly as the maid of honor.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Leaton of Wilmette, had David Keller of Glenview as his best man, and ushers were Terrance Murphy of Oconomowoc, Wis., William Sullivan of Rochester, N.Y., and William Johnson of Cincinnati, Ohio.

ALL OF THE bridal attendants were gowned alike in white lace over blue taffeta with white accessories, and each carried a cascade of pink carnations. Maid of honor was Pauline Dokmo of Wood Dale; bridesmaids were Linda Fontara of Arlington Heights and Yolanda Mueller of Des Plaines. Best man was Otto Miedema of Addison, and ushering the guests to their pews were Ken Prince of Wood Dale and Hank Slinkman of Berwyn.

Six-year-old Shelly Sipp of Lincoln, Nebr., served as flower girl in a blue nylon dress trimmed in white lace and carried a miniature cascade of pink carnation. Ring bearer was her brother, David, 7.

Mrs. Robert J. Muldoon of Arlington Heights, married her former schoolmate, Joseph William Whitacre, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Whitacre of Springfield. The bride, a registered nurse, is employed in a Cincinnati hospital and her bridegroom is in his last year at the University of Cincinnati.

The double ring ceremony took place at 11:30 a.m. amid a setting of white gladioli and snowdrift mums with Rev. O'Hara officiating. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of bouquet taffeta with a long chapel train and elbow - length sleeves. Lace medallions with seed pearls adorned the neckline, and there was a loose panel down the back from the waist to the end of the train with matching medallions. The veil was waist - length with a crown of pearls, and her flowers were African lilies and stephanotis.

THE MAID of honor, Miss Jo Ann Schrichte of Hamilton, Ohio, was attired in a pale blue peau de soie sheath with a panel down the back to match that of the bride's gown. She carried a crescent bouquet of white snowdrift mums, and lilies of the valley accented her half-hat.

Miss Christine Whitacre and Miss Patricia Selke, both of Springfield, and Miss Geraldine Abrams of Cincinnati, were bridesmaids and were dressed similar to the maid of honor.

The bride's mother received in a sheath of bone peau de soie with matching accessories and a hybrid orchid. Mrs. Whitacre, mother of the groom, was dressed in blue with white accessories and a white orchid.

THE GROOM was attended by his brother, Michael Whitacre, as best man and James Carney and James Haemmerle of Springfield and Robert S. Muldoon of Arlington Heights as ushers.

A reception for 150 guests was held in the Itasca country club following the ceremony. After a 10-day honeymoon, the couple is now residing at 2608 Shaffer ave., Cincinnati 11, Ohio.

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

A Visit to Santa

Dear Peg:

I announced to the girls yesterday, before they were even out of bed, that I had a surprise for them if they'd hurry and get dressed and come down for breakfast. We had been at the beach the day before and all of us were pretty sunburned, so I felt even though it was another beautiful sunny day that we'd better think of something else to do and stay out of the sun. It's such fun entertaining my nieces, Dottie and Debbie. They are so thrilled with every new little thing we do, even if it's no more than making a "clubhouse" out of the garage attic.

The girls came scurrying downstairs as I was finishing the scrambled eggs and begged to know what the surprise was.

"Well, I think we'll go to the North Pole today." I said, watching with amusement the look of surprise on Dottie's and Debbie's faces.

"Oh, Aunt Patty," they exclaimed with disbelief, "where are we really going?"

"I told you. We're going to the North Pole to see Santa Claus and his house and the place where he makes all the toys for the good little girls and boys."

This time they just looked at me, as if I had taken leave of my senses.

With more than a touch of disgust, Megan spoke up; "Honestly, Mother, we're not babies! We're going out to Santa's Village where Grandma McArdle took us last summer."

"That's right! How did you ever guess?" I asked innocently.

"Oh good!" exclaimed Bridget, who remembered the fun they'd had before. "It's lots of fun. There are all kinds of rides and little animals to see and cute little houses that look like fairy houses, where you can go in and buy candy or toys or books."

I think that Patrick and Joseph actually enjoyed Santa's Village more than the girls. They were enchanted with Santa's house in which he has a magnificent canopied bed made of a white sleigh, a beautiful Christmas tree and a red velvet covered throne. They also begged to ride again and again on the miniature train and the sleigh pulled by real reindeer.

The girls seemed to enjoy the ride around the giant Christmas tree and were intrigued by the jaunt in Cinderella's coach, drawn by six snow white ponies.

This is a charming place to see and undoubtedly cost a great deal of money to put together, however it is quite over-priced. The admission is too high — one dollar for adults, 50 cents for children over eight and 25 cents for those under. Every ride costs a quarter and some are much too short to warrant that admission. So, if you expect to go soon — take plenty of money — especially if you have six children!

My love,
Patty (Soc

Northwest Art News, Views

Unique Art Gallery Opens at Storybook

by LUCILLE BLACKWOOD

Storybook City, U.S.A. Art and artists are popping up everywhere, even in childrens' amusement parks.

Storybook Studio in Addison, an unusual circular art gallery and workshop, features exhibits of contemporary art, pottery and other crafts . . . with the spotlight on the potter's wheel.

This is no quaint crafty corner featuring Sunday painters. The atmosphere is sharp, the crafts professional and the instruction, very much adult.

PEG TOOTELIAN, director of the studio, has showcased many well known Chicago artists. Most notable are: Leo Segdin, BFA and MFA from University of Illinois; Lucille Leighton, now exhibiting at Butler Museum of American Art, Springfield, Mass. and Oehlschaegers gallery; Edna Arnow, ribbon winner for pottery at Rolling Meadows Art Fair and Sibyl Hechtenthal, who has a one man show for July and August at the Palmer House Arcade Gallery.

One of the world's oldest arts is demonstrated daily by Miss Tootelian as she throws the clay on the potter's wheel. Not a delicate old hand pedal wheel, a sharp new electric job that whisks gray blobs of clay into concrete shapes with the magic of the potter's hands.

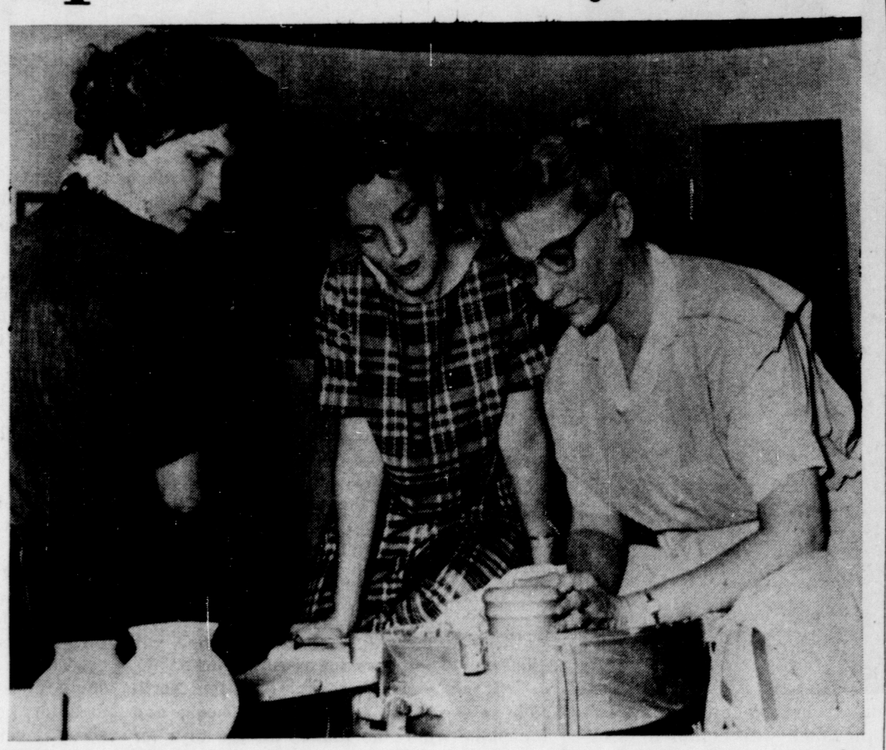
The exhibit includes pottery glazed and unglazed. From its raw beginning to the finished product, the potterer's world is fascinating to watch. An art thousands of years old is produced before your eyes with tools as new as tomorrow.

WHAT A wonderful combination. Give the kids a handful of tickets to enjoy Storybook's world of childrens fantasies; then grab your paint box and easel and paint in the Do-it-yourself-corner, learn the intricacies of clay, sit for a quick sketch portrait, take instructions in sculpture or throw all caution to the devil and buy a picture!

Suburban Gallery Notes: Storybook Studio, Rt. 20 at Medinah rd. Addison: Work of fifteen Chicago artists, workshop, demonstrations and classes. Pioneer Park, Arlington Heights: Children's work through month of July. Evanston Community Center Gallery — 828 Davis st.: Paintings by Charlotte Rosner, through July 28, Yuriko Kadowaki, starting the 29th. Northwest Art Center, 715 Palatine rd., Arlington Heights: Two man show. Abstracts by Robert Borchard and John Jurgens. The Farm Studio, McHenry rd. near junction of Hwys. 53 and 83, Long Grove: Oil and casein paintings by Lucy Bland and Steve Karall.

Mileage

The average American motorist covers 9,400 miles annually.



ONE OF THE world's oldest arts is demonstrated here by Peg Tootelian, director of Storybook Studios as she "throws the clay" on the potter's wheel. Carol Klimek of 12634 Greenwood in Blue Island and Barbara Anderson of 2520 Lewis in Blue Island, share a magic moment as a delicate bowl grows and takes shape under the skilled fingers of Miss Tootelian at the potter's wheel. This unusual feature of the art gallery is seen daily at Storybook City, Addison, Illinois.

Frustrated Hero Stars in Comedy

"The Greatest Man Alive," a comedy by Tony Webster about an obscure little man who seeks fame the hard way, will be the next attraction at Shady Lane Playhouse, opening Tuesday (July 24) for an engagement through Sunday, July 31.

Dennis King played the lead on Broadway in 1957, as the frustrated hero who hopes to win front-page notoriety by hanging himself while wearing a derby hat. When he pauses a moment to check his dictionary on the spelling of a word in his farewell note, he misses that opportunity of getting his name in the newspapers, but starts off a chain of hilarious events that bring in the police, reporters, a television crew, psychiatrists from Bellevue, and assorted strangers whose lives become entangled in that of the man in the derby. Before final curtain, Amos Benedict has even succeeded in playing Cupid for a sympathetic girl stranger.

JOSEPH BOLAND, a member of the resident company at Shady Lane Playhouse, was in the original Broadway production of the comedy.

The barn-theatre is in its nineteenth season on route 20 just a little west of Marengo, Ill., and is in its second year of easy accessibility via the new Northwest Tollway, for the exit to Marengo-U.S. 20 is just a few miles from Marengo and the Playhouse. Performances are given at 8:45 Tuesday through Friday at 7 and 10 on Saturday, and 7:45 Sunday evenings.

Shady Lane Farm, adjoining the Playhouse, is the before — and after — theatre oasis for hungry and thirsty theatregoers. The fried chicken is lusciously crisp, the mashed potatoes whipped to an ecstasy, the deep dish pies homebaked. Reservations are recommended before 8:45 p.m., at JOrdan 8-7218.

JUDY HOLLIDAY has Dean Martin's number (and he gets the message) in "Bells are Ringing," opening Friday at the Catlow theatre in suburban Barrington. Miss Holliday recreates her original stage role in this sparkling musical hit that was filmed in Cinemascope and Technicolor.

Tony Randall Is Booked At Playhouse

Tony Randall, whose star has shot up high in movies and on the stage, co-stars with Patricia Barry in the gay comedy about an author's amours, "Goodbye Again," at the Edgewater Beach Playhouse July 25 - August 7.

Tallulah Bankhead continues in her hit revival of the Pulitzer Prize play, "Craigs Wife," through July 24.

Randall, who was educated at Northwestern university, is currently in the movie "Pillow Talk," with Rock Hudson and Doris Day, and has just finished "Lets Make Love" with Marilyn Monroe and Yves Montand and stars in the current release, "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn."

AT THE EDGEWATER, he plays the role of an author who is forced to lecture through the midwest in order to eat. He meets an old flame, now married, becomes involved as a corespondent in her divorce suit, at a time when his secretary makes it obvious that she has eyes only for him. The story of Randall's amours in "Goodbye Again" made it a solid hit when it was originally produced on Broadway.

The Playhouse curtains are Monday through Friday 8:30 p.m., Saturday 7 p.m. and 10 p.m., Sunday at 7 p.m. Prices are $2.95 and $3.95 Sunday through Thursday; $3.30 and $4.40 Friday and the two Saturday performances.

Devisable (capable of being contrived); observe the "able." Divisible (capable of being divided); observe the "ible." Prier (one who pries); prior (preceding; also, an ecclesiastical official). Seas (water; sees (looks); seize (take hold of); cease (stop).

Judy Holliday, Dean Martin and Fred Clark (left) are the happy threesome of "Bells Are Ringing," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sparkling film version of the Broadway musical hit, with Miss Holliday recreating her original stage role. Filmed in CinemaScope and color, the picture is highlighted by fourteen musical numbers. It was produced and directed by Arthur Freed and Vincente Minnelli, who teamed on the Academy Award-winning "Gigi."

A BELLBOY NEVER had it so good as when a convention of models is held at his hotel, which happens to Jerry Lewis as "The Bellboy" in the Paramount release due Friday at the Des Plaines theatre. The film marks Jerry's first effort as a producer, director and writer, making him a rare quadruple-threat guy.

YUL BRYNNER and lovely Kay Kendall keep the laughs rolling in Stanley Donen's sophisticated comedy, "Once More, With Feeling." The Columbia Pictures release features Gregory Ratoff in the Technicolor version of the Broadway stage hit by Harry Kurnitz.

Suburban Petitions Referred to Zoners

A STUDENT of the University of Chicago, John Dietman, 2085 Linden ln., Palatine, is playing the romantic lead in Moliere's riotous farce, "Scapin the Scoundrel," at the Court theater on the campus. This week's performances are scheduled for July 21 and 24, at 8:30 p.m. His role is that of Octavio, the young lover. Dietman has had previous training and experience in various roles in the University theater, Court theater and Blackfriars shows.

Ten suburban rezoning petitions for unincorporated areas - two each for Northfield, Palatine, and Wheeling townships and four in Elk Grove township, were referred to the county zoning board of appeals last week by the county board.

One Northfield township petition asked expansion of an existing nursing home through creating a special use on five adjoining acres located 1,500 feet north of Lake avenue and 560 feet west of Milwaukee avenue. The owners were Carl Y. Nelson and Hulda A. Olson, 3410 Milwaukee ave., Northbrook.

The other, by Peter Mompier, 3050 Glenview road, and Lester Mompier, 1952 Glenview, asked a change from R-4 (Single-Family Residence, 10,000 sq. ft.) to B-2 (Restricted Service) on 1.5 acres on the north side of Glenview road 150 feet east of Greenwood road, to permit a food store and parking lot.

EXACTLY THE reverse in rezoning from the above was asked by county Commissioner Fred A. Fulle for 23 acres located on the northeast corner of Foundry road and Elmhurst road, Wheeling township. This case was an outgrowth of the recent comprehensive rezoning.

Ozell A. Stkins, 9650 Milwaukee ave., Des Plaines, sought to build a gas station on the northwest corner of Des Plaines River road and Euclid ave., Wheeling township, through a change from R-4 to B-2.

Cosmopolitan National Bank, Trust 5288, asked that business stores and offices be allowed on 8 1/3 acres on the northwest corner of Rand road and Capri drive, Palatine township, through a change from R-3 (Single Family Residence, 20,000 sq. ft. to B-4 (General Service) District.

ANOTHER Palatine township petition sought to build an apartment building on 2.5 acres on the west side of Plum Grove road, 505 feet south of Illinois ave., through a change from R-3 to R-5 (General Residence, 2,500 sq. ft. per D.U.) Owner is Gordon T. Ronneberg, 868 South Plum Grove road, Palatine.

In Elk Grove township, a house trailer park through a special use was asked for 40 acres on the east side of Elmhurst road 1,980 feet north of Touhy ave., now zoned for M-1 (Restricted Manufacturing). The application was by the Pioneer Trust and Savings bank Trust 5628, and was submitted by Attorney and agent, Oscar A. Brotman. The plan submitted includes a swimming pool, launderette, children's playground, paved streets, 2,500 sq. ft. lots for each trailer, and a sewer and water system.

A business use on the southwest corner of Golf road and Elmhurst road, Elk Grove township, by rezoning from R-4 to B-4, was asked by the Pioneer Bank Trust 8997.

A MOTEL ON seven acres on the east side of Higgins road and south side of Oakton street, Elk Grove township, was the purpose of a petition by Elmhurst National Bank, Trust 1112, seeking a change from B-2 to B-4 (General Commercial) district.

A gas station on 2.5 acres bounded by Busse road, Dempster st. and Algonquin road, Elk Grove township, was sought in an application by Ft. Dearborn Realty corp., 3536 North Paulina st., Chicago, asking a change from R-4 to B-2.

WHY FISH AROUND?

You'll never find experienced anglers just "FISHIN' AROUND" aimlessly, hoping for a lucky catch. Fishermen soon learn that certain exact spots usually produce consistent catches and these spots are hard to find. In fact, they amount to only a small percentage of the so-called "FISHIN' WATER" that meets the eye.

BUT THAT'S WHERE THE FISH ARE

and that's why fishermen, once they've had proof that the spot is a "HOT ONE" always return to the same place.

IN MEMORIAM

Dean W. Smith—In loving memory of my dear husband who passed away on July 17, 1951, nine years ago.
The rolling stream of life rolls on
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of one who once sat there.
Beyond the sunset he has gone,
Still memories linger on.
May his soul rest in peace.

Q. When selecting monogrammed handkerchiefs for a man or woman, which initial should be selected, that of the first or the last name?

A. For a man it is always the last. For a woman, the last is customary, although the first is permissible.

My! Aren't you the lovely one in your new dress. Smart too, because you bought it with the money you made by selling your "don't needs" through a Paddock Publications Want Ad. You know Want Ads Work.

'60 Corn Crop May Be Less Than Needs

The 1960 corn crop seems likely to fall well short of the record crop of 1959. Production for this year is officially forecast at 4,079 million bushels, a reduction of 278 million bushels, or 7% below last year, though 7 per cent over 1958. But the 1958 crop was produced under acreage restrictions, while those of 1959 and 1960 were not restricted.

Of course, the 1960 corn crop is not yet in the crib, and it may be larger or smaller than the July forecast. But, as the forecast stands, it is about equal to the amount of corn that is being used in this country and exported this year.

THE FORECAST of smaller corn production this year is based partly on a smaller acreage and partly on lower yields.

The land planted to corn this year is estimated at 83,680,000 acres, which is 1 per cent less than last year. The average yield is forecast at 48.7 bushels per acre, 2.8 bushels less than last year.

Many farmers in Illinois and Iowa will think that average yields will be cut much more than 2.8 bushels an acre. Some farmers in central, western and northern Illinois and in southeastern Iowa might be happy to settle for half a crop.

A short corn crop this year would not have much price-lifting influence because of the large carryover of old corn. The carryover next October 1 may be near 1,900 million bushels, or one-fourth more than last fall. This increased carryover may more than offset the cut in production this year. If so, the corn supply for next year would be larger than it is this year.

THE CCC will be selling some corn in the next marketing year, though perhaps mainly corn that is in poor condition. Such sales plus the 1960 crop may still be more than will be required for domestic uses and for exports. This would tend to hold prices near the support level.

If the market price of corn sags seriously this fall, farmers might put enough under price support to pull prices back up to or above recent levels by this time next year.

It is an important fact that since last fall corn prices have been very nearly at world export values. From last October 1 through June 30, about 160 million bushels of corn were sold to foreign countries. These sales were made with only very small export subsidies. This is a good indication of what prices might be without price supports.

Farmers have planted 24,430,000 acres of soybeans this year, 5 per cent more than in 1959. No official estimate of yields will be made until August. But growing conditions seem to be less favorable than last year. Acre yields may fall enough to offset most of the increase in acreage planted. Production this year could be no more than the 538 million bushels harvested last year.

THE CARRYOVER of old beans will be much smaller than last year, perhaps half as much as the 62 million bushels carried over last fall.

The total supply of beans for the next marketing year seems likely to be less than the 600 million available in this present year.

The soybean market now accurately reflects international values. From last October 1 through June 30, some 112 million bushels of soybeans were purchased by foreign buyers. These deals were made entirely without export subsidies. (Fm

Smiling Shamrocks Progressive Party

The 9th meeting of the Smiling Shamrocks was held July 16 at the Brown home. A tentative date of July 30 was set for the Local Achievement program. A tour of the Jewel plant in Barrington was set for July 20. Before the tour there was a picnic at the Jewel plant grounds.

There will be a progressive dinner party Saturday, July 23, beginning at Jeanne Anderson's home at 6 o'clock, from there to Margaret Moeller's house, then to Chris and Sue Carles', Reene and Le Anna Davis', and a wind-up at Barbara, Kathy and Linda Browns' for a short meeting to plan a beach party.

A speech on apples and a demonstration on one method of making greeting cards were given by Sue Carle. The judging of dresses made by girls in the club then followed. Those girls judged were Margaret Moeller, Barbara Brown and Sue Carle. (4H

Advise Cattle Showers To Learn Health Rules

Cattle exhibitors planning to join the show circuit should take a look at the "1960 Illinois Livestock Exhibition Regulations," according to Dr. J. R. Pickard, University of Illinois extension veterinarian.

Exhibitors must observe these health regulations to protect their own and their neighbor's livestock.

The tuberculosis regulation states that Illinois cows, heifers and bulls must be "negative to test within 90 days of exhibition unless originating in an accredited herd, or originating in a negative herd and cattle for exhibition were negative to test within one year of exhibition."

Health requirements also state, "Females and bulls over six months old must be negative to brucellosis test within 90 days of exhibition unless from a certified herd."

CATTLE EXHIBITORS can also forego a brucellosis test if their animals can satisfy this three-step requirement: The animal comes "from a modified, certified, brucellosis-free area; the herd from which cattle originated had no reactors on the last complete herd test; animals for exhibition were negative to brucellosis test within one year."

Dr. Pickard added that cattle under 36 months of age and officially calfhood vaccinated need not be tested within 90 days of the fair. But he pointed out, "No cattle infested with scabies mites shall be brought into or exhibited within the State of Illinois."

Cattle exhibitors should be familiar with all health requirements for their show animals. The division of livestock industry, Illinois department of agriculture will send copies of the exhibition regulations on request. (Fm

Try Novel Corn Planting

Visitors at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment station will see an unusual way to grow corn this summer. The research workers have drilled corn in rows only seven inches apart.

They plan to use the corn for making a heavy forage crop for silage. It has been heavily fertilized with nitrogen to get a heavy tonnage.

Next winter station research workers will compare silage from the drilled corn with silage from regular corn, dwarf corn, grain sorghum and grain sorghum heads. Wintering calves will be used in the test. (Fm

Turn Old Building To Grain Storage

A University of Illinois agricultural engineer has come up with a new way to adapt old farm buildings for grain storage.

Gene Shove said self-supporting portable walls may be the answer for converting buildings as machine sheds, cattle sheds and garages to corn and small grain storage.

Self-supporting walls are made of two panels, braced together to form a large capital "L." The panels are made for use in pole frame, rigid frame or stud construction.

Portable walls are not attached to the buildings. Instead, they're held in place by the grain's weight.

Shove said the walls carry the entire grain load, while the building gives protection from the weather, rodents, birds and other grain-storage hazards.

For more information, write to the U. of I. college of agriculture for the leaflet, "Self - Supporting Portable Walls for Grain Storage."

Tomato Picking

Mechanical tomato pickers, capable of harvesting a crop fifteen times faster than human field workers, have been developed.

Have you ever given serious consideration to the amount of research being conducted by federal and state governments, by universities throughout the nation and by various private companies?

This work has been done for many years. It is becoming increasingly important each year. Research is an important contributory factor to the progress that our country has made throughout the years. Much agricultural research is conducted by the U. S. department of agriculture whose station is located in Beltsville, Md. Some interesting research reported by the station lately is as follows:

Flakes that produce instant sweet potatoes with the color and flavor of fresh pureed sweet potatoes have already been prepared in the New Orleans laboratory. When added to hot water or milk, the product is ready in 60 seconds to serve or use in a pie or casserole.

COMMERCIAL DEVELOPMENT and marketing of instant sweet potatoes could help restore this crop to its former place in agriculture. Production in 1957, for example, was only about 36 million bushels — compared with about 75 million bushels in 1944.

Instant products will probably be made from oversized and malformed sweet potatoes. These account for 30 to 50% of annual yields and are always difficult to market because of their size and shape. But in food value and flavor, they are equal to No. 1 sweet potatoes.

Superior disease resistance in a type of wild oat and a lucky break in genetics have increased the prospect of oat varieties resistant to all known races of crown rust.

ABERDEEN 101, the genetic lucky break, resulted from a cross made in 1952 by F. J. Zillinsky, then a graduate student at Iowa State university, between the diploid Saia and a tetraploid oat. This cross was made only to test the possibility of crossing oats with different chromosome counts.

In the third generation of this cross at Aberdeen, Id., a fortuitous trick of nature appeared. H. C. Murphy, national leader of oat investigations for USDA, then stationed at Ames, found one fully fertile plant whose progeny bore genetic characteristics of the tetraploid parent in addition to Saia's gene for resistance. The chance of finding resistance plus full fertiity in the third generation was so remote that it was thought almost impossible.

When the rare crown rusts broke out in 1957 and Saia's resistance to them was discovered, Aberdeen 101 was immediately available for the second stage of the breeding program.

SEED OF the fifth-generation progeny of these backcrosses display the good characteristics of their cultivated parents, in addition to Saia's desirable resistance. Seed is available to plant breeders for increase and for further crossing but none will be distributed by USDA.

We have an estimated 10 million physically handicapped homemakers in this country. These women need, and want, clothes suited to their disabilities and their ways of doing things so they may work efficiently and care for themselves.

To help meet these women's needs, clothing specialists in USDA's Institute of Home Economics developed a variety of garments of the types commonly used for housework - dresses, blouses, skirts, slacks, pedal pushers, a jacket and aprons. Wheelchair pockets were also included. The special features in these garments will be helpful to the handicapped and to the able as well.

New strains of sheep - hardy enough to withstand the rigorous environment of southwestern ranges, able to produce good feeder lambs and grow good - quality fleece for handweaving - have been developed by USDA.

These strains came out of a continuing sheep - breeding study conducted by the New Mexico Agricultural Experiment station, Fort Wingate, the Bureau of Indian Affairs of the U. S. department of interior, and ARS.

Tiny Worm Menaces Cows; Causes Lumps

University of Illinois veterinarians warn that a tiny, threadlike worm can produce lumpy, inflamed areas in the flanks and undersides of show cattle. These lumps can be mistaken easily for incisions or injections sometimes used to illegally alter the conformation of show animals.

The worms, called Stephanofilaria stilesi, can also produce lesions that look much like mange or ringworm.

These worm infestations have been fairly common in western states. Several cases were reported in show cattle exhibited at the 1948 Western Livestock Show in Los Angeles. At that time owners of affected cattle considered the lesions merely blemishes that might affect the prize-winning ability of animals. The worms were also present in some animals at the 1959 International Livestock Exhibition.

University of Illinois veterinarians say the skin of infested animals has an abnormal appearance that may raise the question of tampering. They recommend that cattle owners have a veterinarian carefully inspect all animals that are being fitted for show. If necessary, the veterinarian can recommend treatment with a chlorinated hydrocarbon preparation well in advance of the showing season. (Fm

Snappy 4-H'ers Prepare All Electric Meal

Snappy 4-H'ers were guests of the Wheeling Home bureau unit, June 21, to model their sewing projects.

At the business meeting, June 27, a party was planned for July. Also local and county achievement days were discussed. Talks were given by Faith Puksta, on the care of teeth and Shirley Lange on the use of different types of stitches. Penny Sedlak showed how to prepare sandwiches.

After the business meeting, appliances were used to prepare a brunch. Waffles were prepared on a grill; sausage in a fry pan, and an orange drink made with a blender.

Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights village has an established police whistle. Any other person who imitates the Policeman's call is liable to arrest and punishment, so beware. Henry Kolling, Marshal.

All the wooden sidewalks in town have been inspected and found in poor condition. Owners are hereby notified to repair them immediately or they will be thrown in the street and cement walks ordered in ten days. By order of the Village Board.

Palatine

Anna Bliese and Herman Meyer of Arlington Heights were married here Sunday afternoon by Rev. Droegemueller, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. F. Schraeder.

New cases of anthrax have developed in Lake county, but luckily Palatine appears to have the disease under control. The attention of the farmers is now given to stamping out all chances of any more cattle being affected this year or at any future time. Strong chemical solutions are being poured over all known graves of deceased cattle and cremation is being resorted to.

The Waukegan, Elgin and Rockford Traction Co. have opened offices in the Palatine Bank Bldg., which will be their temporary headquarters. The business in sight from the Palatine-Wauconda branch of the road is so great that the permanent headquarters will be located here. The name of Mr. C. H. Patton has been suggested as President.

Quentin Corners

Several farmers have sick horses but no deaths so far. -- John Witt's team ran away with a mower. No one hurt; small damage to the machine. -- Mr. Wheelock's mule team took sail Saturday and sent the electric surveyors' hot coffee flying in the air. -- The much dreaded anthrax cow disease is striking some neighbors pretty hard. Some lost as many as 10 head.

Prairie View

Fire nearly wiped the business section off the map Wednesday evening when the hotel, lumber yards, barber and blacksmith shops, cattle yards, and two railroad cars were destroyed. The arrival of the Wheeling Fire department and a freight engine probably saved the store and depot. The hand fire engine from Wheeling used the water from a well that had to be first pumped up by the hand pump and prevented any blaze from starting on the store. With the arrival of the freight engine, the water in the tender was used to save the depot.

Arlington Heights

Cook Co. Farm Advisor, C. E. Durst, has been on the job less than a month, but he has already saved the farmers in the immediate vicinity of Arlington Heights more than the salary he will receive for an entire year.

A recent item in the Palatine Enterprise in reference to the man who had for the longest term of years stuck to his job, trade, or craft, has set a reader to wondering who in Arlington Heights has been for the longest time employed at the same line of work. On inquiry we learn that Mr. Henry Weinrich who came to this village over 60 years ago, has worked at the tinner's trade 65 years - 55 in the Heights; first for the Taeges in the hardware shop, later for Bray & Kates, and now sometimes he is busily employed in Landmeier's shop and hardware store. -- In Peter & Volz manufacturing and foundry shop, there is Henry Firnbach, who has been hard at the job 42 years; Charles Bliemehl 41, and Mr. George Schneider over 40 years.

It would have been a success but for a very vicious tempered neighbor, who routed them with a club, and with an unusual line of cuss words. Mt. Prospect Installation last Saturday of the new two-way radio in the Mt. Prospect police car has already proved its usefulness. The radio which links the police car directly with the County police, enables them to radio for help, for ambulances, and to get messages to the local station quickly.

There will be eight new faces among the teaching staff of the Mt. Prospect public schools in September. Some are filling vacancies, but there is a net gain of five and a half teachers! (Before someone asks - just what is half a teacher - it can be explained that there are now two full-time kindergarten teachers, holding four sessions, whereas last year there were three sessions, with one teacher at school only in the morning.)

Piquant Sauce Flavors Ribs, Chops, For Outdoor Cookery

by LOIS SEILER

Here's a recipe that will really "stick to the ribs."

Literally speaking, it is a recipe for Barbecued Ribs which features a tasty barbecue sauce that sticks right to the spare ribs and will not drip into the fire bed.

The recipe has been shared with us by Mrs. William V. Willcox of Arlington Heights.

"This is one of my favorites for outdoor cooking," she says. "The sauce not only has a mild, sweet-sour flavor, but the recipe makes enough so that an additional amount may be served at the table. Any left-over sauce can be stored in the refrigerator and used again."

THIS FLAVORFUL barbecue sauce has an unusual combination of ingredients. It consists of vinegar, honey, soy sauce and catsup, and is seasoned with garlic. Cornstarch is used for thickening.

"I have even used it on pork chops," commented Mrs. Willcox, "and it is equally as good."

When preparing the ribs (she prefers back ribs or country ribs), this capable cook simmers them first. Thus they only need be on the grill for 15 to 20 minutes to be browned and basted with the sauce, and do not dry out. She uses the same method for pork chops.

As accompaniments for these tempting barbecued ribs Mrs. Willcox usually serves a tossed salad, baked beans and corn on the cob. Even when corn is not in season, this good cook has an ample supply in her freezer.

ANOTHER of Mrs. Willcox's recipes which is especially nice for the summer season is a refreshing molded salad.

Called a Red and White Fruit Mold, it is bright and colorful in appearance and delightful to taste. Made in two layers, this gelatine salad contains fruit cocktail and is flavored with lemonade concentrate. The tart concentrate gives it tang and an appealing flavor.

"For a ladies' luncheon this salad is pretty prepared in individual molds and served on a slice of pineapple with a ruffle of lettuce," said Mrs. Willcox.

Or it can be made in a large ring mold and served with a delicious red currant dressing.

You'll want to try one or both of these excellent recipes during these summer months, especially is you're like Mrs. Willcox, who likes to cook if she can try new things.

"I'M EXPERIMENTING with foods all the time," she said, "and admit that I have a weakness for buying new cook books."

In addition to her culinary interests, Mrs. Willcox is active in the WSCS of the First Methodist church and the PTA.

The Willcoxes, who live at 625 S. Highland in Arlington Heights, have two children, Judy Jane, 8, and Steven, 5, and are expecting a new addition to the family this month.

Barbecued Ribs

- 3½ to 4 pounds fresh spare ribs, county ribs or back ribs
- ½ cup vinegar
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- ½ cup water
- 2 small cloves garlic, minced
- 1 cup vinegar
- ½ cup honey
- ½ cup soy sauce
- ½ cup catsup
- ½ teaspoon seasoned salt

Cut ribs in serving-size pieces and place in a large saucepan. Add the ½ cup vinegar and enough water to cover. Simmer, covered, one hour or until meat is tender. Drain.

While ribs cook, blend the cornstarch and water in a saucepan until smooth. Stir in remaining ingredients. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and boils, about three minutes.

Place drained ribs in a single layer on grill over glowing coals. Brush with sauce. Cook, turning and basting often with sauce, 15 to 20 minutes, or until crisp and brown. Serves 4.

Red and White Fruit Mold

- 1 1-pound can or 2 cups fruit cocktail
- 1 package raspberry or strawberry jello
- 1 package lemon-flavored gelatine
- 1 cup hot water
- 1 6-ounce can frozen lemonade concentrate
- ½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

Drain fruit cocktail, reserving syrup. Add water to syrup to make two cups.

Heat one cup of the mixture to boiling. Add raspberry gelatine and stir to dissolve; add remaining syrup mixture.

Pour gelatine mixture into a 6½ or 7-cup mold, or pour equal amounts into individual molds. Chill until firm.

Meanwhile dissolve lemon gelatine in 1 cup hot water. Add lemonade concentrate. Blend in mayonnaise. Chill until partially set; then stir in fruit cocktail. Pour over first layer and chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens.

The individual molds may be unmolded on pineapple slices and trimmed with a ruffle of lettuce. The salad may be served with a red currant dressing. Serves 8 to 12.

Red Currant Dressing

- 1 cup currant jelly
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- ½ cup heavy cream, whipped

With rotary beater, beat currant jelly until soft and smooth. Blend in mayonnaise. Fold in whipped cream. Makes 2 cups.

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

MRS. WILLIAM V. Willcox and children, Judy and Steven, agree that garlic-buttered French bread is an appealing accompaniment for barbecued ribs. Mrs. Willcox has an excellent recipe for Barbecued Spare Ribs which is her favorite for outdoor cooking. This recipe and another for a refreshing molded salad are featured this week. (SH

Vitamin C Necessary During Summer, Too

Don't take a vacation from vitamin C foods during the summer.

A University of Illinois home economist explains that vitamin-C rich foods are needed in the summer just as much as in winter to help keep body tissues in peak condition. And these foods must be eaten daily, because the body can't store much of this vitamin.

Summer time offers a great variety of vitamin-C rich foods. In addition to the old standby citrus fruits, other worthwhile sources of vitamin C include tomatoes, fresh strawberries, cantaloupe, raw cabbage, broccoli, green pepper, kale and spinach.

HOW MUCH MEAT SHOULD I BUY?

One pound of boneless meat serves four, this includes boned meat, hamburger, liver and most canned meats. One pound of meat with a small bone will serve three; this includes round steak, ham slices, etc. One pound of meat with a larger bone serves two people, such as steak, shoulder cuts, and chops.

Good quality veal is light gray in color and fat is clear, firm and white. Beef is fresh red color, well marbled with fat, bones red & porous in young beef. Good lamb varies in color from light to dark pink; the fat of young lamb is white and brittle. Good pork is grayish pink, and the flesh is well marbled and covered with firm white fat.

FLORIDA SHRUB is the name of this summer cooler. Canned grapefruit sections that have been frozen are removed from the can in one piece, then sliced lengthwise, and placed in tall glasses. Chilled orange juice is poured over the "grapefruit ice."

Florida Shrub, Healthy Summer Thirst Quencher

Gardening, like many favorite hobbies and sports, is hot and tiring. When this happens, a good idea is to stop and have a Florida Shrub. No, it is not another bush to be planted, but a delightful and unusual refreshment that will pep up lagging energy and quench your thirst. The term "shrub" seems to be a British one since these treats are popular in Bermuda and the Indies, where people have had to learn to adjust to the heat.

Canned Florida grapefruit sections and canned or frozen Florida orange juice are used to make this version of the popular drink. Both products are economical and always available at your local store. All Florida citrus products, canned as well as fresh, provide daily-needed vitamin C. The health value is important but you'll be thinking most of all of how good it tastes, and how cool it makes you feel.

Florida Shrub

2 cans (1 pound each) Florida grapefruit sections
4 cups canned or frozen Florida orange juice, chilled
Mint sprigs, cherries, lime slices

Place cans of grapefruit sections in freezer or set temperature control of refrigerator for fast freezing; freeze about 6 hours. Run warm water over cans; slip out contents in one piece. Cut in lengthwise quarters. Place each quarter in a 10 or 12-ounce glass; fill to top with orange juice. Garnish with mint sprigs, cherries and lime slices. Yield 8 servings.

Week's Best food buys

The University of Illinois consumer service food survey shows store pricing basically steady at week-ago levels in all major lines for the market week ending July 23.

Pork, again higher at wholesale (but easing on live markets against slowing demand), seems to have hit a ceiling of consumer price resistance at current high levels. As a result, there will be some selective store values to clear inventory backups, but the available volume limits its rating as a U. of I. bargain buy.

Beef chuck roasts, steaks, ground beef, and lamb leg roasts (more price concessions showing) continue to take the value nod at retail, as swelling cattle and lamb arrivals bring slightly lower prices on the live and wholesale markets. Veal volume is down, prices firmer at wholesale, steady at retail.

ON THE value yardstick, consumers can add dryers, stewing hens and turkeys.

The turkey market now is settled, following inventory adjustment. More major-outlet interest is shown. Indicatons are that prices will ride at a rather firm 45-49 cent level generally, feature tags dropping to previously noted lows of 39 cents.

A steady price structure for fryers is expected to give way, the heaviest impact coming in two weeks as production continues to rise. duction continues to rise. General retails will be pegged 39-43 cents, promotional features 29-35 cents.

Stewing hen markets are easing, setting up general retails of 39 cents for birds under 4 pounds, and 45 cents for those over — with a plus or minus 4 cent range on either side of these figures noted from survey sources.

EGG MARKETS reflect light receipts, adequate supplies, dwindling production, slow demand and steady prices at 45-49 cents for large grade A. Cold storage shell egg stocks are up 49,300 cases over year-ago.

Fruit and vegetable values for the week include peaches, bananas, avocados, grapes, lemons, early apples; cabbage, head lettuce, spinach, greens, green beans, cucumbers and onions.

Fresh produce is characterized as of spotty quality, and unchanged in widely ranging prices. Potatoes continue to be a rather high-price item. Carrots and tomatoes are settling. More Ohio and Michigan celery appears to widen the market range of prices. Generally, sweetcorn is a limited value as cool weather restricts normal seasonal volume. On balance, vegetable supplies are below year-ago levels.

Grocery lines continue generally unchanged from the pattern of the past several weeks and slightly below the cost levels of a year-ago.

Timely Hints For Popular Pastime: Outdoor Cookery

Over and over again it's proved that the best things in life are simple, if not free! We all enjoy food barbecued outdoors; in fact cook-outs have become the great American pastime. This method of preparing food is certainly easy and the results are mouth-watering.

We may have fancy chrome-plated grills laden with gadgets in the modern trend but the fundamental idea of good meat cooked in the fresh air over glowing coals dates back to primitive man's discovery and mastery of fire.

ALONG WITH the juicy steak, hamburgers and succulent frankfurters, we show a cook's best friend, Tabasco. Basic butter and barbecue sauces become works of art when this piquant liquid red pepper seasoning is added. The convenient shaker-top bottle for easy measuring goes right to the scene, so that additional warm flavor can be added if desired.

Tabasco is the pure uncooked product of concentrated red peppers, aged in sealed wooden casks down on Avery Island, La., where food and its preparation are given due respect, in the tradition of the South.

HERE ARE BASIC hints for grilling, although you will want to refer to manufacturer's directions if using portable equipment.

1. Build a big enough fire to have a good bed of glowing coals.
2. Do not start cooking until the flames have died down.
3. Have grill far enough away from coals so that flames from fat dripping and flaring up will not touch meat. Three inches is about right for most cooking. A good trick is to quench the unwanted flare-ups of flame with beer. Besides serving a practical purpose, the beer simmering on the hot coals gives the food subtle flavor.
4. Grease the rack lightly.
5. Cooking times will vary so plan ahead. For rare steak, or hamburgers, 5 minutes on each side is about right; increase accordingly for desired doneness. Frankfurters need only about five minutes total grilling time; turn frequently.
6. Have sauces and glazes to be used during cooking at hand.

Tabasco Butter

½ cup (1 stick) butter
½ teaspoon Tabasco
½ teaspoon garlic salt, optional
2 tablespoons lime juice

Cream together butter, Tabasco, garlic salt and lime juice. Spread over broiled steak. Yield: Enough for 2 4-pound steaks.

Easy Hamburger Glaze

¼ cup prepared mustard
½ teaspoon Tabasco

Combine all ingredients; mix well. Use to brush hamburgers during baking, broiling or grilling. Yield: ¾ cup, or enough for 12 hamburgers.

Avery Island Barbecue Sauce

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, chopped
½ cup chopped celery with leaves
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 can (20-ounces) tomatoes
1 can (6-ounces) tomato paste
1 bay leaf
3 tablespoons unsulphured molasses
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1/3 cup vinegar
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon allspice
2 slices lemon
1½ teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons Tabasco

Melt butter; add onion and garlic; cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Add remaining ingredients; simmer 30 minutes. Let stand until cool; strain if desired. Use to brush chicken, ribs, frankfurters or hamburgers during baking, broiling or grilling. Yield: 2¼ cups.

Q. Is it suitable or proper for married women to serve as bridesmaids at a wedding?

A. If they are good friends of the bride, there's certainly nothing wrong with this.

Q. Must the number of ushers at a wedding correspond with the number of bridesmaids?

A. Not necessarily. The number of ushers depends upon the size of the church and number of guests invited — and, in fact, there often may be ushers at a wedding when there aren't any bridesmaids at all.

Marriage

How many good and virtuous husbands and wives are reciprocally punished for having been ill-assorted!
—ROUSSEAU (1712-1778)

Marriage is in accordance with reason, if the desire of connection is engendered not merely by external form, but by a love of begetting children and wisely educating them; and if in addition, the love both of the husband and wife has for its cause not external form merely, but chiefly liberty of mind.
—SPINOZA (1632-1677)

—MONTAIGNE (1533-1592)

See you not how those whom mutual pleasure has chained are often tortured in their common chains?
—LUCRETIUS (c. 98- c. 55 B.C.)

I do not pretend to have discovered that life has anything more to be desired than a prudent and virtuous marriage.
—SAMUEL JOHNSON (1709-1784)

Judges English Competition

Donna Timm, 220 S. Evergreen ave., Arlington Heights, has been appointed a judge in a nationwide competition intended to discover some of the best high school English students.

The competition, now in its third year, is sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English, Champaign, Ill., an organization with about 60,000 members and subscribers. Superior high school juniors are nominated by their schools, and samples of their compositions are judged by state teams, guided by the national organization. Objective tests and letters of recommendation supplement the three required compositions.

Winners and runners-up are announced in the student's senior year. Each receives a scroll and is recommended to colleges for scholarship aid. In the first year of the competition, those who ranked high received a total of over $852,000 in scholarship help from colleges and other sources. (CC
